14,000 CHICAGO CARMEN STRIKE

ELECTRIC CAR SERVICE COMPLETELY TIED UP

Strike of 14,000 Carmen in Chicago Causes Postponement of Ball Game—Jitneys Busy

CHICAGO, June 14.—Chicagoans—approximately 1,500,000 of them—walked, motored and used steam roads to their work today.

A strike of 14,000 street car employees went into effect at midnight last night. Not a wheel on the 1310 miles of track of the surface and elevated lines turned after 4 o'clock this morning when the last crews took their cars into the yards. It was the first time in a generation that all street car service in Chicago was completely tied up.

The strike was carried out without any disorder, according to early reports. Seven hundred policemen were on guard at the various car barns throughout the city to watch property and prevent crowds from congregating. The men cheered as they left their cars.

Demand Wage Increase

Orders to strike were issued after an all-day conference yesterday of union leaders transportation company officials and Mayor Thompson, in a vain attempt to bring about arbitration. Neither side would yield. The strikers had demanded a guarantee of a wage increase. Officials of the companies refused this demand. To meet company officials said, would mean an increase of $1,400,000 annually. W. D. Mahon, international president of the Street Carriers' union, attended the conferences.

No Attempt to Run Cars

Officials said that no attempt would be made to operate cars today. Approximately 3,000,000 fares are collected on the two electric systems daily. The surface lines collect $400,000 and the elevated $600,000. There are 3,125 cars operated daily by the surface lines and 1,515 on the elevated which operates 215 miles of track. The surface line operates 1,095 miles.

Hurried preparations were made over night by officials of steam roads to bring to work today the great army of clerks in stores, office workers and others in business in the downtown district. Hundreds of trains are added to the schedules.

"Jitneys" Do Big Business

Taxicabs did a rushing business and the "jitney" busses, which heretofore have failed to make much progress in the transportation problem, were loaded with passengers. Hundreds of big motor moving trucks were also pressed into service. Roller skates also were brought into use and thousands pedaled to their work on bicycles. Delivery of the United States mails puzzled the postoffice officials. Reorganization of the street car delivery system will have to be undertaken, it was announced, and in many of the suburban districts, there will be but one delivery a day until another system is perfected.

It is understood that the dozen or more street cars carrying the mail from the main postoffice to the substations in various parts of the city would be operated as usual.

To Employ Strikebreakers

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of public schools, asserted that attempts would be made to continue the schools without interruption, although the transportation of 7,000 teachers gave grave concern.

Arrangements to furnish 5000 strikebreakers to operate cars and guard property were put into operation today. Agents of the two electric lines had arranged, it was said, to provide food and sleeping quarters in several large hotels. Employment agencies did a record breaking business in procuring men for strike breaking duty.

Banquet halls, sample rooms and even the roofs of the large downtown hotels have been converted into sleeping quarters for nearly 15,000 persons who will be obliged to live near their places of business during the strike. The demand for cots to be placed in office buildings was exceedingly brisk. Thousands of persons have planned to sleep in their offices.

Postpone Ball Games

Managers of theatres within the business district announced that they would close unless the strike was speedily settled. Baseball at the National league park—the only Chicago club now on the home grounds—probably will be postponed after today's game.

The closing of some of the big summer parks in the outlying districts was regarded as certain.

SIX KILLED IN RIOT

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 14.—Six persons are reported to have been killed during a riot early today at Winnsboro, S. C., as the outcome of the trial of a negro on a charge of attacking a white woman. Adj. Gen. Moore has gone to Winnsboro to take charge of state troops having headquarters there.

Heavy Fighting Has Been Resumed on Gallipoli Peninsula—Italians Capture Another Town—British Ship Sunk—Germans Set Fire to Danish Schooner

Heavy fighting has been resumed on Gallipoli peninsula between the French and British forces and the Turkish army which is defending the approach to Constantinople. The Turkish war office announces that attacks of the allied forces against the right wing of the Turks were repulsed and that the attackers were hewn back to their original positions with heavy losses.

20,000 Germans Killed

A press despatch from Petrograd says 20,000 men in the army of Gen. von Mackensen were killed as the result of an attack on the Russian positions near Moselska, in Galicia. The Austro-German attempt to capture Lemberg is said to have been given up. Official despatches, however, indicate no marked degree in Galicia, where the fighting is continuous and severe.

Italians Take Another Town

Occupation of the Carinthian town of Valentia by the Italians is announced officially at Rome. Along the Isonzo river a battle of large proportions has been in progress for several days. Although the Italians apparently have won some advantages, the Austrians have brought up reinforcements and are offering determined resistance.

BOY DROWNED IN CANAL

ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE CRAZE TO GO BATHING IN LOCAL WATERWAYS

Water Casterly, aged 13 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Casterly of 2 Brooks street, was drowned while bathing in the Western canal late Saturday afternoon.

After a short search the body was recovered and removed to the rooms of Undertaker Peter Davey.

Young Casterly had been repeatedly warned by his parents. It is said, not to go swimming but Saturday afternoon he started from home alone and entered the canal between School and Walker streets. A few minutes afterward he was seen struggling in the water by two other boys, who did everything possible to bring the lad to shore. Their efforts were futile, however, and the youngster went down for the last time.

After the body had been recovered Dr. M. A. Tighe used the pulmotor but without success.

IN POLICE COURT

Margaret Welsh of Tyler street was brought before Judge Eurlight on continuance today for stealing a purse containing $1.65 belonging to Margaret Allan of Fayette street from a pew in the Immaculate Conception church last Saturday morning. She asked the court for leniency and promised to depart from Lowell at once but after her record in the local court, covering a period of 11 years, had been read by Deputy Downey, she was committed to the Lowell jail for three months.

Besides the four thefts already reported, a woman called at the station and informed Capt. Brosnan that four dollars was taken from her pocketbook one morning recently. She identified the defendant as a woman who sat in the pew behind her.

Immense Throng Participated in Patriotic Demonstration on South Common—Five Hundred Children Formed A "Living Flag"

The Flag day exercises and parade held yesterday afternoon proved to be a grand, patriotic success, participated in by fully 15,000 people. Weather conditions were ideal and all plans were carried out without interruption.

The great spectacular feature of the exercises was the living flag composed of 500 school children seated upon a grandstand erected for the occasion on the Summer street side of the platform. The children, dressed in red and white, were arranged in rows, the colors alternating, while the star-dotted field of blue was upheld by 50 boys. Viewed at a short distance the "flag" presented a charming aspect.

The parade formed at the Memorial building and the march began shortly after 3 o'clock. Everybody walked, carrying flags, from the school children to the venerable veterans of the civil war, and a conspicuous figure in line was Judge Samuel P. Hadley, who accompanied by his grandson, Master Cabot Lamson, walked along briskly despite his 84 years of age.

The procession moved down Merrimack to Central to Gorham to Summer

PLEA FOR PROHIBITION

Lecture by Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton of Cambridge at Anne Street Saturday Evening

An open air anti-saloon rally was held at the corner of Anne and Merrimack streets Saturday evening with a very large crowd of men and women in attendance. The rally was presided over by Mr. Thomas Elliot of this city, while the speakers were Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton of Cambridge, inventors of the "dry auto," which is owned by the Tiltons, and which is about to be sent through the state in a national prohibition campaign.

A feature of the evening was the many slides thrown upon the screen, showing important statistics concerning the evils of liquor, and anti-alcohol statements from distinguished authorities. Mrs. Tilton, who is a fluent speaker, was the first speaker and her address was in part as follows:

"I believe the great remedy for the drink evil is education; but I do not believe education can ever make proper headway while it must contend with the traffic, organized, rich, whose business it is not to help education but to hinder it in making liquor accessible. Because I am for education, I have come to be for national prohibition and civic clubs in place of the saloon.

The result of making liquor less accessible is usually favorable when studied. It lessens the evil. Take Russia, for example. A man who recently returned from the mines of Russia, tells us that though he has only half the number of employees that he had before the war, yet his output is 30 per cent. more than before the war. When he had all hands at work. He says it entirely to the fact that the vodka shops are closed.

Dr. A. L. Mendelson, speaking recently in Petrograd, before the Russian society for National Health, said: 'There is not the smallest doubt but that compulsory temperance has been a benefit.' He cited decline in insanity and alcoholism in the hospitals of Petrograd and gave the following statistics. Suicides in Petrograd, July to December, 1913-1914: 1,400; in 1914, (after prohibition), 14. But the most amazing thing is the rise in savings bank deposits. For every dollar deposited in the Russian savings banks in the eight months preceding prohibition, $40 were deposited in the eight months following. Incredible as it sounds, this means an increase of 4000 per cent. in savings.

My father-in-law, who is a banker, says: 'Whatever national prohibition means, it does not mean a financial panic. Anything that increases savings 4000 per cent. means prosperity, means for jobs for labor, for not only is the money formerly wasted on liquor saved, but it has to seek investment and in so doing makes new jobs. National prohibition is a job maker.'

THE VERY BEST DENTIST IN LOWELL
There is no question in my mind but what I am the best dentist in the city for the following reasons: 1st—Because I do beautiful work, lasting and guaranteed it for 10 years. And any methods are absolutely painless. 2nd—My office is clean and sanitary and the sterilization of instruments is a most important feature. 3rd—My prices are low, in fact lower than in any other office in Lowell.

DON'T GO ELSEWHERE AND BE SORRY
Every day I hear someone say: "Oh, why did I not come to you first. How much better your work looks, and you did not hurt me one single bit."

Fillings of gold, silver and porcelain are inserted painlessly, and when once in they stay in. I make teeth that look and act like your very own. No more of those old, false looking sets, which the ordinary dentist makes, are made at my office.

street to the common. Here the immense throng made it necessary for the police to clear the way for the parade.

The program included speaking which was given under extreme difficulties, owing to the immense throng, the innumerable children, and the fact that the affair was in the open. As the children forming the flag became quite restive as the exercises proceeded they were dismissed before the close in order that the speakers might be heard.

The parade was marshaled by Commander Alexander D. Mitchell of the Adelbert Ames command, Spanish War Veterans, and was led by a band of 10 volunteer musicians, under the leadership of John J. Giblin of the Lowell Cadet band. The line included the four Adelbert Ames command, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Boy Scouts, Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Veterans, Polish Prescotts, Volunteer auxiliary of the S. W. V., the school children and citizens. The municipal council was represented by Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Duncan and Carmichael.

Exercises on Common
It was shortly after 4 o'clock when the exercises on the common got under way. They were opened with the playing of "America" by the band, after which Mayor Murphy called to order and explained the purposes of the gathering. His Honor also referred to the lessons to be drawn from the flag.

MAN STABBED AND SHOT
FOUND NEARLY DEAD IN FIELD NEAR TEXTILE SCHOOL—ASSAILANT ARRESTED

James Dracoulakos, aged about 28 years, was shot and stabbed, perhaps fatally, during a row in a field in the rear of the Lowell Textile school Saturday evening. His name is now on the dangerous list at the Lowell Corporation hospital. As a result of information given to the police by the injured man his brother-in-law, James Kilakos, aged about 33 years, was arrested Sunday morning after an all night search and locked up at headquarters on an alleged charge of assault with intent to kill.

The trouble is said to have been caused by family matters in which money was also involved. The two men started out Saturday night to straighten out the difficulty and walked up Moody street and then turned down Riverside street. While at a point on the boulevard near Moody street, claims Dracoulakos, his brother-in-law threatened to kill him. The man in the hospital says that he started to run away but was shot in the back with a revolver and later slashed across the face with a razor. He lay on the grass for nearly an hour before attracting the attention of anyone to help him. The razor cut is not considered dangerous.

Saturday night the pair was seen leaving their home near the corner of Market and Fenwick streets, apparently on friendly terms. Neither was seen again until Dracoulakos was found lying on the grass with his two injuries and very weak from loss of blood. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance and the police notified.

Word was then sent out to every officer to point out the location for Kilakos, whose description had been given by Capt. Atkinson. A squad of policemen was also dispatched to Pawtucketville to search the woods of the vicinity, but they met with no results.

About 5 o'clock Sunday morning Patrolman Whitworth discovered a man, whose description tallied with that given him by Capt. Atkinson, coming from the woods in upper Lakeview avenue. With revolver in hand, Patrolman Whitworth ordered the man to put up his hands and he did so. A search of his clothing showed that he carried neither gun nor razor. He was taken to the station and identified as the person implicated by the man assaulted.

Kilakos denied doing the shooting. He said that Dracoulakos attacked him with the revolver and he used a razor in self-defense.

Held in $10,000
James Kilakos was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon and through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill his brother-in-law, James Dracoulakos. He was held in the sum of $10,000 surety until Friday so that an opinion could be gotten relative to the man's chances for recovery.

Dr. Clark, superintendent of the Lowell hospital, stated that considering Dracoulakos' injuries he is doing fairly well. He will not be able to tell for a few days, however, whether his injuries will prove fatal or not.

Judge Hadley's Poem
Hon. Samuel P. Hadley received an ovation as he was introduced. He spoke briefly and concluded with an original poem, as follows:

OUR COUNTRY
God bless our country grand and free,
Whose broad domain from sea to sea,
On by the tide of noblest blood is spured,
Lighted by Freedom's quenchless fires,
Bears neither monarch's throne nor slave.
But homes of freemen, strong and brave.

God bless our country grand and free,
The heavy burden turn to gladness,
The gleaming of thy altar-fires,
And sought the God of Nations there,
Heaven answering wrote with mighty pen,
His latest covenant with men.

God bless our country grand and free,
When tyrants sought to fetter thee,
Our sires a noble blood spured,
And the heroes' flames of battle burned,
Till, smote by Freedom's giant hand,
Oppression vanished from the land.

God bless our country grand and free,
The heavy burden turn to gladness,
The gleaming of thy altar-fires,
And sought the God of Nations there,
Heaven answering wrote with mighty pen,

IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES
FEAST OF SACRED HEART AND ST. ANTHONY OBSERVED YESTERDAY

The solemnity of the feast of the Sacred Heart was observed yesterday at the Sacred Heart church with special and impressive services in the evening at 6:30 o'clock, while in the morning the Forty Hours' Devotion was concluded with solemn services. Solemn high mass was sung at 11 o'clock, with the usual procession of the Blessed Sacrament through the church and solemn benediction.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Thomas P. O'Brien, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury novitiate, assisted by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James J. Gallagher, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. No sermon was delivered. Those participating in the procession were the officiating clergymen, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir. The regular church choir, directed by John J. Kelly, sang Gounod's St. Cecilia's mass. Jesu Dei Filius, beautifully rendered by Mrs. Philip Mooney and John McMahon and George Kirwin.

At 5:30 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., the children who recently received their first communion again approached the altar. They were addressed by the pastor.

In the evening the services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, litany of the Sacred Heart, sermon by Rev. J. J. Gallagher, O. M. I., renewal of the act of consecration to the Sacred Heart, procession and solemn benediction. A special musical program of rare excellence was given, a feature of which was the Ave Maria duet by Miss Katherine Jennings and George Kirwin.

Those who participated in the procession were the first communicants, boys and girls of the Infant Jesus society, girls of the Holy Angels society, altar boys, sanctuary choir and officiating clergymen. Solemn benediction was given by Rev. James McDermott, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James J. Gallagher, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., had general supervision.

COMMANDER A. D. MITCHELL,

eloquently on the significance of the flag and the growth and greatness of the country as the result of strict adherence to the cardinal principles represented by it. The flag has never been so revered, because it had led men in those things which have been for the welfare of all mankind. Benjamin Franklin, one of the greatest diplomats of his time, predicted a great future for the then budding nation if it heeded the call of humanity and followed that call through thick and thin. Because it has sought to follow such a course we stand today as the nation which may, within the future, be the arbiter of the world's destinies.

James O'Sullivan
The band then played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," after which James O'Sullivan was introduced. Mr. O'Sullivan spoke in part as follows:

"It is fitting that all classes and creeds should be here today, and render devotion to this glorious flag. It is fitting, because, in 1861 all classes and creeds rose as one to perpetuate the union. Most precious blood was lost in this struggle, but it was worth the price. I am convinced of that. It furthered the causes of humanity, it made of this country one indivisible nation, it laid the foundation for the greatest nation in the history of the world. Opportunity is given to men of all kinds to come here to live and to enjoy life, and if, by chance, the turn of world events should bring us into this struggle, then the glorious old flag would be followed as loyally as it was in the Civil war, or in the Spanish-American war."

represent a nation which would concede a peace that would humiliate or dishonor the country. If a country is to remain strong it must emphasize the moral and spiritual side for otherwise the nation decays. Unless men are moral, unless they are Christian in their acts toward each other, they are weak. The great nation, the greatest nation, because of its morality, is strong in the right, strong in the things pertaining to the mind, strong in the service of God and strong in its physique. In his conclusion he asked that God save America, and that His spirit abide with us forever.

Exercises Concluded
The exercises concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the band. All stood, the men uncovered, the militia saluted and the great crowd sang the anthem in a mighty and impressive chorus. As the crowd dispersed the band played a medley of patriotic airs.

HERBERT J. MORRISON, ALIAS COOK, PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 14.—Herbert J. Morrison, alias Cook, pleaded not guilty in the district court today to the charge of killing Leslie C. Hopkins, a Providence motor bus driver, by shooting him yesterday. Special Officer Bassette, who resides near the scene of the murder heard the shots fired which killed Hopkins. He also saw and spoke to a man who was standing near with a revolver in his hand and placed him under arrest, but his prisoner succeeded in breaking away. Later in the day a man who answered the description of the fugitive was arrested on a minor charge in Central Falls and was identified by Officer Bassette as the man who broke away from him. He was taken into custody by the Pawtucket police and gave the name of Herbert J. Morrison of Boston, but later changed this to Herbert J. Cook of Londonderry.

FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE
A large and interested gathering listened to an address on "Equal Suffrage," which was delivered Saturday evening at the corner of John and Merrimack streets by Mrs. Teresa A. Crowley of the State Woman Suffrage association.

The speaker spoke from an automobile well labeled with pennants bearing the inscription "Votes for Women," and was introduced by William N. Osgood, Esq. The woman spoke for nearly one hour, urging the men to cast their votes in favor of equal suffrage. She answered certain arguments which have been advanced in opposition to the movement and she quoted such authorities as Abraham Lincoln and John Ward Howe as having been in favor of equal suffrage.

At the Highland church yesterday it was announced that, beginning next Sunday and continuing through the summer, the high mass will be discontinued and a low mass at 10:45 substituted. Rev. Fr. Riordan in connection with the announcement spoke on the obligations of Catholics to their religion during the vacation period. He encouraged the custom of seeking rest and recreation away from home but urged his congregation not to permit their vacation plans to interfere with their religious obligations and to seek no place that is out of reach of a church.

At the 9 o'clock mass the children who were confirmed this morning received communion as did the members of the Ladies' sodality.

It was announced that Hon. John F. Fitzgerald of Boston has accepted an invitation to attend the annual lawn party of the parish to be held at the Casino on June 24, and to make an address.

Immaculate Conception

The 10 o'clock mass at the church of the Immaculate Conception yesterday was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O. M. I. It was announced at all the masses that the graduation exercises of the parochial schools will be held at the Opera House, next Sunday evening, and it is expected that the theatre will be crowded to capacity by the parents of the children and parishioners generally.

The Immaculate Conception school has once again made a creditable showing, having secured 39 diocesan diplomas. It was also announced that a large and important meeting will be held in Hibernian hall next Thursday evening with addresses by men prominent in the affairs of the Federation of Catholic societies.

HERBERT J. MORRISON, ALIAS COOK, PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 14.—Herbert J. Morrison, alias Cook, pleaded not guilty in the district court today to the charge of killing Leslie C. Hopkins, a Providence motor bus driver, by shooting him yesterday. Special Officer Bassette, who resides near the scene of the murder heard the shots fired which killed Hopkins. He also saw and spoke to a man who was standing near with a revolver in his hand and placed him under arrest, but his prisoner succeeded in breaking away. Later in the day a man who answered the description of the fugitive was arrested on a minor charge in Central Falls and was identified by Officer Bassette as the man who broke away from him. He was taken into custody by the Pawtucket police and gave the name of Herbert J. Morrison of Boston, but later changed this to Herbert J. Cook of Londonderry.

"POCKET-VETOED"
Measures Abolishing Practice of Veto-section Among 226 Bills Not Signed by Gov. Johnson

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 14.—Measures abolishing the practice of veto-section in California and limiting to 12 per cent a year interest rates on money, were among the 226 of a total of 997 bills passed by the recent legislature which Gov. Johnson "pocket-vetoed" by failing to sign when the time limit for converting the bills into laws, expired today.

JUDGE GRAY WITH WILSON

Member of International Permanent Court of Arbitration Addresses New Jersey Bar Asso.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 14.—Judge George Gray of Wilmington, Del., former United States senator and a member of the international permanent court of arbitration under The Hague conference, addressing the New Jersey Bar association in convention today, asserted that the time had come "as never before in our eventful history" for America to assert the vital character and binding force of the obligations which international law has placed upon belligerent nations.

The destruction of unarmed merchant ships without regard to the lives or safety of non-combatant passengers and crew was characterized by Judge Gray as so "revolting to the common sense of humanity" as to be "presumably unthinkable in the minds of those who framed this convention" (at The Hague).

Of President Wilson's notes to Germany, Judge Gray had this to say:

"It is with a decent respect to the opinion of mankind that our president has, with dignity, clearness and force, declared the obligations of this law in his recent message to one of the warring powers and has denounced the destruction of an unarmed merchant vessel which involved the sacrifice of the lives of more than a thousand innocent men, women and children, including more than a hundred peaceable citizens of our own country. We all know how the wording of his message has stirred the hearts of his countrymen and aroused in his support the patriotic spirit of the whole nation for whom he was spokesman.

There was the strength of moderation in its tone that befitted the character of a great law-abiding and justice-loving people. Upon the impregnable rock of law and humanity the president has taken his stand. In this we have given him and will continue to give him our confidence and support."

Judge Gray's address was largely devoted to a digest of the enactments of The Hague peace conferences and their application to eventualities which have arisen in the European war.

AN ONERY HORSE FISH PLANTING

Animal in Thorndike Hungry Perch Devour Street Was Hard to New Comers at Lake Mascuppic

"Put a hitch in his tail." "Put a stick under his tongue." "Cut a few hairs from his tail and tie them about his lower jaw." "Build a fire under him." These and a hundred other suggestions were offered the driver of a bally horse in Thorndike street.

The horse balked on the Thorndike street end of the bridge connecting Thorndike and Fletcher streets. The poor driver, a foreigner, was at his wits' end and he found little consolation in the avalanche of suggestions that came pouring down upon him, for it seems that he had tried several of them.

John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, and Marshall F. Cummings, assistant treasurer for C. H. Hanson & Co., were among the spectators. "Cummings," said Kernan, "you ought to be able to help that poor fellow out. I have understood that what you don't know about a horse isn't worth knowing."

Mr. Cummings smiled his appreciation of his friend's kind words, and said in the way that only a real horseman could say it: "Just wait till they get all through and I'll show them how to start a bally horse."

While Messrs. Kernan and Cummings waited, a man stepped over from the opposite side of the street and, taking a rope from the wagon to which the onery steed was attached, proceeded to double, and tie in that position, the horse's right ear.

"What's that for?" queried Mr. Kernan. "He doesn't want to have the horse hear what is being said about him," suggested an onlooker.

"Better give the driver something to stop him thinking or he'll go mad," said another, and Mr. Kernan then appealed to his friend Cummings for real information.

"That is one of the old time tricks to start a bally horse," said Mr. Cummings, but it doesn't amount to much. That will never start him. I've seen—"

Mr. Cummings didn't finish. The man had finished tying the horse's ear, clucked to him to go along and away went the erstwhile bally horse at a pace that would make an ambulance horse look like a hitching post.

SPEED UP BALL GAMES

PRES. FULTZ SAYS SPECTATORS DESIRE QUICK ACTION AND RESULTS

NEW YORK, June 14.—In an endeavor to speed up baseball games in the big leagues, President David L. Fultz of the Players' fraternity, today addressed a letter to the directors of the fraternity asking the co-operation of all members to this end. Fultz, as the fraternity executive, points out that spectators desire quick action and results in present-day baseball, and that in view of the financial conditions, as well as waning enthusiasm, it is up to the players to make the game as attractive as possible. The letter is as follows:

"There has been a good deal of complaint this season regarding the length of time it is taking to play big league games, many of them consuming approximately two hours and some a great deal more. A number of players have expressed their desire to co-operate with the rest in an endeavor to lessen the playing time as much as possible.

Several cans of tiny fishes were planted at Lake Mascuppic several days ago and a woman living at Willow Dale says that while standing on the shore the other day she saw hungry-looking and spawning perch devour a great school of hungry perch.

This observation on the part of the Willow Dale woman will be of interest to members of the Lowell Fish and Game association and others. It is generally conceded that a great many of the tiny fish planted in the ponds and lakes are eaten by the larger fish, but just what percentage of the newcomers are devoured is a question that would puzzle the oldest fisherman.

In ponds and lakes, however, it is known that the return for the number of fish planted is not what it ought to be and several suggestions have been offered for the conservation of spawn and baby fishes.

Mr. Richard Taft, who is a member of the Lowell Fish and Game association, offered a suggestion some time ago relative to the conservation or protection of white perch spawn at Lake Mascuppic.

The perch seeks the feeding and spawning grounds in May and Mr. Taft suggested that a place be screened off after the spawning season at the little outlet at the farther end of the lake, known as "Bull Run."

He explained how a netting could be stretched across the little cove after the perch had spawned and gone their way. This would protect the baby fish and they could be kept there until they were large enough to protect themselves.

The plan, he says, could be carried out at a very small expense and he avers that fish enough could be raised at Lake Mascuppic in this manner to supply all the ponds about Lowell. The Lowell Fish and Game association, he says, would not have to call on the government or the state commission for white perch fry.

THE ANNAPOLIS SCANDAL

REAR AD. FULLAM THREATENED TO RESIGN IF NOT BACKED BY NAVY DEPT.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 14.—That Rear Admiral Fullam, superintendent of the naval academy, said he would be inclined to resign if the navy department did not back him up in the matter of the previous investigation of irregularities in examinations was stated today to the court of inquiry investigating the recent "gouging" scandal at the institution.

The statement was made by Ensign Richard R. Adams, honor man of this year's graduating class. It was brought out when Adams was cross-examined concerning a meeting of the class presidents with the superintendent when, Adams said, Admiral Fullam gave expression to the statement outlined, with the further remark that he would rather go out to sea in a collier ship than stay at Annapolis.

Adams was questioned about the resolutions said to have been adopted by the first class men in behalf of Ralph Nickerson, a "star" man after he had been recommended for dismissal. He held against Nickerson that he had seen alleged fraudulent papers and failed to report them and that he helped certain fourth class men to make use of the papers.

Ten or fifteen men reported to Adams after the meeting, he said, that they were not going to sign the resolution. They were not voted on, he said.

Adams said one of the reasons given by those who refused to sign was that they did not feel an equal degree of guilt based on the decision of the committee that a person who had seen a micrograph copy of the examination on white paper was guilty in a greater degree than those who had seen fragmentary copies of questions on yellow scrap paper.

TROOPS CALLED BACK

RELEASED FROM DUTY TO RETURN TO FACTORIES MANUFACTURING AMMUNITION

LONDON, June 13, 3:17 p. m.—Continuing his campaign to bring about an increase in the output of munitions of war, David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, spoke at Bristol today and made the declaration that War Secretary Kitchener already had given orders that certain British workmen be released from duty in the trenches in order to return to England and re-enter factories in need of their services.

NATIONAL OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP ATTRACTS MANY STARS OF THE LINKS

MARSTEN QUIMET EVANS McDONALD SMITH HAGEN

Baltusrol, N. J., June 14.—With the beginning of play in the open golf championship matches here there was the greatest interest and speculation as to the winners. Several amateurs have entered. The winning amateurs will be given suitable trophies in plate. The scheduled dates for play are June 15, 16, 17 and 18. Several stars of the links who are entered in the tournament are shown in the accompanying illustration.

THEIR SIXTH CHILD

SON BORN TO MR. AND MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., FIFTH BOY

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 14.—A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., their sixth child and fifth boy. Both mother and baby are doing well.

The expected arrival of the child is understood to be the reason why Mr. Rockefeller postponed his contemplated trip to Colorado.

COMMUNICATION

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir—A short while ago a representative body of citizens appeared before the commissioners and presented to the city government "facts and figures" in regard to a matter of vital importance to the citizens in general, in particular of close interest to these men, because what they spoke of had a most direct application to them and the people that they particularly represented.

The subject that they brought forward was the fact that for years back our waterways have been claiming victims by drowning of something like 10 or 12 a year on an average.

Now, surely this is a crying wrong and everything within reason should be done to remedy it. Surely all right-thinking men agree to this and are heartily in sympathy with the Trades and Labor unions to secure such needed protection.

One of the means proposed was the buying of a pulmotor to be used to help a person who is supposed to be drowned. I read in the papers that the mayor proposes to have a pulmotor for both police and fire departments, and for that reason I venture to write this communication, thinking it might be of interest.

I wish to say a few words in regard to the real worth of the pulmotor for such a purpose. Some time ago a call came to the police department for the pulmotor at a certain place for a drowning accident. The police responded at once but when they reached the scene of the accident the ambulance had already removed the man who was in a dangerous condition and had gone to the police station in general, in particular of close interest to these men, because what they spoke of had a most direct application to them and the people that they particularly represented.

Well, that is as you look at it. As good luck would have it the man recovered, but suppose he had not? We would see nothing funny and we would feel like using some pretty strong language and with most of us it would be directed against the police department. Why? They had done all they could; that the pulmotor was in their department and the ambulance in another is no blame of the police. That the pulmotor was carried by a high powered automobile while the ambulance was drawn by a horse and not expected to rival in speed the auto is no fault of the police. This remark can be made with the same force, about the fireman, and if those departments are to be charged with the pulmotor and its use it is well to have some understanding of its real value.

Is the pulmotor of very great value? Is it possible to produce serious harm with it? The old tried and well known means of restoring the party drowned, so well known that every police officer and many of us citizens have at least some idea of what to do in such cases, is so easy of putting into effect that here a short while ago one of the Boy Scouts, with the assistance of some other boys, restored one of their companions who came near losing his life by drowning.

The pulmotor is a sort of pump and it is possible to cause serious injury with it. Then here someone who knows how to use it to call on, a drowning accident happens a call for help goes in; the police department is at one place, the fire department at another, the pulmotor is left, and the pulmotor expert (for someone should have some knowledge of this instrument) who is left?

But I will quote from the Journal of American Medical Association of the whole United States as follows: "The pulmotor" has been investigated by a committee appointed by the council on health and public instruction of the American Medical association of the department of the interior and was not approved.

The above shows that those whose duty it is should settle the worth of this instrument for its intended use before another is bought and perhaps they would not approve of doing so, and perhaps on full consideration they would disapprove of the present one.

Yours truly,

Frank Rieard.

LICENSES ARE REFUSED

EXCISE BOARD GIVES ITS REASONS FOR REFUSING LIQUOR LICENSES TO SEVEN CLUBS

BOSTON, June 14.—Seven clubs which had applied for liquor licenses have been refused them by the excise board, which has issued a statement explaining fully its position in the matter.

The clubs are the Monarch, Washington street, South End; Pilgrim A. A., 335 Massachusetts avenue; Arena A. C., Massachusetts avenue; Stanish, Back Bay; Town, Roxbury; Traders, market district; Unity (colored), South End.

The board's statement says: "The licensing board, after careful and prolonged consideration, has decided to reject all of the applications for club licenses, seven in number, which have recently been made.

"There seems to be an adequate reason for granting any of these without granting all. This the board is not prepared to do. For the present there would seem to be a sufficient number of license clubs in the city and these apparently are of sufficient variety in membership and aim to provide for all ordinary legitimate demand.

"The board holds that the club license is an special privilege, to be very sparingly allowed. In the case of a substantial organization, having a large and responsible membership, meeting varied and unmistakable needs of its members and their guests, among which the demand for liquor is a minor incident, there is of course adequate justification for the issuance of a club license.

"As to smaller groups, scattered here and there throughout the city, which have not demonstrated and cannot make clear a sound and sufficient basis for their existence as clubs apart from the privilege of dispensing liquor, it is not the policy of the board to grant licenses.

"The judgment of the board in this matter is reinforced not only by the convictions held by a large and representative body of citizens with regard to the dangers inherent in the club license, but by the complaints of the retail liquor trade as to the unfairness of the competition into which they are thrown by club licenses, which involve far less expense than ordinary liquor licenses, are exercised at all hours every day in the year, and are under none of the restraints and risks that go with police surveillance and general publicity."

MISSING GIRL RETURNS

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD MARGARET MULVEY FOUND WANDERING IN DAZE AT ATTLEBORO

ATTLEBORO, June 14.—Fifteen-year-old Margaret Mulvey, who was found wandering in a dazed condition in Plainville by Fritz Wagner of 30 Circular street, Boston, by her mother yesterday.

The girl, who claims to be a student in the Brookline High school, had been missing from her home since Friday morning, and declared that she could remember nothing of what took place during the interval.

Saturday morning Mr. Wagner met Miss Mulvey on the road to Plainville.

DR. DERNBURG EXPECTS TO MEET THE KAISER IN BERLIN JUNE 30

Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, personal representative and spokesman for Kaiser Wilhelm in this country, after a stay of nine months in America is on his way to meet the kaiser. Despite contradictory rumors, it was learned from good authority that Dr. Dernburg would go from Bergen, Norway, directly to Germany, where, it is said, a high place in his country's public life awaits him. He is traveling under a special safe conduct issued through the American state department and guaranteed by the British, French and Russian ambassadors in Washington. He expects to be in Berlin on June 30, and will immediately report to the kaiser, whose special confidence and friendship he enjoys. The accompanying photograph of Dr. Dernburg and his wife was taken on the day before they sailed from New York.

LOWELL BROKE EVEN WITH LYNN

First Double Header of
Season Ends With
Honors EasyInitial Game Won 3-2—
Second Contest Lost
5-4 in Last Inning

(Special to The Sun)

LYNN, June 12.—Lynn and Lowell staged the first double header of the season Saturday afternoon at Ocean Park and after more than four hours of all sorts of ball playing, with honors even. Lowell won the first game, 3-2, all three runs scored by the Spindle City aggregation being practically gifts by Lynn, while the second game resulted in a win for the Ocean Parklets, 5-4, after eight innings of play.

More than 2200 fans took advantage of the bargain and left the park perfectly satisfied with the games of the afternoon. The second game was agreed upon by Barrows and Lynch to be the limit of the second encounter, but an extra inning was necessary as Lynn tied up the score in that chapter.

Lynn was two runs behind when the seventh inning started and many fans left the grounds when pinch hitters, Haight and Williams, were easy outs. But Gleason and Lynch singled and then pulled off a double play. Porter, the center fielder, after fouling a couple of balls, hit a drive to center, scoring Gleason and Lynch and tying the game. In the eighth inning Hoyer singled as an oner out for O'Connell. When Halstein was being thrown out by Dee, O'Connell made third by a close play. Moulton then secured his first hit of the day, a drive which went to the center field fence for three bags, scoring O'Connell with the winning run. Simpson did not chase this ball as he saw it was of no use.

Durning was the selection of Pieper to pitch the first game and he should have won his game but for a couple of "bones." In the fourth O'Connell refused to go to second on Swayne's throw to the plate and as Halstein followed with a safe hit he could have scored and tied the game. Durning also failed to run out a hit in the eighth when Bowcock did not have his on second base. Greer forced out from Dee. Bowcock then threw to McGuinn, nailing Durning.

Press pitched the second game, that is, all except the final inning, when Swayne was called to do stunts. Jewett performed admirably while he was on the mound and although he entered the game under difficulties he remained cool, although the Lowell players tried their utmost to rattle him. Press was lucky to hold Lowell to four runs as he possessed none of the wares of a pitcher. Fine fielding at times cut Lowell runs off at the plate after the game Press was released by Manager Pieper, who has shipped him back to the New York Glants.

Benny Bowcock of Lowell was in the glare of the spotlight throughout both games, both in fielding his position and in willow wielding. Benny smote the horsehide four times for safe hits in the game and once in either in the second game. Bill Gleason performed like a major leaguer at third base for Lynn and some of his stops of hard batted balls was the feature of the matinee. Bill also performed heroic service with the bat, securing five hits and in addition stole a pair of cushions in each encounter. Gleason's bat produced results in both games.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Eddie Mahan, the Harvard athlete, is proving himself to be as valuable as he is to the eleven. He allowed Penn but six hits Saturday and Harvard scored an easy 1-0 shutout over the Quakers.

The Ad Wotcast-Gilbert Gallant battle tomorrow night at the Arena has awakened a good deal of interest among the boxing fans of New England. The two men fight in a style somewhat similar and are both batters. Wotcast is trying to "come back" while Gallant is making an endeavor to show the public that his kavyo at the hands of Sam Robideau was due more to a chance blow than anything else.

The St. John Prep. school annual field day which will be held as usual on June 17th will attract much attention this year. The track and field games have been arranged on a more pretentious scale than ever before. The St. A. A. Irish-American A. A. and other big associations will be represented at the games while some 2000 cadets will take part in the military drill.

Yale's last chance to redeem herself, speaking in an athletic sense, seems to be in the annual boat race Harvard has made a clean sweep of the diamond and river rowing. The Crimson ball club is a better team than that from the New Haven university which of course it may not demonstrate the fact in the three games series. Yale is as strong, if not stronger, than Harvard, on paper in the shells.

Although we are still holding down seventh position in the race the team has not been better than it did the first part of the week. Bowcock's hitless pull-out game out of the fire last week and the club seems to be out of the rut. There are still big chances for improvement nevertheless.

Guided Walter Ahearn and Bennie Powers, the new second sacker, are the two players who are responsible in a large measure for the bracing up of the team. Ahearn is practical manager of Lowell at present, at least he seems to be so on the field at least. Ahearn appears to have instilled a good deal of life into "em, and Bowcock's work in the infield combination is all that could be desired.

As predicted earlier Portland has climbed to the top of the heap. Hugo Dullis' outfit should never be ousted from its present berth. With a fine string of hurriers and a coterie of good ball players who can knock 'em hard Hugo appears to be "all set."

Raymond L. Patten of the Vesper-Country club came through a winner in the semi-finals for the Belmont. At Waverly only to be beaten in the finals by Jesse Guilford, champion of New Hampshire golfers. Patten is one of the best golfers in this section.

Chicago pushed Boston into fourth place in the National league yesterday when Hess and Rudolph both proved unsteady. The first six clubs in Gov. Tower's circuit are so evenly balanced that a week's games could change the entire order.

YALE CREWS ARE IN FINE SHAPE
FOR BIG REGATTA WITH HARVARD

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 14.—Coach Guy Nickalls of the Yale crews is putting his charges through their final workouts here for their annual bout with the Crimson on the Thames. Confidence reigns supreme in the Yale camp. Individually and collectively the Blue oarsmen are sure that they will show their oars to the men of Harvard, and not a few of the experts concur in that belief. The Yale first crew has shown wonderful form in the two preliminary events in which it has taken part, winning both. Pictures show (upper) Yale second varsity and (lower) first varsity. In the boats are, second varsity, stroke, Adams; seven, Gamble; six, Whitteley; five, Fox, four, Kositzky; three, Atkins; two, Gillman; bow, Munson coxswain, Captain Pratt. First varsity, stroke, Morse; seven, Wiman; six, Meyers; five, Captain Sturtevant; four, Sheldon; three, Law; two, Bennett; bow, C. Cne, and coxswain, McLane.

within striking distance of the top. The Red Sox are only two games behind Detroit while the Tigers only lag a full game in the rear of the White Sox. Manager Bill Carrigan expects to reach up and pull down the leaders as soon as his hospital list recovers.

Mike Wrenn successfully defended his title as the local swimming champion yesterday afternoon in a race with John Moriarty in the Merrimack river. The men dove in at North Chathamford and started for the Vesper boat house landing. Moriarty gave the struggle after a lively brush with Wrenn near the two mile mark. Wrenn stated that he is willing to swim any of the New England men over the same course.

Concord high had no trouble in defeating Lowell high Saturday afternoon by the shutout route, the local schoolboys being forced to take the wrong end of a 9-0 score. Lowell high never had a chance at any stage of the game.

Holston was in the points for Lowell and has hit hard. Opposed to him was a youngster named Boyce who held the local team at his mercy throughout, allowing them but three hits. Breen played a star game at short and collected two of Lowell high's three safeties.

OFF FOR BIG REGATTA / STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., June 14.—Stanford's eight oared crew Pacific coast champions, were to leave today for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to compete in the four mile varsity race in the annual intercollegiate regatta on June 28. The crew, averaging 175 pounds, will be the heaviest in the contest. Only two men, stroke and coxswain, are under six feet in height.

NEWARK, N. J., June 14.—American Champion Frank Kramer won the final of the $1000 grand prize in two straight heats at the Newark Velodrome yesterday. Jackie Clark of Australia was second and Mervyn Dupuy of France was third. A rare flight of speed down the home stretch brought victory to Reggie McNamara of Australia, who he appeared to be beaten by Harry Kaiser of the Bronx, in the brassard race. McNamara also won the three-mile scratch race. Kramer was second. Alf Grenda of Australia, third, and Joe Fogler of Brooklyn, fourth.

Bob Spears of Australia disposed of Cesar Moretti of Italy in straight heats after the Italian roughed him all over the track. Grenda won the two-thirds mile handicap; Willie Hanley, California, second, and Oscar Egg of Switzerland, third.

The two-mile handicap went to Fred Weber of Newark. Julian Provost of France finishing second, and Hanley, third. Hans Ohl of the Olympic club of San Francisco won the amateur open race and finished second from the scratch in the three-mile handicap. Eddie R. Kane of the New York A. C. was third in the handicap.

Somebody made a bungle of the measuring at the seventh annual Boston high school meet at Wood Island Park, June 4. As a result, neither of the two winners of the 220-yard dashes, William Winchester of Commerce and E. A. Barrows of English in the senior and intermediate divisions, respectively, will get credit for the record he established.

Winchester ran the course in 22.1-5 seconds, breaking the record held by Elmer Smith of 22.3-8 seconds. Barrows cut a slice off the intermediate record of 23.3-5 seconds held by W. Lyons of West 3-5 seconds by running the course in 22.8-5 seconds.

Immediately after these times were announced, question arose of the possibility of the winners performing so creditably. Nathaniel Young of the Hygiene department made it known that the track would be remeasured.

This was done, and the supposedly 220 yards was lacking about ten yards. It is likely that the athletes who were entered in the two events will be invited to try again. It is a question whether Winchester will be able to set up a new mark, but Barrows is no question of doubt but that Barrows can do much better than the old time.

THE DAY AND THE FLAG

This is the day on which we honor the flag. There is no need to specify what flag, for though America is the home of millions who have themselves or whose fathers forsaken all the other flags of the earth, we know but one—the glorious Stars and Stripes. It is the flag born of the greatest ideal of freedom the world has known; it is the highest, grandest, noblest emblem of human liberty. It was the flag of Washington, the heritage he left to the generations of free men who came after him; it was the flag which Lincoln saw as a guiding star through the dark night of the Civil war. It is the flag which floats today above all flags as the flag of the only real democracy which the earth has known. It is the flag for which our fathers fought and for the preservation of which our children and our children's children will be ready to fight, and to die should it ever again be menaced by tyranny or injustice.

Today, in a world of war, it is the flag of peace. Other flags may symbolize the devotion of nations and of peoples to other ideals; other flags may call the youth from the fireside and the family roof-tree to be torn to pieces by shot and shrapnel. Other flags, seen through the smoke of battles may spur the soldier on to a last superhuman effort for his national ideals; but to the peoples of all nations, the American flag stands out for peace, justice to all men, personal liberty, prosperity and national integrity. Still, it is no less inspiring to us than the battle flags are to their respective troops, for in no nation does the flag more represent the deepest devotion of the individual than in this nation over which the Star and Stripes floats sublime in the summer sunshine.

Once in ages long ago, three kings in the east saw a sign in the sky and they followed it to where in a manger an infant lay, the sight of Whom repaid them for the toils of the mountain and the heats of the desert. Today, we are too much concerned with worldly affairs to see the signs of heaven, but wherever the human heart has thirsted for liberty, from tropical lands to the land of snows, a symbol of liberty has shone in the sky, and thousands have followed it with steadfast hearts and shining eyes. It is the symbol which we honor today—the symbol which has offered a haven to the afflicted of the earth who have fled from the yoke of bondage to the land where all men are free—to Columbia, the asylum of the enslaved, the home of the brave and free.

The flag that we honor today is to us a protection and to all the rest of the world a hope. It is a protection which we would defend with the greatest sacrifice that men can give, if national honor demands it. It is a hope to all the world that lies outside the circle of light which we know as American liberty. They who now strive against bitter foes where the waves of war engulf every human happiness see in it a sign of the service to humanity which will point the path to peace, when the insane orgies of blood shall cease and all mankind, including even the belligerent nations, shall unite to deplore one of the worst blows ever dealt to civilization.

If the flag which has flown today over our marts, our manufactures and homes is to stand for the ideals of Washington, Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson, it must be respected by all governments whether in peace or war. It must not be insulted by one power or used by another as a shield against the blows of the enemy. It must stand, as it has always stood, for America and all things American, a sign of the spirit that demands nothing but justice but that will protect all American rights, so that the Stars and Stripes will mean to generations to come what it means to us today. With all reverence we salute this glorious flag, hoping that never, by act of its own people, or servile subservience to any other people shall its stars or bars be less bright than they are in June, 1915, and that it may proudly wave forever over the destinies of this republic, the greatest, the freest and grandest the world has ever seen.

INCREASE IN SHIPPING

It is reported that seven of the largest American shipyards have under construction 56 going steamships, of an aggregate registered tonnage of about 290,000. This is three times as much as the reported tonnage under construction a year ago and there are reports of contracts and further activities in shipping circles throughout the country. Apparently American business is waking up to the possibilities of American shipping as an investment, or else coming to the rescue of American shippers because of dire necessity.

With a very few exceptions, all of the ships under construction are for the American coastwise trade, still leaving the larger shipping problem unsolved. Our coastwise shipping has always been restricted to American bottoms, and the absence of American ships from the larger inter-oceanic trade is still most apparent. It is to be presumed that the private enterprise which provides ships for the coastwise trade would provide ships for the larger trade, were it not that the task is too great at present for private capital.

American ships that would enter the transportation service to all world ports must compete with ships of other nations that are backed up by government subsidies or other aids. Congress has always been opposed to this form of aid in the United States, but when a more direct government service was broached, it was opposed as something pernicious in the extreme. Now it must be confessed, after many months of uncertainty, America will either have to resort to the government-owned merchant marine system, or change its mind about subsidies and maritime laws, for private capital cannot be obtained for the establishing of the necessary system.

This shipping question has been again called to the attention of the public recently by two far-reaching agitations—one for new lines with South America and the other for new lines to the Orient, and China in particular.

FOURTH OF JULY

It is to be most sincerely hoped that the great show planned for this day July 4th will not mean a return to the unsafe observance which until the last few years left a long list of maimed and injured. Gradually the movement for a safe and sane Fourth has grown and developed until statistics of recent celebrations proved that Fourth of July is no longer a thing of terror to parents. With the military character of the celebration in this city in the near future, there is danger that our young citizens, and impulsive individuals, among the older citizens may carry their patriotic zeal too far. It would be very easy in the great noise and excitement for indulgence in revolver practice or the use of the dangerous explosives, with serious consequences. Those familiar with the preparations made in local hospitals some years ago would see a side of July 4th that is not generally seen until the next day.

Though The Sun opposed the expenditure of $2000 by the city, the celebration is now an assured fact, and all citizens should make the most of it. Three thousand dollars is a great deal of money to shoot off in cannon salutes and burn up in fireworks, but still, the people of Lowell must now make the most of it and if all unite they may be well satisfied after all. Undoubtedly the widely advertised celebration will attract many out-of-town visitors, and with the more favorable weather, we shall be able to make a better impression than on Lowell day.

PUBLIC MORGUE NEEDED

The recent finding of bodies in the Merrimack river once again emphasizes most strongly the crying need for a properly equipped public morgue in this city. For years it has been the custom to take such bodies to any undertaking establishment that may be convenient, or the proprietor of which may be a friend of those who find the body. Without any organized attempt at publicity, and with an indifferent system of tracing possible relatives, the corpse is kept a few days and if no claimant turns up, it is buried. Generally no permanent means of identification are availed of, and so there is more than one body in Lowell floating in the water, the fate of which will never be known by anguished relatives. The individual cases may be slight to the general public, but each is of immense importance to someone, for someone anyone would die without leaving some link with humanity.

The remedy for this is the appointment of a city morgue, perhaps in some designated establishment, supported wholly or partially by the city. All unidentified bodies found in the river, on the railroad tracks or elsewhere should be taken to this morgue, embalmed and kept for several days. Efforts should be made to reach the relatives of the dead person, and if finally the corpse is to be interred, photographs should be taken and some few years left a long list of maimed and injured. Gradually the movement for a safe and sane Fourth has grown and developed until statistics of recent celebrations proved that Fourth of July is no longer a thing of terror to parents. With the military character of the celebration in this city in the near future, there is danger that our young citizens, and impulsive individuals, squabbling among undertakers that is now so painfully evident on such occasions.

TO GERMAN-AMERICANS

It was reported in the early stages of the war, and apparently on good authority, that some English authorities had made a good financial offer to July Sunday to go to England as an advocate of recruiting. That there was a field for his eloquence there is no doubt, and that the government of any country in such a crisis would like to avail of silver tongues is also undeniable.

This offer and its rejection are now recalled by the mission which our ex-secretary has set out to accomplish, and in which he figures with so much grace and such little consistency. In the appeal to the "German-Americans" especially, he does not appeal for recruits, but he comes out strongly in support of the administration policy, and eliminates himself as the possible leader of the more extreme administration critics. In short, he bids fair to be rejected by both the supporters of the administration and the opponents of the administration. Bryan without a following is inconceivable, but who his followers will be, and how many they will number, are difficult questions to answer.

It is the conviction of Bryan that the Germans in this country and those of German extraction can do a great deal for the promotion of a better feeling between the two governments by urging toleration on the German government and correctly reporting the American attitude. To this end, he asks them to consider the administration's policies in the furtherance of neutrality and makes out a strong case for the American view.

He appeals to them for aid in rolling back the war cloud which exists only in his imagination. It is very difficult to dismiss Mr. Bryan of the idea that were this country deprived of his guidance and unofficial advice but for a short time, the Union would dissolve, and the government at Washington through a reverse process of evolution be reduced to elemental chaos.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

All doctors do not agree, and neither do all clergymen, even of one denomination, on certain points. This was borne out at the June meeting of the North Middlesex Unitarian conference in Nashua last Wednesday. One of the preachers who spoke in opposition to the proposition to endorse national prohibition was Rev. Charles T. Billings of this city, who advanced plausible arguments for his position. Mr. Billings is well known in this city as a true temperance man.

With Ex-President Taft he believes the question might best be dealt with by the state governments. On this there may be room for argument where there is none as to the need of throttling the liquor evil. We are inclined to believe, however, that Mr. Billings as well as all other sincere opponents of the liquor evil, will in due time agree that effective prohibition, however it may be attained, is the only solution of the question.

A FOOL QUESTION

"I have had many stupid questions asked me in my life," said an elderly doctor, "but the most foolish was when I was a young fellow, just beginning to make my living. A young man applied to me for some slight eye trouble. I recommended a mild wash to be dropped in the eye three times a day. He paid the fee and disappeared. A few minutes later, and suddenly stuck his head back in the doorway."

"Shall that medicine," he asked, "be dropped in my eye before or after meals?"—Collier's Weekly.

EYES AND FEET

Elizabeth Marbury tells this story of her experiences while trying to find a manager who would produce the play "The Optimist."

"I don't think much of the title," was the first manager's protest.

"Do you know what it means?" asked Miss Marbury.

"Certainly," was the answer. An optimist is a man who looks after the eyes and a pessimist is a man who attends the feet."

This reminded her of William Lackey's remark when asked if he had found a manager to produce "Les Miserables."

"Found one to produce it?" he answered, "why I haven't even found one who could even pronounce it."—Boston Record.

ONE-WORD DESPATCH

Very few commanders have revealed any sense of humor in their campaign exploits, and it was reserved for the witty Sir Charles Napier to become prominent in this rare accomplishment. His growing achievement in the realm of humor was coincident with his most brilliant feat of arms. He has been to the conquest of Scinde, and after a series of fine exploits in the face of insurmountable difficulties, he accomplished his mission. But the authorities at home waited anxiously for the despatch announcing this momentous event. The days passed, and it added to the tension. At last the long-expected message arrived, and it contained one word, "Pecorini!" A man who knew Latin was sought, and he translated it, "I have sinned (Scinde)."

A NON-ALCOHOLIC TONIC

Many people need a tonic at this time of year, old folks, weak folks, thin people, people who are run-down from too much work and vacation still many weeks away. Nervous people take alcohol.

A non-alcoholic tonic that will build up the blood and strengthen the nerves is what most people need and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are exactly that. The one symptom of thin blood that everybody recognizes is pallor. It shows so gradually that other people are liable to notice it before you do. But it is important that you should notice and heed the warning because the thin blood that causes the pallor betrays some drain on the body, or some poisoning by its own waste material; that if not corrected, will result in physical breakdown and ill health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only build up the blood but they have a direct strengthening action on the nervous system. As they are free from narcotics and are safe for every member of the family.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Write today to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood" and, if your druggist does not ask for a doctor's book also.

creek that had overflowed and ruined his 500-acre field of corn. A neighbor, passing in a buggy stopped and shouted:

"Hello! Brooding over your troubles?"

"Broodin' nothin'. I'm watchin' them ducks. Ain't they makin' a fine time?" the farmer answered.

"That is the spirit that has made Kansas—and the entire west—great. No king, no duke, no emperor, no western states. Grasshoppers, floods, droughts, hot winds, tornadoes, no catastrophe can destroy the faith of the true westerner."

Thousands of acres of crops that promised well are under water now. But the waters will recede, leaving a rich deposit of silt upon the land, as the river Nile enriches its lands, and the crops will be replanted, and the added moisture in the soil will make the yield larger than it would have been; and prices will be higher than they ever were.

After the California Expositions —take a Little Sea Trip

Here's the ideal! Go out to California by way of Denver, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, the Wonderful Royal Gorge and Salt Lake City—all this by daylight and without extra charge, provided you travel on the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R. R.), which has through service from Chicago and St. Louis.

After that, "do" California and the Expositions, and then take one of those magnificent new Great Northern Pacific Steamships—the finest on the Pacific—from San Francisco up to Portland, Oregon. Then, homeward bound, stop at either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park—the wonders of the world.

Now will you allow me to help you plan for such a trip? That's what I'm here for.

You are planning to spend a sum that entitles you to see the best scenery in the west. Give me an idea of when you want to go, how long you can stay, etc., and I will plan a trip especially fitted to your time and needs—also send you without charge, such pictures, maps and printed descriptive matter as will aid you to determine the best thing to do. Write, call or telephone. Let me help. Alex. Stocks, New England Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., 264 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

MR. BRYAN'S QUEER TACTICS

Mr. Bryan's statement of his reason for resigning from the cabinet and in which he undertakes to discredit President Wilson's policy and create a sentiment hostile to it, doesn't harmonize very well with his professions of good will and loyalty to the chief of the administration. Had he any regard for the proprieties he would have withheld this pronouncement, at least until the document which he attacks had been made public, when the country would be able to judge the merits or demerits of Bryan's case.—Fall River Globe.

AN APPRECIATION

Reviewing the course of Secretary Bryan in the two years of his administration of his office it is plain that he has been in many ways a great moral force. He has aroused the nation to honor the fine things of life. Had he held the office when the sailing was clear he might have left a great impression upon this time. But in the mighty international problems that have developed Mr. Bryan has not caught the spirit of the American people. Nor does he command them sufficiently to sway them his way. He has seen that on the whole there is the greatest confidence in the course of President Wilson and has risen to his best heights by quitting when he could not be a great help to the heavily burdened president.—Holyoke Transcript.

THE 'COUNTRY BOY

The country boy is not migrating to the city as fast as he did. It is beginning to dawn on him that when he drops the raising of food products he is selling out his interest in a commodity that is rapidly rising in price. Nobody ever advanced in life on that principle. And the boys stay on in the country, the girls will stay too. The farmers are going to own many more automobiles in the year 1925 than the store clerks.—Beverly News.

NOT PARALLEL

As to warning Americans not to travel in belligerent ships, Mr. Bryan's citation of the warning to Americans in Mexico is not convincing. It would be nearer parallel, if our government warned Americans to keep out of the way of the Mexican army, using U. S. territory to get at another Mexican army.—Lewiston Sun.

JITNEY REGULATION

New Bedford is among the cities which have formulated jitney regulations, although they have not yet been adopted. The Fall River aldermen are slow in taking up a very necessary reform. Meanwhile, the accident list, when the jitneys are crowding the highways, continues to grow.—Fall River Herald.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICNIC SANDWICHES

"We are going to have a picnic Saturday," delightedly announced Marjorie to Marie one morning. "I want to make some nice sandwiches for my part of the feast," she continued. "Will you suggest some kinds for me to make?"

"Why yes, I will surely be glad to give you what suggestions I can," answered Marie. "To begin with all sandwiches should be made with the bread crust all cut off after the slices have been placed together. Then the sandwiches may be cut into dainty shapes."

"Exceedingly effective are the sandwiches made in rolls and tied with ribbon. These rolls should not be attempted unless the filling is very thin and is spread sparingly. Plain bread and butter sandwiches are the easiest to make for rolls. Then the sandwich should be held in the steam from the kettle and turned into a narrow roll and tied with the ribbon in a neat bow."

"Where refreshments are to be eaten standing up or with gloves on the utmost care should be taken not to fill them too lavishly as the filling will soak through the edges of the bread and soil the gloves, and the bread although cut very thin should not be crumbly. Among the fillings always acceptable are those made from combinations of cream cheese.

"Cream cheese and green peppers, cheese and pimientos, cheese and olives, cheese and celery, and a dozen other combinations with cheese are very nice. Among newer sandwich combinations are the following: Minced celery and mayonnaise dressing with one slice of white and one slice of brown bread; apple sauce with lemon juice and grated lemon peel and whipped cream. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread."

"Dress, broiled bacon and cooked chicken livers put through the meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise are fine. Other combinations are minced celery, canned salmon and mayonnaise with shredded lettuce or raisins chopped and mixed with mayonnaise with or without the addition of chopped nuts."

WHAT THE COOK SAYS

Cook makes an excellent washing fluid by dissolving two pounds of soap in three gallons of water, adding a tablespoon of turpentine and three tablespoons of household ammonia. Soak the clothes in this for two or three hours before washing. Clothes treated in this way will not need boiling. They can be put into the water when one first arises, and by the time the breakfast is out of the way, they will be ready.

When cleaning sauce pans etc., if short of sapolio or cleansing powder, use a cloth well soaped and dipped in coal ashes. This is very economical and excellent to clean them easily.

Straw matting is now in season. To clean it take a long handled mop, says cook, a dish half full of hot water and some dry Indian meal. Sweep all the dust off the matting, then scatter the dry meal evenly over the matting. Wring the mop very dry, to preclude any fear of dripping, and rub the matting hard, one breadth at a time always lengthwise of the straw, and use clean hot water for each breadth.

When the matting is dry the meal can be brushed off easily. This operation should always be carried out on a dry day. To cleanse or brighten Chinese or Japanese matting go over it with a cloth dipped in strong salt water.

Keep bread boards and other wooden utensils clean by scrubbing with soap and lukewarm water, to which household ammonia or common soda has been added.

When mixing add a little soap to your starch. This prevents the iron from sticking and gives a fine gloss. Is cook's experience. Cold starch, when finished with, need not be thrown away. Leave to settle, then pour off the water and the starch may be used again.

To make starch goods unflam- mable add a teaspoon of Epsom salts to a bowl of starch and boil until dissolved. This makes the starch stiffer and the articles starched are less likely to catch fire. When washing children's things rinse in water to which alum has been added to the proportion of two ounces to a gallon of water. This will make the cloth non-inflammable.

LADY LOOKABOUT

When a man as widely known in public life as Mr. John H. Corcoran makes the announcement that aspiring statesmen who favor equal suffrage do so, not because they are sincere, but because it will help them in their political careers; that by giving the ballot to woman man would be taking a step towards his own degradation; and then goes on to make shocking statements about feminism and socialism, it is readily seen that he feels the ground trembling under his feet, and my advice to him is to jump on the band-wagon as it passes or he will soon find himself trudging along well alone on the road that leads to nowhere. Surely the man who judges of the wind's direction by straws, must already feel quite sure that equal suffrage is not merely pending in Massachusetts, but impending.

Often, when I hear a man, apparently honest, one claiming that women have sufficient intelligence to vote, I am led to wonder just where he got his information. The natural conclusion is that he measures all women by his own opinion of his mother, his sisters, his wife and his daughters. It is evident that they do not measure up to his standard of intelligence. Now, perhaps the women of his particular family have not sufficient intelligence to vote. There is but one inference to be drawn. Either he is in their class, or they are in his. If they are non compos mentis, it is safe to assume that he is in the same boat with them.

Anniversary of the Hat

A notable birthday was quietly observed in our midst last week when the 51th anniversary of the hat was celebrated. It is younger than I had thought, and notwithstanding the correctness of the number of birthdays the hat has had, I feel almost sure I have seen one or two about town which had every appearance of antedating the year 1404. Women wore them, and now I am going to sound a note of warning to womankind. When I was young, I observed that as women advanced in years, almost invariably they acquired an odd, dowdy appearance. Now do not misunderstand me. Not every woman was so unfortunate, still enough of them had the appearance to make it seem quite general. I set out to find the cause. It did not lie in the mentality, for often I came across a real genius who had it.

It did not lie in any particular eccentricity. I was puzzled. Then one day all of a sudden it came to me. I was sitting in the nigger-heaven of Tremont Temple (does not that sound sacrilegious?) looking about at what seemed to be millions of women; old, young, pretty, otherwise; stout, slim; short, tall; in fact all the kinds there are of us were there, oozing intelligence in tremendous waves. At least, that is what we were supposed to be doing, but try as I could, I could not arouse my interest to follow the explanation of the inherent algebra existing between girls and algebra. Again I began to ponder on the dowdiness of some as compared to the smartness of others. Like a flash, light broke on my darkness. Why had I never thought of it before! It lay in the hat. How simple. That was the solution. In all the years that have elapsed since I made that own opinion of his mother, his sisters, his wife and his daughters. It is evident that they do not measure up to his standard of intelligence. Now, perhaps the women of his particular family have not sufficient intelligence to vote. There is but one inference to be drawn. Either he is in their class, or they are in his. If they are non compos mentis, it is safe to assume that he is in the same boat with them.

SUMMER SEASON BRINGS DEMAND FOR PLAYTIME TOGS FOR CHILDREN—SIMPLE GARMENTS, WASHABLE, IN GREAT VARIETY

Just such simple garments as the ones shown here are sure to be in demand at this season for they contribute more largely to real happiness and satisfaction than any others than can be devised. Rompers and aprons, since they dispense with the need of care and consideration which other clothing demands, bring with them a sense of relaxation and happiness not found in anything more elaborate or dainty. The three aprons show quite different models but all are good. The little kimono apron is absolutely protective and if liked, it can take the place of a frock as well as be worn over one. It is such a simple little garment that it can be made all in white or with the straps and belt of color for this season, colors are used in every known way and blue or pink on white would make a very pretty effect. No. 3494 is cut all in one piece, the fullness being held in place by belt portions that are arranged over the back. Here it is designed for a really useful little season those fabrics provide an exceptional variety both in color and in design. This apron is made of lawn in stripes showing soldiers' blue on a white background and is trimmed with bands of white. The apron with bib and straps over the shoulders is especially designed for the little cook and will be admirable to slip on when candy-making is in progress, but it also can be adapted to general wear. Apron lawn is the material that suggests itself most naturally, but it can be made all in white or with the straps and belt of color for this season, colors are used in every known way and blue or pink on white would make a very pretty effect. No. 3494 is cut all in one piece, the fullness being held in place by belt portions that are arranged over the back. Here it is designed for a really useful little apron and is made of white linen with bands of blue, but if something a little more dressy were wanted, the armhole edges could be finished with bretelles of embroidery and in place of the colored banding could be used embroidered insertion. Overalls always can be trusted to delight the small boy. They make an essentially masculine garment and they provide just the comfort and freedom that is needed. These are finished with straps that are buttoned over the shoulders and with patch pockets, without which no such garment would be complete. Blue galatea is the material shown here, but there are various other sturdy ones that are equally appropriate. The rompers with tucked fronts and full leg portions are adapted both to boys and to the girls. They are thoroughly comfortable and satisfactory, simple and easy to make and easy to launder. Chambray, ging-ham and materials of the sort are the ones most used and in the picture, khaki colored chambray is trimmed with bands of bright red. Galatea in one of the new blues would be pretty banded with white, or, one of the very beautiful plaids gingham shown this season would be charming with bands of the same cut blue or with bands of a plain color. Cotton materials are exceptionally attractive and even the simplest and least costly show excellent colors and excellent designs so that the only difficulty that really exists lies in the embarrassment of riches. Plaids and checks are shown in a wonderful variety of colors and designs and are particularly well adapted to children's use.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

THE PERFECT THROAT AND NECK

Many women think it incumbent upon them to paint and powder and make fair the skin of the face, powdering it to a ghastly whiteness, yet the skin of the neck and throat is left alone, and often a dark streak is allowed to appear above the V shaped opening or round neck. It seems a pity that such necks are seen, when the remedy is so near to find. Anyone who will, may have a well appearing throat, so long as her age is on the sunny side of fifty.

The too thin neck hints of ill health, but the proper exercise will round it out and make it symmetrical. These exercises consist of the slow and gentle rolling of the head upon the shoulders, first to the way around from right to left for several times and then reversing the motion. The bowing of the head far forward and then far back, then leaning to the right side and then to the left, these movements taken slowly and gently night after night, will develop the unused tissue which causes the neck to lack roundness.

After such exercises the flesh should be well scrubbed with hot water and soap, carefully and thoroughly massaged with cream for at least ten minutes, the cream removed and cool water applied to the glowing surface. The correct massage necessary to break down and remove fatty deposits around the throat is best given by an experienced masseuse who is familiar with anatomy. Care must be taken to keep muscles firm and not to reduce too rapidly. Hollows can be filled in by massage, brown necks can be bleached and sagging chins can be strengthened by massage and the double chin can be reduced. So there seems little excuse for the unsightly neck and throat.

DECORATOR C. F. YOUNG

HE HAS COMPLETED A BIG JOB IN CONCORD, N. H., FOR THE KNOWLTON STORES

Decorator Young of this city has been in Concord, N. H., doing a big job of decorating the Knowlton stores for anniversary week. He has several other big jobs on hand throughout New England but he has such a corps of experts in his employ that he can handle the largest undertaking of this kind. He is keeping fourth of July week open for Lowell orders first, and will show local patrons the best work ever done here. The Concord Patriot has the following regarding his efforts in that city:

C. F. Young & Co., of Lowell, were the official decorators for the anniversary, and they are receiving the greatest possible praise for the manner in which they embellished the various public buildings, as well as the private structures on which they were also employed.

LARGE GATHERING TO BE ADDRESSED BY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

What is expected to be the most successful gathering in the history of Hibernians in Lowell will be the meeting of this prominent organization in Hibernian hall on next Thursday evening. The committee in charge has prepared an interesting program for the occasion which will include addresses by men prominent in the affairs of the Federation of Catholic Societies in this state. Rev. Francis J. Mullin, chaplain, Mr. Charles Daley, president, Mr. Thomas Nolan, editor of the Somerville Enterprise, and Mr. J. J. Sheehan, president, Central Council, are among the speakers. The committee on arrangements includes John P. McCarthy, president Division 1; Daniel J. Reilly, Division 2; John J. McManis, Division 3; and John J. Kenny, secretary.

PAN AMERICAN SESSION

Sec. McAdoo Makes Important Recommendations for Continuance of Work

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary McAdoo, in a letter which was on its way today to each of the foreign delegates to the recent Pan-American financial conference, makes important recommendations looking to a continuance of the work begun by the conference.

Among Mr. McAdoo's suggestions are that the annual sessions of the conference be held in Washington and that a meeting of the international high commission on uniform legislation as proposed at the recent conference, be held in Buenos Aires on Nov. 1 next.

The secretary also makes detailed inquiries concerning the need for direct steamship lines between ports of the United States and South and Central American countries.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

A FLAG DAY STORY

Once upon a time someone thought that we should celebrate Flag Day on June 14th of each year. I think it was a very nice suggestion and I am sure you will all agree with me. So I am going to tell you something about our flag that perhaps some of you do not know. Of course you all know that the flag we use today is not like the one used years ago.

The first American flag was adopted by congress on June 14th, 1780. During the Revolutionary war there were a great many different kinds of flags, but at the close of the war the people wanted one flag for the whole nation. So three men were chosen to decide just what the national flag should be, and as they could not decide, they went to a lady named Betsy Ross, to ask her help. Of course they wanted the colors red, white and blue, but they could not agree as to the arrangement of the stars.

George Washington, so the story runs, showed a six-pointed star to Betsy Ross, but she, being used to cutting, seized a piece of cloth, folded it, and with one snip of her scissors made a five-pointed star which they all liked and it was used on the sample flag that she made for their approval. These stars she laid in order on a blue ground with the stripes of red, white and blue. For ten years after that Betsy Ross made all of the official flags used by the United States.

Of course you know each star represents a state and the thirteen stripes are for the original thirteen colonies. For some years there were fifteen stripes until congress changed back to thirteen and added a star for each state. The largest flag made by the government is thirty-six by nineteen feet and the smallest the same in inches. There is a special flag in honor of the president which is very handsome and expensive. It is made of heavy silk and beautifully embroidered with the coat-of-arms of the United States.

Through brotherhood and loyalty all victories are won, So hoist your flag today with much ado. And if you are patriotic and America's own son, You will sing: "Hurrah, to my flag, I will be true."

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. To all persons interested in the estate of John J. Spillane, late of Manchester in the County of Hillsborough, and State of New Hampshire deceased, or in the personal property hereinafter described, and to the Tax Commissioner for said Commonwealth: Whereas, Rosamund Spillane, appointed executrix of the will of said deceased, by the Probate Court for the County of Hillsborough in the State of New Hampshire, has presented to said Court her petition representing that as such executrix she is entitled to certain personal property situated in said Commonwealth, to-wit: Deposit in City Institution for Savings, in Lowell, in said County of Middlesex; and praying that she may be licensed to receive or sell by public or private sale on such terms and to such person or persons as she shall think fit—or otherwise to dispose of the same in such manner as she shall think fit—to transfer and convey such estate.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the fifteenth day of June, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, and by delivering a copy of said citation to the Tax Commissioner for said Commonwealth, at least seven days before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

Greatest Street Car Strike the United States Has Known—Steam Roads and Jitneys Busy

CHICAGO, June 14.—What is said to be the greatest street car strike the United States has known began here at 4 o'clock this morning. Fourteen thousand persons were thrown out of employment, 1310 miles of single elevated and surface track rendered idle and a burden thrown on steam roads, automobiles, vans and other vehicles which they were able to meet only in small part.

For four hours not a car moved. Then a South Side elevated train carrying a few passengers made a round trip as a test. As a result it was announced that an attempt would be made to run trains with strike-breakers and guards every 15 minutes. The surface lines made no attempt to work.

Policemen and private guards were stationed over all company property but no disorder was reported early.

Business was not paralyzed but it was hobbled. The tie-up in one way or another affected every branch of the city's activities.

Steam Roads Swamped

The steam railroads put on extra trains and extra coaches, but were swamped with business. Lines of persons waiting to get through the turnstiles stretched for blocks away from the stations and tens of thousands walked to their work.

The rupture over hours of service and wages came last night when Mayor Thompson admitted that his attempt at mediation was a failure.

At 4 o'clock the last car had been quietly retired and the struggle was on, with no sign of peace in sight. The men posed pickets, the employers advertised for strike-breakers, and W. B. Mahon, national president of the union leaders traveled secretly from Cincinnati. It was stated that no attempts would be made to run surface cars for several days.

Strikebreakers Arrive

A carload of strikebreakers was reported to have arrived yesterday from Cincinnati. It was stated that no attempts would be made to run surface cars for several days.

Demand Wage Increase

Orders to strike were issued after an all-day conference yesterday of union leaders transportation company officials and Mayor Thompson, in a vain attempt to bring about arbitration. Neither side would yield. The strikers had demanded a guarantee of a wage increase. Officials of the companies refused this demand. To meet it company officials said, would mean an increase of $1,400,000 annually. W. D. Mahon, international president of the Street Car men's union, attended the conferences.

No Attempt to Run Cars

Officials said that no attempt would be made to operate cars today. Approximately 3,000,000 fares are collected on the two electric systems daily. The surface lines collect 2,400,000 and the elevated 600,000. There are 3,123 cars operated daily by the surface lines and 1,518 on the elevated which operates 215 miles of track. The surface line operates 1,095 miles.

Hurried preparations were made over night by officials of steam roads to bring to work today the great army of clerks in stores, office workers and others in business in the downtown district. Hundreds of trains are added to the schedules.

"Jitneys" Do Big Business

Taxis did a rushing business and the "jitney" busses, which heretofore have failed to make much progress in the transportation problem, were loaded with passengers. Hundreds of big motor moving trucks were also pressed into service. Roller skates also were brought into use and thousands pedaled to their work on bicycles. Delivery of the United States mails puzzled the postoffice officials. Reorganization of the street car delivery system will have to be undertaken. It was announced, and in many of the suburban districts there will be but one delivery a day until another system is perfected.

It is understood that the dozen or more street cars carrying the mail from the main postoffice to the substations in various parts of the city would be operated as usual.

To Employ Strikebreakers

Mrs. Ella Flag Young, superintendent of public schools, asserted that attempts would be made to continue the schools without interruption, although the transportation of 7,600 teachers gave grave concern.

Arrangements to furnish 5000 strikebreakers to operate cars and guard property were put into operation today. Agents of the two electric lines had arranged, it was said, to provide food and sleeping quarters in several large hotels. Employment agencies did a record breaking business in procuring men for strike breaking duty.

Banquet halls, sample rooms and even the roofs of the large downtown hotels have been converted into sleeping quarters for nearly 15,000 persons who will be obliged to live near their places of business during the strike. The demand for cots to be placed in office buildings was exceedingly brisk. Thousands of persons have planned to sleep in their offices.

Postpone Ball Games

Managers of theatres within the business district announced that they would close unless the strike was speedily settled. Baseball at the National league park—the only Chicago club now on the home grounds—probably will be postponed after today's game.

The closing of some of the big summer parks in the outlying districts was regarded as certain.

WIDOWS SEEK DAMAGES AGAINST RAILROAD—HUSBANDS KILLED AT CROSSING

NEW YORK, June 14.—The first of two damage suits for sums aggregating $750,000 against the Long Island Railroad Co. came to trial in the supreme court in Long Island City today; the complainants being Mrs. William S. Laimbeer and Mrs. S. Osgood Pell, both of New York, whose husbands were killed in an automobile accident at a grade crossing near Long beach in August, 1913.

Mrs. Laimbeer, who was so severely injured in the crash that for a time her life was despaired of, is suing for $500,000, and Mrs. Pell for $250,000. Mrs. Pell's suit was called today. Among the witnesses who expected to be called was William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was riding in an automobile just behind the one occupied by Messrs. Laimbeer and Pell.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT WEST VIRGINIA SHOULD PAY $12,393,929

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The supreme court today decided the long standing Virginia-West Virginia debt case holding West Virginia should pay $12,393,929 as its net share of the Virginia debt at the time of the partition of the states.

SUFFERED ELECTRIC SHOCK

A man named Andrew Lafuer, who resides at 45 East Pine street, suffered an electric shock while at work in the main room of the Tremont & Suffolk mill about 10 o'clock this forenoon. It is understood that Lafuer was operating a mill when he came in contact with an electric machine. He was taken to the Lowell corporation hospital in the ambulance and later removed to his home.

RUSSIANS AND GERMANS CLAIM GAINS IN GALICIA

Petrograd Reports 20,000 Germans Killed—Berlin Announces Important Victory With the Capture of 16,000 Prisoners—Other War News

In northern Galicia, between Przemyśl and Lemberg, there has been a renewal of furious fighting, and, according to an official announcement from Berlin today, the Teutonic allies have gained an important victory. An attack along a 43 mile front is said to have resulted in capture of the Russian positions between Czerlawa, northwest of Mlodzieha, and Sienkawa, northward of the San. The announcement says 16,000 prisoners were taken yesterday.

A press despatch from Petrograd gives another version of what apparently was the same battle. It is said 20,000 men of the Austro-German attacking forces were killed, the remainder being routed.

Fighting in France

In northern France heavy fighting continues. The German war office today announced that the French had sustained a severe defeat near Arras. The French military authorities asserted that a German work had been captured near Loreto, but admitted the Germans had recaptured part of the entrenchments at Souchez, won the previous day.

German Sink British Ship

The British steamer Hopemount, of 3300 tons, was sunk off Land's End a German submarine. The crew was rescued.

Fierce Fighting in the Dardanelles

Heavy fighting has been resumed on Gallipoli peninsula between the French and British forces and the Turkish army which is defending the approach to Constantinople. The Turkish war office announced that attacks of the allied forces against the right wing of the Turks were repulsed and that the attackers were hewn back to their original positions with heavy losses.

Not for Months Past

Not for months past has there been such general activity on the eastern front. Checked at the center of the Galician line, the Austro-Germans have developed an offensive on both wings at the same time, and they are starting another battle in Poland to the north of Przmysl.

Italians Take Another Town

Occupation of the Carinthian town of Valentia by the Italians is announced officially at Rome. Along the Isonzo river a battle of large proportions has been in progress for several days. Although the Italians apparently have won some advantages, the Austrians have brought up reinforcements and are offering determined resistance.

British Steamer Sunk

The 3500-ton British steamer Arndale has been sunk in the White sea by a mine. A German submarine set fire to a Danish schooner, after placing her crew on another Danish sailing vessel which was permitted to proceed.

War Party Landing in Greece

The stand which the Russians have been making recently in Galicia indicates to British observers that their shortage of ammunition has been overcome. It was this shortage, according to the belief here, that enabled the Austro-Germans last month to sweep across the country and take Przmysl in such record time.

In Greece the followers of Former Premier Venizelos who resigned because Greece would not enter the war on the side of the allies, seemed to have had the upper hand, judging from the early returns of the general elections held in that kingdom. In endorsement of the policies of M. Venizelos may have a bearing on Greece's future course of action.

Conference in Boston

Commissioners Carmichael, Duncan, Morse and Putnam went to Boston today to meet Prof. Moore, construction engineer and engineer of bridges for the public service commission. They will discuss the proposed abolition of the grade crossing in Middlesex street. The hearing was held before the special commission on grade crossings and Mr. Hennessy hopes that before very long some action will be taken to put toward the abolition of the crossing.

Grade Crossing Hearing

City Solicitor Hennessy, his assistant, Capt. Eugene McNamee, and City Engineer Kearney, went to Boston today to attend a hearing on the proposed abolition of the grade crossing in Middlesex street. The hearing was held before the special commission on grade crossings and Mr. Hennessy hopes that before very long some action will be taken to put toward the abolition of the crossing.

GOW CO. MAY BUILD PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

Company Engaged in Construction of Filtration Plant Wants Opportunity to Bid

It was stated this morning that the Charles R. Gow company wants to bid on the proposed concrete bridge at Pawtucket falls. It was also stated that there were two members of the municipal council who would favor the construction of the bridge by this company in the event of the estimate being less than that of Engineer Donahue, who, up to Saturday, seemed to have the contract clinched. The Gow Co. is building the filtration plant at the boulevard.

Mr. Denman told the municipal council that he didn't want competition and that he would not enter into it for the reason that there is no one to compete with him. He spoke of the Luten plaintiffs, 47 in all, that make for efficiency and economy and that contractors who could not use the Luten methods could not compete. Another reason, he said, why he did not want to enter into competition is because of the great value of time at this particular season of the year. One day now, he said, would be worth four or five in the fall months.

Company Engaged in Construction of Filtration Plant Wants Opportunity to Bid

It was stated this morning that the Charles R. Gow company wants to bid on the proposed concrete bridge at Pawtucket falls. It was also stated that there were two members of the municipal council who would favor the construction of the bridge by this company in the event of the estimate being less than that of Engineer Donahue, who, up to Saturday, seemed to have the contract clinched. The Gow Co. is building the filtration plant at the boulevard.

Mr. Denman told the municipal council that he didn't want competition and that he would not enter into it for the reason that there is no one to compete with him. He spoke of the Luten plaintiffs, 47 in all, that make for efficiency and economy and that contractors who could not use the Luten methods could not compete. Another reason, he said, why he did not want to enter into competition is because of the great value of time at this particular season of the year. One day now, he said, would be worth four or five in the fall months.

Conference in Boston

Commissioners Carmichael, Duncan, Morse and Putnam went to Boston today to meet Prof. Moore, construction engineer and engineer of bridges for the public service commission. They will discuss the proposed abolition of the grade crossing in Middlesex street. The hearing was held before the special commission on grade crossings and Mr. Hennessy hopes that before very long some action will be taken to put toward the abolition of the crossing.

Grade Crossing Hearing

City Solicitor Hennessy, his assistant, Capt. Eugene McNamee, and City Engineer Kearney, went to Boston today to attend a hearing on the proposed abolition of the grade crossing in Middlesex street. PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Children's Day Was Observed by Elaborate Programs and Floral Displays

Yesterday was Children's Sunday and appropriate exercises were held in all of the Protestant churches. The floral decorations were very pretty and in many cases the programs were quite elaborate. In some of the churches the exercises took the place of the morning services, while in other churches the exercises were held in the evening. Record attendances was the order of the day.

First Baptist Church

At the First Baptist church the exercises took the place of the morning service and there was a fine program. The general subject being "Sunshine and Smiles." The decorations were in perfect harmony with the occasion and at the end of the program growing geraniums were presented to 150 children. The program was arranged by Mrs. L. T. Trull, Mrs. Edward W. Trull and Mrs. James P. Fleming, superintendents. The decorations were by Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. William Myers, Miss Alice Fleming and Mrs. Simmons. The program was as follows:

Song by the school and congregation, "Are You Serving Jesus?" Psalm C, Psalm I, entire school; prayer, "Heart of Prayer," Eleanor Wagner; song, "Two Little Hands," kindergarten; recitation, "Alberta Colby"; recitation, "Anna Denio"; recitation, "Theresa and Thelma"; song, "Elizabeth Fleming, Warren Reineke, Jr."; recitation, "Pearl Fowler, Dorothy Melles, Lillian Lord, Jessie Walker"; song, "Queen June," primary department; recitation, "Paul Merritt"; recitation, "The Way to Sunshine Town," Harry Buzzell; recitation, "Love One Another," Myrtle Walker, Hamilton O'Brien; "The Daisy Polka," Eleanor Trull and Audrey Parks, Jessie Conant, Viola Jones, Bernice Moulton, Ruth Walker; "A Boy's Thoughts," Russell Coleman; recitation, "God Wants Them," Harry Mullen, Lillian Prescott; "What God Does for Boys," Eleanor Wagner; song, "Tell Us," primary department; "Sunday School Family," Norman Olsen; recitation, "Ruth Gardner"; "Children Are Like Sunshine," Lester Mulino; exercise, "Elizabeth Howard, Mildred Biers, Elizabeth Loraner, Leah Noel, Blanche Thompson, Florence Crossley"; "Give a Smile," Walter Myers; "Four Little Rosebuds," Myrtle Dyer, Elizabeth Fleming, Dorothy; song, "Pansies," primary department; recitation, "The Flower Garden," Glenna Walker; recitation, "Frederick Shackleton"; exercise, "Queen Awaik, Alfred Hoyen, Theodore Moulton, Austin Shackleton"; recitation, "Helen Olsen"; recitation, "Gladye Shaffer"; "The Mission of Flowers," Mildred Jordan, Blanche Moulton, Ruth Patenaude, Rhoda Wilkinson, Walter, Elizabeth Howard, Mildred Biers, Dorothy Adams, Arpenia Manuella, Ethel O'Brien, Mary Hoyen, Grace L. Moore, Mabelle Reardon; collection by young women; song, "The World is Full of Sweetness"; distribution of plants to kindergarten and primary departments.

Highland Congregational Church

Children's day exercises were held in the Highland Congregational church Sunday morning. The pulpit platform and choir loft were decorated with flowers and potted plants and potted geraniums were distributed to the children at the close of the exercises which were in charge of Maurice L. Duncan, Sunday school superintendent. The program by the children was well given and was enjoyed by a congregation that taxed the seating capacity of the church.

Centralville M. E. Church

A large congregation enjoyed Children's day exercises at the Centralville M. E. church. The platform was prettily decorated with the potted plants and put flowers. The program, by the pupils of the Sunday school, was as follows: Processional, "Pestal March, Clarke; song, school; responsive reading, school; prayer, Rev. L. P. Causey; baptism; greeting, Florence Price; recitation, "A Child in the Midst," Marion Birchall; recitation, "Happy June, Nettie Williamson; solo, Gladys Peacock; recitation, "A Child's Day Thought," David Birchall; recitation, "The Lord in His Garden," Miss Simonne Chapdelaine; recitation, "A Child's Hope," Ralph Laprise; song, "Summer Sun Are Glowing," school; recitation, Nellie Hicks; exercise, "Like Jesus," James Hicks; Paul Lane and Floyd Lane; recitation, "Service," Miss Lydia Birchall; solo, Ellen Laprise; recitation, Chester Wood; recitation, Dorothy Estes; exercise, "Nature's Anthem," Marion Birchall; Ellen Laprise; Esther Price; Clara Price; the Hicks and Margaret Hicks; recitation, "Out from Jerusalem," Joseph Schofield; exercise, "Nature's Anthem," Allen Laprise and Helen Bruce; remarks, pastor; distribution of plants; awarding of cradle roll diplomas; closing song; benediction; postlude.

St. Paul's Church

There were few vacant seats at Paw-luckett church when the Children's day exercises were held Sunday morning. "Children at Home" was the keynote of the program which was directed by Leonard Ryan. Miss Eleanor Lelachneur had charge of the primary department, and Mrs. Thomas Varnum of the kindergarten. At the close of the service the plants were distributed to the children. There were seven little ones baptized in the early part of the service.

First Universalist Church

The children of the Sunday school of the First Universalist church presented their annual Children's day program Sunday morning and the attendance was said to be the largest in 20 years. The church was beautifully decorated and the exercises were very pleasing. The pastor, Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D. D., baptized nine babies and three new members were admitted, making ten who have joined since Easter Sunday. Dr. A. S. MacLeod, the Sunday school superintendent, had charge of the exercises.

Central Methodist Church

A very pleasing program of recitations and songs constituted the Children's day exercises at the Central M. E. church at 10.30 a. m. The program was as follows:

Processional—Festal March.....Clark Song—School Respon—Like Jesus—School Prayer—Rev. L. P. NEARLY KILLED

Thinking He Was Burglar Stanton Shot Son-in-law

WENHAM, June 14.—Thinking that burglars were entering his home at 12.30 yesterday morning, Arthur C. Stanton, aged 50, of Friend street, nearly killed his son-in-law, Fred Underhill, aged 25, who had been missing since Thursday.

Underhill returned home early Sunday morning and was not able to awaken anybody in the house. Accordingly he placed a ladder near a chamber window at the rear. The noise frightened Mr. Stanton, who opened the window and discharged his rifle. The shot passed through the clothing of his son-in-law, making a slight wound on his left shoulder. Underhill hurried down the ladder and ran into Main street, crying that he was shot. His cries were heard by the neighbors, but by the time they got dressed he had disappeared again. When Chief of Police Fred Knowlton arrived Mr. Stanton was near the Bay State car barn on Main street with the rifle in hand. He was much excited and told the chief what had happened. Chief Knowlton took the rifle and sent Stanton home. After Underhill left home Thursday morning a search was instituted, as letters had been received by Wenham parties saying that Underhill was about to end his life and that his body would be found on Burley street. Danvers near the Bailey farm. The Bailey farm was searched, but no trace of Underhill was found. Yesterday morning the police, with William Thomas, night man at the Bay State railroad car barn, started for Danvers in an automobile to find Underhill and met him near the Danvers line. He told the police he was on his way to the Burley farm and they brought him back to Wenham. Later in a swamp not far from the farm they found a coat and revolver belonging to Underhill. Underhill said he was on his way to Burley street to end his life when he was caught by the police. A few months ago Underhill bought out a laundry business in Beverly which was formerly owned by the late Robert Whipple, and as near as could be learned it did not turn out successfully. Other stories are that Mr. Stanton and Mr. Underhill have never been on the best of terms, as Mr. Stanton objected to the marriage of his daughter to him and it was alleged that the couple were married unknown to the father. Mr. Stanton will have nothing to say in regard to the affair. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Underhill was taken to the Danvers Insane hospital for treatment. Mr. Underhill was born in the town, and is well known here. He has a wife and one child.

MISS BARRYMORE'S TALENT HAS BEEN SO widely recognized, and her admirers have been so numerous, that a large part of her time has been spent in the larger centres. Now, however, through the enterprise of the management of the B. F. Keith theatre, Miss Barrymore will show her wonderful gifts to the theatre-going public of the city. She will appear in "The Nightingale," a five-act play, written by the team of American playwrights, Augustus Thomas.

The leading character of the piece, that of "Isola," a street singer, who later becomes a great singer, allows Miss Barrymore wide latitude for the display of her talents. When Miss Barrymore was asked to make her debut into the moving picture world, she was asked to make her debut in a play, and she has not yet decided, as it was not alone a matter for her to decide, as her manager, the late Charles Frohman, in renewing her contract for last season, stipulated that she could appear under no other management than his without his written consent, and never to appear in a theatre where there was not a two-dollar admission charge.

Children's day exercises were held both morning and evening at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday. The evening service was preceded by the ordinance of baptism and there was a large congregation present. The pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Ditts, took for his morning sermon to the children, "Some Important Little Things." The importance of little things was emphasized by reference to the work of bees in securing honey, the rainbow that makes the river and the journey at one step at a time. The pastor told how the Sunday school was founded in 1780, with only a few children and that now there are 30,000,000 in the schools throughout the world. The decorations included the American flag, potted plants and cut flowers. Potted geraniums were given to the members of the primary department at the evening service.

Calvary Baptist Church

Children's day exercises were held both morning and evening at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday. The evening service was preceded by the ordinance of baptism and there was a large congregation present. The pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Ditts, took for his morning sermon to the children, "Some Important Little Things." The importance of little things was emphasized by reference to the work of bees in securing honey, the rainbow that makes the river and the journey at one step at a time. The pastor told how the Sunday school was founded in 1780, with only a few children and that now there are 30,000,000 in the schools throughout the world. The decorations included the American flag, potted plants and cut flowers. Potted geraniums were given to the members of the primary department at the evening service.

PLEA FOR PROHIBITION

Lecture by Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton of Cambridge at Anne Street Saturday Evening

An open air anti-saloon rally was held at the corner of Anne and Merrimack streets Saturday evening with a very large crowd of men and women in attendance. The rally was presided over by Mr. Thomas Elliot of this city, while the speakers were Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton of Cambridge, inventors of the "dry auto," which is owned by the Unitarians, and which is about to be sent through the state in a national prohibition campaign.

A feature of the evening was the many slides thrown upon the screen, showing important statistics concerning the evils of liquor, and anti-alcohol statements from distinguished authorities. Mrs. Tilton, who is a fluent speaker, was the first speaker and her address was in part as follows:

"I believe the great remedy for the drink evil is education; but I do not believe education can ever make proper headway while it must contend with the traffic, organized, rich, whose business duty it is, not to help education, but to hinder it in making liquor accessible. Because I am for education, I have come to be for national prohibition and civic clubs in place of the saloon.

The result of making liquor less accessible is usually favorable when studied. It lessens the evil. Take Russia, for example. A man who recently returned from the mines of Russia, tells us that though he has only half the number of employees that he had before the war, yet his output is 30 per cent. more than before the war, when he had all hands at work. He lays it entirely to the fact that the vodka shops are closed.

Dr. A. L. Mendelson, speaking recently in Petrograd, before the Russian society for National Health, said: 'There is not the smallest doubt but that compulsory temperance has been a benefit.' He cited decline in insanity and alcoholism in the hospitals of Petrograd and gave the following statistics: Suffered in Petrograd, July to December, 1913-17, July to December, 1914, (after prohibition), 14. But the most amazing thing is the rise in savings bank deposits. For every dollar deposited in the Russian savings banks in the eight months preceding prohibition, $40 were deposited in the eight months following. Incredible as it sounds, this means an increase of 4000 per cent. in savings.

My father-in-law, who is a banker, says: 'Whatever national prohibition means, it does not mean a financial panic. Anything that increases savings 4000 per cent. means prosperity, means for jobs for labor, for not only is the money formerly wasted on liquor saved, but it has to seek investment and in so doing makes new jobs. National prohibition is a job maker.'

street to the common. Here the immense throng made it necessary for the police to clear the way for the parade.

The program included speaking which was given under extreme difficulties, owing to the immense throng, the innumerable children, and the fact that the affair was in the open. As the children forming the flag became quite restive as the exercises proceeded they were dismissed before the close in order that the speakers might be heard.

The parade was marshaled by Commander Alexander D. Mitchell of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, Spanish War Veterans, and was led by a band of 40 volunteer musicians, under the leadership of John J. Giblin of the Lowell Cadet band. The line included the four Adelbert Ames command, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Boy Scouts, Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Veterans, Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary of the S. W. V., the school children and citizens. The municipal council was represented by Mayor Murphy and Commissioners Duncan and Carmichael.

Exercises on Common

It was shortly after 4 o'clock when the exercises on the common got under way. They were opened with the playing of "America" by the band, after which Mayor Murphy called to order and explained the purposes of the gathering. His Honor also referred to the lessons to be drawn from the flag.

Hon. J. B. Lewis

Rev. Nathan W. Matthews then offered prayer, after which Hon. J. B. Lewis, national president of the National Association of Patriotic Instructors, was introduced. Mr. Lewis spoke eloquently on the significance of the flag and the growth and greatness of the country as the result of strict adherence to the cardinal principles represented by it. The flag has never been defeated, because it had led men in those things which have been for the welfare of all mankind. Benjamin Franklin, one of the greatest diplomats of his time, predicted a great future for the then budding nation if it heeded the call of humanity and followed that call through thick and thin. Because it has sought to follow such a course we stand today as the nation which may, within the future, be the arbiter of the world's destinies.

James O'Sullivan

The band then played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" after which James O'Sullivan was introduced. Mr. O'Sullivan spoke in part as follows:

"It is fitting that all classes and creeds should be here today and render devotion to this glorious flag. It is fitting, because, in 1861 all classes and creeds rose as one to perpetuate the union. Much precious blood was lost in that struggle, but it was worth while. I am convinced of that. It furthered the causes of humanity, it made of this country one indissoluble nation, it laid the foundation for the greatest nation in the history of the world. Opportunity is given to men of all kinds to come here to live and to enjoy life and, by chance, the turn of world events should bring us into this struggle, then the glorious old flag would be followed as stalwartly as it was in the Civil war, or in the Spanish-American war."

Judge Hadley's Poem

Hon. Samuel P. Hadley received an ovation as he was introduced. He spoke briefly and concluded with an original poem, as follows:

OUR COUNTRY

God bless our country grand and free, Whose broad domain from sea to sea, Won by the toil of noble sires, Lighted by Freedom's quenchless fires, Bears neither monarch's throne nor slave, But homes of freemen, strong and brave.

God bless our country grand and free, When, by the stormy wintry sea, The homeless pilgrim bowed in prayer, And sought the God of Nations there, Heaven answering wrote with mighty pen, His latest covenant with men.

God bless our country grand and free, The loyal sons have shed for thee, Their loving hearts again will bleed, To shield thee in thy hour of need; Safe in their breasts thy honor lies, The band that seeks to wound it dies.

God bless our country grand and free, The heavy-laden turn to thee, The gleaming of thy altar-fires, A home, a courage, new inspire— And, written on the glowing west, Are welcomes to home and rest.

God of our fathers! here to Thee, We lift the heart, we bend the knee, Thy name adore, Thy presence own, May Truth and Justice from Thy throne Abide with us and save us free, From north to south, from sea to sea.

Gen. George B. Loring of New York, department president of the Grand Army of that state explained the wonderful meaning of the flag and its glorious record.

Rev. Fr. Degnan

Rev. John A. Degnan, pastor of St. Columba's church, was the closing speaker. Fr. Degnan spoke in part, as follows:

Fr. Degnan, in eloquent words, referred to the flag and its high meaning, its stand for justice and right, and yet, he said, it cannot be said to represent a nation which would concede a peace that would humiliate or dishonor the country. If a country is to remain strong it must emphasize the moral and spiritual side for otherwise the nation decays. Unless men are moral, unless they are Christian in their acts toward each other, they are weakened. The great nation, the greatest nation, he said, is the moral nation, which, because of its morality, is strong in the right, strong in the things pertaining to the mind, strong in the service of God and strong in its physique. In his conclusion he asked that God save America, and that His spirit abide with us forever.

Exercises Concluded

The exercises concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the band. All stood, the men uncovered, the militia saluted and the great crowd sang the anthem in a mighty and impressive chorus. As the crowd dispersed the band played a medley of patriotic airs.

IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

FEAST OF SACRED HEART AND ST. ANTHONY OBSERVED YESTERDAY

The solemnity of the feast of the Sacred Heart was observed yesterday at the Sacred Heart church with special and impressive services in the evening at 6:30 o'clock, while in the morning the "Perry Hours" devotion was celebrated with solemn services. Solemn high mass was sung at 11 o'clock, with the usual procession of the Blessed Sacrament through the church and solemn benediction.

The celebration of the mass was by Rev. Thomas F. O'Brien, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury curia, assisted by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James J. Gallagher, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. No sermon was delivered. Those participating in the procession were the officiating clergy, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir. The registered church choir, directed by John J. Kelly, sang Council's St. Cecilia's mass, Jesu Dei Vin, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Philip Mooney and Messrs. John McMahon and George Kirwin.

At 8:30 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Rev. T. Wood, O. M. I., the children who recently received their first communion again approached the altar rail. They were addressed by the pastor.

In the evening the services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, litany of the Sacred Heart, sermon by Rev. J. J. Gallagher, O. M. I., renewal of the act of consecration to the Sacred Heart, procession and solemn benediction. A special musical program of rare excellence was given, a feature of which was the Ave Maria duet by Miss Katherine Jennings and George Kirwin.

Those who participated in the procession were the first communicants, boys and girls of the Infant Jesus sodality, girls of the Holy Angels sodality, altar boys, sanctuary choir and officiating clergy. Solemn benediction was given by Rev. James O'Brien, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as deacon, and Rev. James J. Gallagher, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., had general supervision.

St. Peter's Church

In honor of the feast of St. Anthony special services were held at St. Peter's church yesterday morning. At 11 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. P. L. Clayton, and he was assisted by Rev. Geo. Mullin as deacon and Rev. D. J. Hefferman as sub-deacon.

The members of the local Italian society marched to the church in a body, headed by the Umberto club band of Lawrence, and occupied seats in the centre aisle. The pastor, Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph. D., read the weekly announcements and after extending a welcome to the society members present, delivered a short panegyric on St. Anthony. The sermon, on the Gospel of the day, was delivered by Rev. Conrad Quirbach, the Lowell boy who was recently ordained to the priesthood. A large congregation was in attendance. At the conclusion of the services the members of the Italian society passed through the principal streets of the city. Rev. Fr. Keleher occupied a seat in one of the carriages.

The triumph, which was held at St. Peter's church on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, was largely attended. It was brought to a close on Friday night with a holy hour service.

Evening devotions in honor of the Sacred Heart will be held during the current month at St. Peter's.

St. Margaret's Church

At the Highland church yesterday it was announced that, beginning next Sunday and continuing through the summer, the high mass will be discontinued and a low mass at 10:45 substituted. Rev. Fr. Riordan in connection with the announcement spoke on the obligations of Catholics to their religion during the vacation period. He encouraged the custom of seeking rest and recreation away from home but advised his congregation not to permit their vacation plans to interfere with their religious obligations and to seek no place that is out of reach of a church.

At the 5 o'clock mass the children who were confirmed this morning received communion as did the members of the Ladies' sodality.

It was announced that Hon. John F. Fitzgerald of Boston has accepted an invitation to attend the annual lawn party of the parish to be held at the Casino on June 24, and to make an address.

Immaculate Conception

The 10 o'clock mass at the church of the Immaculate Conception yesterday was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I. It was announced at all the masses that the graduation exercises of the parochial schools will be held at the Opera House, next Sunday evening, and it is expected that the theatre will be crowded to capacity by the parents of the children and parishioners generally. The Immaculate Conception school has once again made a creditable showing, having secured 39 diplomas and diplomas. It was also announced that a large and important meeting will be held in Hibernian hall next Thursday evening with addresses by men prominent in the affairs of the Federation of Catholic societies.

JITNEY DRIVER KILLED

HERBERT J. MORRISON, ALIAS COOK, PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE.

PAWTUCKET, R. I. June 14.—Herbert J. Morrison, alias Cook, pleaded not guilty in the district court today to the charge of killing Leslie C. Hopkins, a Providence motor bus driver, by shooting him yesterday. Special Officer Bassette who resides near the scene of the murder heard the shots fired which killed Hopkins. He also saw and spoke to a man who was standing near with a revolver in his hand and placed him under arrest, but his prisoner succeeded in breaking away. Later in the day a man who answered the description of the fugitive was arrested on a minor charge in Central Falls and was identified by Officer Bassette as the man who broke away from him. He was taken into custody by the Pawtucket police and gave the name of Herbert J. Morrison of Boston, but later changed this to Herbert J. Cook of Lonsdale.

"POCKET-VETOED"

Measures Abolishing Practice of Vivisection Among 226 Bills Not Signed By Gov. Johnson

SACRAMENTO, Cal. June 14.—Measures abolishing the practice of vivisection in California and limiting to 12 per cent a year interest rates on money, were among the 226 of a total of 997 bills passed by the recent legislature which Gov. Johnson "pocket-vetoed" by failing to sign when the time limit for converting the bills into laws, expired today.

FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

A large and interested gathering listened to an address on "Equal Suffrage" which was delivered Saturday evening at the corner of John and Merrimack streets by Mrs. Teresa A. Crowley of the State Woman Suffrage association.

The speaker spoke from an automobile well labeled with remnants bearing the inscription "Votes for Women," and was introduced by William N. Osgood, Esq. The woman spoke for nearly one hour, arguing the men to cast their votes in favor of equal suffrage. She answered certain arguments which have been advanced in opposition to the movement and she quoted such authorities as Abraham Lincoln and Julia Ward Howe as having been in favor of equal suffrage.

THE VERY BEST DENTIST IN LOWELL

There is no question in my mind but what I am the best dentist in the city for you to come to for dental services, for the following reasons: 1st—Because I do beautiful work, lasting and guarantee it for 10 years. And any methods are absolutely painless.

2nd—My office is clean and sanitary and the sterilization of instruments is a most important feature. My prices are low, in fact lower than in any other office in Lowell.

DON'T GO ELSEWHERE AND BE SORRY

Every day I hear someone say: "Oh, why didn't I not come to you first. How much better your work looks, and you did not hurt me one single bit."

Fillings of gold, silver and porcelain are inserted painlessly, and when once in they stay in. I make teeth that look and act like your very own. No more of those old, false looking sets, which the ordinary dentist makes, are made at my office.

JUDGE GRAY WITH WILSON

Member of International Permanent Court of Arbitration Addresses New Jersey Bar Asso.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 14.—Judge Gray of Wilmington, Del., former United States senator and a member of the international permanent court of arbitration under the Hague conference, addressing the New Jersey Bar association in convention today, asserted that the time had come "as never before in our eventful history" for America to assert the vital character and binding force of the obligation which international law has placed upon belligerent nations.

The destruction of unarmed merchant ships without regard to the lives or safety of non-combatant passengers and crew was characterized by Judge Gray as "revolting to the common sense of humanity," as to be "presumably unthinkable in the minds of those who framed this convention" (at The Hague).

Of President Wilson's notes to Germany, Judge Gray had this to say: "It is with a deep regret and with the opinion of mankind that our president has, with dignity, clearness, and force, declared the obligations of this law."

AN ONERY HORSE FISH PLANTING

Animal in Thorndike Hungry Perch Devour Street Was Hard to Start New Comers at Lake Mascuppic

"Put a hitch in his tail." "Put a stick under his tongue." "Cut a few hairs from his tail and tie them about him." These and a hundred other suggestions were offered the driver of a balky horse in Thorndike street.

The horse balked on the Thorndike street end of the bridge connecting Thorndike and Fletcher streets. The driver, a foreigner, was at his wit's end and he found little consolation in the avalanche of suggestions that came pouring down upon him, for it seems that he had tried several of them.

John W. Kernan, superintendent of the Thorndike and Fletcher streets, as assistant treasurer for C. H. Hanson & Co., were among the spectators. "Cummings," said Kernan, "you ought to be able to help that poor fellow out. I have understood that what you don't know about a horse isn't worth knowing."

Mr. Cummings smiled his appreciation of his friend's kind words, and said, in the way that only a real horseman could say it: "Just wait till they get all through and I'll show them how to start a balky horse."

While Messrs. Kernan and Cummings waited, a man stepped over from the opposite side of the street and, taking a piece of rope from the wagon to which the onery steed was attached, proceeded to double, and tie in that position, the horse's right ear.

"What's that for?" queried Mr. Kernan.

"He doesn't want to have the horse hear what is being said about him," suggested an onlooker.

"Better give the driver something to stop him thinking or he'll go mad," said another, and Mr. Kernan then appealed to his friend Cummings for real information.

"That is one of the old time tricks to start a balky horse," said Mr. Cummings, but it doesn't amount to much. That will never start him. I've seen."

Mr. Cummings didn't finish. The man had finished with the horse's ear, clucked to him to go along and away went the erstwhile balky horse at a pace that would make an ambulance horse look like a hitching post.

SPEED UP BALL GAMES

PRES. FULTZ SAYS SPECTATORS DESIRE QUICK ACTION AND RESULTS

NEW YORK, June 14.—In an endeavor to speed up baseball games in the big leagues, President David L. Fultz of the Players' fraternity, today addressed a letter to the directors of the fraternity asking the co-operation of all members to this end. Fultz, as the fraternity executive, points out that spectators desire quick action and results in present day baseball, and that in view of the financial conditions, as well as waning enthusiasm, it is up to the players to make the game as attractive as possible. The letter is as follows:

"There has been a good deal of complaint this season regarding the length of time it is taking to play big league games, many of them consuming approximately two hours and some a great deal more. A number of players have expressed their desire to co-operate with the rest in an endeavor to lessen the playing time as much as possible.

"Various reasons for the delay and various remedies have been advanced by the teams with which the matter has been taken up. The consensus of opinion seems to be that by observing the following points, the players could materially shorten the time consumed: First, by hurrying to and from positions; second, by avoiding unnecessary arguments with umpires; and third, by pitches consuming as little time as possible in preparing for their delivery.

"It has also been suggested that the trouble could be helped by a uniform rule requiring the umpire to throw in another ball when a foul goes any distance from the field of play, but this, of course, is not within our jurisdiction.

"This is a bad year, financially, for baseball; the fans are not as enthusiastic as they have been in the years gone by; it is unquestionably up to the players to make the game as attractive to the public as possible and we all know a long drawn out game especially when the result is determined in the early innings, loses much of its attractiveness.

"It is to the players' own interests to help eradicate this growing evil. The teams individually and as a whole could accomplish a great deal by observing the points mentioned and by each player using his influence with his fellow players with the same end in view."

Baltimor, N. J., June 14.—With the beginning of play in the open golf championship matches here there was the greatest interest and speculation as to the winners. Several amateurs have entered. The winning amateurs will be given suitable trophies in plate. The scheduled dates for play are June 15, 16, 17 and 18. Several stars of the links who are entered in the tournament are shown in the accompanying illustration.

THEIR SIXTH CHILD

SON BORN TO MR. AND MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., FIFTH BOY

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 14.—A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., their sixth child and fifth boy. Both mother and baby are doing well.

The expected arrival of the child is understood to be the reason why Mr. Rockefeller postponed his contemplated trip to Colorado.

COMMUNICATION

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir—A short while ago a representative body of citizens appeared before the commissioners and presented to the city government, "facts and figures" in regard to a matter of vital importance to the citizens in general, in particular of close interest to these men, because what they spoke of had a most direct application to them and the people that they particularly represented.

The subject that they brought forward was the fact that for years back our waterways have been claiming victims by drowning of something like 10 or 12 a year on an average.

Now, surely this is a crying wrong and everything within reason should be done to remedy it. Surely all right-thinking men agree to this, and are heartily in sympathy with the Trades and Labor unions to secure such needed protection.

One of the means proposed was the buying of a pulmotor to be used to help a person who is supposed to be drowned. I read in the papers that the mayor proposes to have a pulmotor for both police and fire departments, and for that reason I venture to write this communication, thinking it might be of interest.

I wish to say a few words in regard to the real worth of the pulmotor for such a purpose. Some time ago a call came to the police department for a pulmotor at a certain place for a drowning accident. The police responded at once but when they reached the scene of the accident the ambulance had already removed the man who was in a dangerous condition and had gone to the police station to get the pulmotor. The police at once returned to the station and the pulmotor was placed in the ambulance and rushed to St. John's hospital. Funny? Well, that is as you look at it. As good luck would have it the man recovered, but suppose he had not? We would see nothing funny and we would feel like using some pretty strong language and with most of us it would be directed against the police department. Why? They had done all they could; that the pulmotor was in their department and the ambulance in another is no blame of the police. That the pulmotor was carried by a high powered automobile while the ambulance was drawn by a horse and not expected to rival in speed the auto is no fault of the police.

This remark can be made with the same force, about the fireman, and if those departments are to be charged with the pulmotor and its use it is well to have some understanding of its real value.

Is the pulmotor of very great value? Is it possible to produce serious harm with it? The old and tried and well known means of restoring the party drowned, so well known that every police officer and many of us citizens have at least some idea of what to do in such cases, is so easy of putting into effect that here a short while ago one of the Boy Scouts, with the assistance of some other boys, restored one of their companions who came near losing his life by drowning.

The pulmotor is a sort of pump and it is possible to cause serious injury with its use. Then have someone who knows how to use it to call on. When a drowning accident happens a call for help goes in; the police department is at one place, the fire department at an-

MISSING GIRL RETURNS

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD MARGARET MULVEY FOUND WANDERING IN DAZE AT ATTLEBORO

ATTLEBORO, June 14.—Fifteen-year-old Margaret Mulvey, who was found wandering in a dazed condition in Plainville by Fritz Wagner of 30 Circular street, was taken to her home, 71 Brookline street, Boston, by her mother yesterday.

The girl, who claims to be a student in the Brookline High school, had been missing from her home since Friday morning, and declared that she could remember nothing of what took place during the interval.

Saturday morning Mr. Wagner met Miss Mulvey on the road to Plainville.

other, the pulmotor is left, and the pulmotor expert (for someone should have some knowledge of this instrument). Who is he?

But I will quote from the Journal of the American Medical Association of the whole United States as follows:

"The pulmotor has been investigated by a committee appointed by the council of the American Medical Association at the request of the bureau of mines of the department of the interior and was not approved."

The above shows that those whose duty it is should settle the worth of this instrument for its intended use, before another is bought, and perhaps they would not approve of doing so and perhaps on full consideration they would disapprove of the present one.

Yours truly, Frank Ricard.

EXCISE BOARD GIVES ITS REASONS FOR REFUSING LIQUOR LICENSES TO SEVEN CLUBS

BOSTON, June 14.—Seven clubs which had applied for liquor licenses have been refused them by the excise board, which has issued a statement explaining fully its position in the matter.

The clubs are the Monarch, Washington street, South End; Pilgrim A. A., 335 Massachusetts avenue, South End; Massachusetts avenue, Stanish, Back Bay; Town, Roxbury; Traders', market district; Unity (colored), South End. The board's statement says:

"The licensing board, after careful and prolonged consideration, has decided to reject all of the applications for club licenses, seven in number, which have recently been made.

"There seems to be no adequate reason for granting any of these without granting all. This the board is not prepared to do. For the present there would seem to be a sufficient number of license clubs in the city and these apparently are of sufficient variety in membership and aim to provide for all ordinary legitimate demand.

"The board holds that the club license is an especial privilege, to be very sparingly allowed. In the case of a substantial organization, having a large and responsible membership, meeting varied and unmistakable needs of its members and their guests, among which the demand for liquor is a prime incident, there is of course adequate justification for the issuance of a club license.

"As to smaller groups, scattered here and there throughout the city, which have not demonstrated and cannot make clear a sound and sufficient basis for their existence as clubs apart from the privilege of dispensing liquor, it is not the policy of the board to grant licenses.

"The judgment of the board in this matter is reinforced not only by the convictions held by a large and representative body of citizens with regard to the dangers inherent in the club license, but by the complaints of the retail liquor trade as to the unfairness of the competition into which they are thrown by club licenses, which involve far less expense than ordinary liquor licenses, are exercised at all hours every day in the year, and are under none of the restraints and risks that go with police surveillance and general publicity."

LOWELL BROKE, EVEN WITH LYNN

First Double Header of
Season Ends With
Honors EasyInitial Game Won 3-2—
Second Contest Lost
5-4 in Last Inning

(Special to The Sun)

LYNN, June 12.—Lynn and Lowell staged the first double header of the season Saturday afternoon at Ocean Park and after more than four hours of all sorts of ball playing with honors even. Lowell won the first game, 3-2, all three runs scored by the Spindle City aggregation being practically gifts by Lynn while the second game resulted in a win for the Ocean Parklets, 5-4, after eight innings of play.

More than 2200 fans took advantage of the bargain bill and left the park perfectly satisfied with the games of the afternoon. The second game was tame until the seventh inning which was agreed upon by Barrows and Lynch to be the limit of the second encounter, but an extra inning was necessary as Lynn tied up the score in that chapter.

Lynn was two runs behind when the seventh inning started and many fans left the grounds when pinch hitters, Porter and Williams, were easy outs. But Gleason and Lynch singled and then pulled off a double steal. Porter, the next hitter, after fouling a couple of balls, hit a drive to center, scoring Gleason and Lynch and tying the game. In the eighth inning Hoy singled as an opener, but Orcutt forced him. When Halstein was being thrown out by Dee, Orcutt made third by a close play. Moulton then secured his first hit of the day, a drive which went to the center field fence good for three runs, scoring Orcutt with the winning run. Stimpson did not chase this ball as he saw it was of no use.

During the selection of Pieper to pitch the first game and he should have won his game but for a couple of "bones." In the fourth Orcutt refused to go to second on Swayne's throw to the platter and as Halstein followed with a safe hit he could have scored and tied the game. Double also failed to run out a hit in the eighth when Bowcock did not have his foot on second base on a force-out from Dee. Bowcock then threw to McGulinn, making the game.

Press pitched the second game, that is, all except the final inning, when Jewett was called to do slab duty. Jewett performed admirably while he was on the mound and although he entered the game under difficulties he remained cool, although the Lowell coaches tried their utmost to rattle him. Press was lucky to hold Lowell to four runs as he possessed none of the four of a pitcher. Fine fielding at times cut Lowell runs off at the plate. After the game Press was released by Manager Pieper, who has shipped him back to the New York Giants.

Benny Bowcock of Lowell was in the glare of the spotlight throughout both games, both in fielding his position and in willow welding. Benny smote the horseshoe four times for safe hits in the opener and got an extra in the second game. Bill Gleason performed like a major leaguer at third base for Lynn and some of his stops of hard batted balls was the feature of the matinee. Bill also performed heroic service with the bat, scoring five hits and in the stroke a pair of cushions in each encounter. Gleason's bat produced results in both games.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Eddie Mahan, the Harvard athlete, is proving himself to be as valuable an asset to the Crimson's baseball team as he is to the eleven. He allowed Penn but six hits Saturday and Harvard scored an easy 4-0 shutout over the Quakers.

The Ad Wagon-Gilbert Gallant battle tomorrow night at the Arena has awakened a good deal of interest among the boxing fans of New England. Apparently, the two men fight in a style somewhat similar and are both hitters. Wagon is trying to "come back" while Gallant is making an endeavor to show the public that his kyo at the hands of Sam Hobbieau was due more to a chance blow than anything else.

The St. John Prep school annual field day which will be held as usual on June 17th will attract much attention this year. The track and field games have been arranged on a more pretentious scale than ever before. The R. A. A. Irish-American A. A. and other big associations will be represented at the games while some 2000 cadets will take part in the military drill.

Yale's last chance to redeem herself, speaking in an athletic sense, seems to be in the annual boat race. Harvard has made a clean sweep of the gridiron, the track and the river. The Crimson's baseball team is a better team than that from the New Haven university although of course it may not demonstrate the fact in the three games series. Yale is as strong, if not stronger, than Harvard, on paper in the shells.

Although we are still holding down seventh position in the race the team looks far better than it did the first part of the week. Coach's hirelings pulled three games out of the fire last week and the club seems to be out of the rut. There are still big chances for improvement nevertheless.

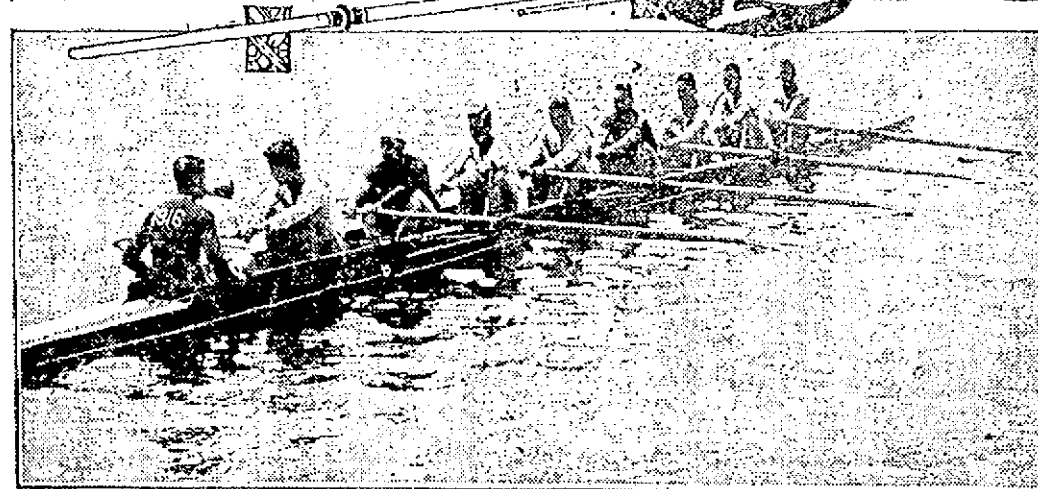

Catcher Walter Ahearn and Benny Bowcock, the new second sacker, are the two players who are responsible in a large measure for the bracing up of the local team. Ahearn is practically manager of Lowell at present at least this seems to be so on the field or least Ahearn appears to have instilled a good deal of life into 'em, too. Bowcock's work in the infield combination is all that could be desired.

As predicted earlier Portland has climbed to the top of the heap. Hugo Duffy's outfit should never be ousted from its present berth. With a fine string of hurlers and a coterie of good ball players who can knock 'em hard Hugo appears to be "all set."

Raymond L. Pullen of the Vesper-Country club came through a winner in the semi-finals for the Heinemann at Waverly only to be beaten in the finals by Jesse Guilford, champion of New Hampshire golfers. Pullen is one of the best golfers in this section.

Chicago pushed Boston into fourth place in the National league yesterday when Jess and Rudolph both proved immediately. The first six clubs in Governor's circuit are so evenly bunched that a week's games could change the entire order.

In the American league Boston is

FOR BIG REGATTA WITH HARVARD

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 14.—Coach Guy Nickalls of the Yale crews is putting his charges through their final workouts here for their annual bout with the Crimson on the Thames. Confidence reigns supreme in the Yale camp. Individually and collectively the Blue oarsmen are sure that they will show their oars to the men of Harvard, and not a few of the experts concur in that belief. The Yale first crew has shown wonderful form in the two preliminary events in which it has taken part, winning both. Pictures show (upper) Yale second varsity and (lower) first varsity. In the boats are, second- varsity, stroke, Adams; seven, Gamble; six, Whittlesey; five, Fox, four, Kositzky; three, Atkins; two, Gillilan; bow, Minson coxswain, Captain Pratt. First varsity, stroke, Morse; seven, Wiman; six, Meyers; five, Captain Sturtevant; four, Sheldon; three, Law; two, Bennett; bow, C. Coe, and coxswain, McLane.

within striking distance of the top. The Red Sox are only two games behind Detroit while the Tigers only lost a full game in the rest of the White Sox. Manager Bill Carrigan expects to reach up and pull down the leaders as soon as his hospital list recovers.

Mike Wrenn successfully defended his title as the local swimming champion yesterday afternoon in a race with John Moriarty in the Merrimack river. The men dove in at North Chelmsford and started for the Vesper boat house landing. Moriarty gave up the struggle after a lively brush with Wrenn near the two mile mark. Wrenn states that he is willing to swim any of the New England merman over the same course.

9 TO 0 SHUT-OUT

Concord high had no trouble in defeating Lowell high Saturday afternoon by the shutout route, the local schoolboys being forced to take the wrong end of a 9-0 score. Lowell high never had a chance at any stage of the game.

Hobson was in the points for Lowell and has hit hard. Opposed to him was a youngster named Boyce who held the local team at his mercy throughout, allowing them but three hits. Brown played a star game at short and collected two of Lowell high's three safeties.

OFF FOR BIG REGATTA

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., June 14.—Stanford's eight oared crew, Pacific coast champions, were to leave today for Doughkeens, N. Y., to compete in the four mile varsity race in the annual intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson. The crew, averaging 175 pounds, will be the heaviest in the contest. Only two men, stroke and coxswain, are under six feet in height.

KRAMER WINNER THE TRACK SHORT

American Bike Champ Lands $1000 Prize at Newark, N. J.

NEWARK, N. J., June 14.—American Champion Frank Kramer won the final of the $1000 grand prize in two straight heats at the Newark Velodrome yesterday. Jackie Clark of Australia was second, and Meriel Dupuy of France was third. A rare sight of speed down the home stretch brought victory to Reggie McNamara of Australia, when he appeared to be beaten by Harry Kaiser of the Bronx, in the handicap race. McNamara also won the three-mile scratch race. Kramer was second, Alf Grenda of Australia, third, and Joe Fogler of Brooklyn, fourth.

Bob Spears of Australia disposed of Cesar Moratti of Italy in straight heats after the Italian roughed him all over the track. Grenda won the two-thirds mile handicap. Willie Hanley, California, second, and Oscar Egg of Switzerland, third.

The two-mile handicap went to Fred Weber of Newark. Julian Provost of France finishing second, and Hanley third. Hans Chrl of the Olympic club of San Francisco won the amateur open race and finished second from the scratch in the three-mile handicap. Eddie R. Kane of the New York A. C. was third in the handicap.

Somebody made a bungle of the measuring at the seventh annual Boston high school meet at Wood Island Park, June 4. As a result, neither of the two winners of the 230-yard dash, William Winchester of Concord and E. A. Barrows of English, in the senior and intermediate divisions, respectively, will get credit for the record he established.

Winchester ran the course in 22 1-5 seconds, breaking the record held by Elmer Smith of 22 3-5 seconds. Barrows won a slice of the interregional record of 23 3-5 seconds held by W. Lyons of West Roxbury, by running the course in 23 3-5 seconds.

Immediately after these times were announced, question arose of the possibility of the winners performing so credibly. Nathaniel Young of the hygiene department made it known that the track would be remeasured.

This was done, and the supposedly 230 yards was lacking about ten yards. It is likely that the athletes who were entered in the two events will be invited to try again. It is a question whether Winchester will be able to set up a new mark, but there is no question of doubt but that Barrows can do much better than the old time.

THE DAY AND THE FLAG

This is the day on which we honor the flag. There is no need to specify what flag, for though America is the home of millions who have themselves or whose fathers forsaken all the other flags of the earth, we know but one—the glorious Stars and Stripes. It is the flag born of the greatest ideal of freedom the world has known; it is the highest, grandest, noblest emblem of human liberty. It was the flag of Washington, the heritage he left to the generations of free men who came after him; it was the flag which Lincoln saw as a guiding star through the dark night of the Civil war. It is the flag which floats today above all flags as the flag of the only real democracy which the earth has known. It is the flag for which our fathers fought and for the preservation of which our children and our children's children will be ready to fight, and to die should it ever again be menaced by tyranny or injustice.

Today, in a world of war, it is the flag of peace. Other flags may symbolize the devotion of nations and of peoples to other ideals; other flags may call the youth from the fireside and the family hearth to be torn to pieces by shot and shrapnel. Other flags, seen through the smoke of battles may spur the soldier on to a last superhuman effort for his national ideals; but to the peoples of all nations, the American flag stands out for peace, justice to all men, personal liberty, prosperity and national integrity. Still, it is no less inspiring to us than the battle flags are to their respective troops, for in no nation does the flag more represent the deepest devotion of the individual than in this nation over which the Star and Stripes floats sublime in the summer sunshine.

Once in ages long ago, three kings in the east saw a sign in the sky and they followed it to where in a manger an infant lay, the sight of Whom repaid them for the toils of the mountain and the heats of the desert. Today, we are too much concerned with worldly affairs to see the signs of heaven, but wherever the human heart has thirsted for liberty, from tropical lands to the land of snows, a symbol of liberty has shone in the sky, and thousands have followed it with steadfast hearts, and shining eyes. It is the symbol which we honor today—the symbol which has offered a haven to the afflicted of the earth who have fled from the yoke of bondage to the land where all men are free—to Columbia, the asylum of the enslaved, the home of the brave and free.

The flag that we honor today is to us a protection and to all the rest of the world a hope. It is a protection which we would defend with the greatest sacrifice that men can give, if national honor demands it. It is a hope to all the world that lies outside the circle of light which we know as American liberty. They who now strive against bitter foes where the waves of war engulf every human happiness see in it a sign of the service to humanity which will point the path to peace, when the insane orgies of blood shall cease and all mankind, including even the belligerent nations, shall unite to deplore one of the worst blows ever dealt to civilization.

If the flag which has flown today over our marts, our manufactures and homes is to stand for the ideals of Washington, Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson, it must be respected by all governments whether in peace or war. It must not be insulted by one power or used by another as a shield against the blows of the enemy. It must stand, as it has always stood, for America and all things American, a sign of the spirit that demands nothing but justice but that will protect all American rights, so that the Stars and Stripes will mean to generations to come what it means to us today. With all reverence we salute this glorious flag, hoping that never, by act of its own people, or servile subservience to any other people shall its stars or bars be less bright than they are in June, 1915, and that it may proudly wave forever over the destinies of this republic, the greatest, the freest and grandest the world has ever seen.

INCREASE IN SHIPPING

It is reported that seven of the largest American shipyards have under construction 50 seagoing steamships, of an aggregate registered tonnage of about 300,000. This is three times as much as the reported tonnage under construction a year ago and there are reports of contracts and further activities in shipping circles throughout the country. Apparently American business is waking up to the possibilities of American shipping as an investment, or else coming to the rescue of American shippers because of dire necessity.

With a very few exceptions, all of the ships under construction are for the American coastwise trade, still leaving the larger shipping problem unsolved. Our coastwise shipping has always been restricted to American bottoms, and the absence of American ships from the larger inter-oceanic trade is still most apparent. It is to be presumed that the private enterprise which provides ships for the coastwise trade would provide ships for the larger trade, were it not that the task is too great at present for private capital.

American ships that would enter the transportation service to all world ports must compete with ships of other nations that are backed up by government subsidies or other aids. Congress has always been opposed to this form of aid in the United States, but when a more direct government service was broached, it was opposed as something pernicious in the extreme. Now it must be confessed, after many months of uncertainty, America will either have to resort to the government-owned merchant marine system, or change its mind about subsidies and maritime laws, for private capital cannot be obtained for the establishing of the necessary system.

This shipping question has been again called to the attention of the public recently by two far-reaching agitations—one for new lines with South America and the other for new lines to the Orient and China in particular.

FOURTH OF JULY

It is to be most sincerely hoped that the great show planned for this city July 4th will not mean a return to the unsafe observance which until the last few years left a long list of maimed and injured. Gradually the movement for a safe and sane Fourth has grown and developed until statistics of recent celebrations proved that Fourth of July is no longer a thing of terror to parents. With the military character of the celebration in this city in the near future, there is danger that our young citizens, and impulsive individuals among undertakers that is now so painfully evident on such occasions.

TO GERMAN-AMERICANS

It was reported in the early stages of the war, and apparently on good authority, that some English authorities had made a good financial offer to Billy Sunday to go to England as an advocate of recruiting. That there was a field for his eloquence there is no doubt, and that the government of any country in such a crisis would like to avail of silver tongues is also undeniable.

This offer and its rejection are now recalled by the mission which our secretary has set out to accomplish, and in which he figures with so much grace and such little consistency. In the appeal to the "German-Americans" especially, he does not appeal for recruits, but he comes out strongly in support of the administration policy, and eliminates himself as the possible leader of the more extreme administration critics. In short, he bids fair to be rejected by both the supporters of the administration and the opponents of the administration. Bryan without a following is inconceivable, but who his followers will be, and how many they will number, are difficult questions to answer.

It is the conviction of Bryan that the Germans in this country and those of German extraction can do a great deal for the promotion of a better feeling between the two governments by urging toleration on the German government and correctly reporting the American attitude. To this end, he asks them to consider the administration's policies in the furtherance of neutrality and makes out a strong case for the American view.

He appeals to them for aid in rolling back the war cloud which exists only in his imagination. It is very difficult to disabuse Mr. Bryan of the idea that were this country deprived of his guidance and unofficial advice but for a short time, the Union would dissolve, and the government at Washington through a reverse process of evolution be reduced to elemental chaos.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

All doctors do not agree, and neither do all clergymen, even of one denomination, on certain points. This was borne out at the June meeting of the North Middlesex Unitarian conference in Nashua last Wednesday. One of the preachers who spoke in opposition to the proposition to endorse national prohibition was Rev. Charles T. Billings of this city, who advanced plausible arguments for his position. Mr. Billings is well known in this city as a true temperance man.

With Ex-President Taft he believes the question might best be dealt with by the state governments. On this there may be room for argument where there is none as to the need of throttling the liquor evil. We are inclined to believe, however, that Mr. Billings as well as all other sincere opponents of the liquor evil, will in due time agree that effective prohibition, however it may be attained, is the only solution of the question.

A FOOL QUESTION

"I have had many stupid questions asked me in my life," said an elderly doctor, but not one was so foolish as when I was a young fellow, just beginning to make my living. A young man applied to me for some slight eye trouble, recommended a mild wash, to be dropped in the eye three times a day. He paid the fee and disappeared—was gone a few minutes, and suddenly stuck his head back in the doorway.

"Shall that medicine," he asked, "be dropped in my eye before or after meals?"—Collier's Weekly.

EYES AND FEET

Elizabeth Marbury tells this story of her experiences while trying to find a manager who would produce the play "The Optimist." "I don't think much of the title," was the first manager's protest. "Do you know what it means?" asked Miss Marbury.

"Certainly," was the answer. An optimist is a man who looks after the eyes and a pessimist is a man who attends to the feet." This reminded her of William Lackey's remark when asked if he had found a manager to produce "Les Miserables."

"Found one to produce it?" he answered. "Why I haven't even found one who could even pronounce it."—Boston Record.

ONE-WORD DESPATCH

Very few commanders have revealed any sense of humor in their campaigning exploits, but it was reserved for the witty Sir Charles Napier to become prominent in this rare accomplishment. His crowning achievement in the realm of humor was coming with his most brilliant feat of arms.

He was despatched to essay the conquest of Scinde, and after a series of fine exploits in the face of innumerable difficulties, he accomplished his mission. The authorities at home waited anxiously for his despatch announcing this momentous event. The days passed, and it added to the tension. At last the long-expected message arrived, and it contained one word, "Recruit!" A man who knew Latin was sought, and he translated it, "I have shined (shined)."—Boston Record.

A NON-ALCOHOLIC TONIC

Many people need a tonic at this time of year, old folks, weak folks, thin people, people who are run-down from too much work and vacation still many weeks away. Nervous people also need a tonic but cannot safely take alcohol.

A non-alcoholic tonic that will build up the blood and strengthen the nerves, is what all people need, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are exactly that. The one symptom of thin blood that everybody recognizes is pallor. It shows so gradually that other people are liable to notice it before you do. But it is important that you should notice and heed the warning because the thin blood that causes the pallor feels sore, aches, and the body or some of its parts by its own waste material, that if not forced out, will result in physical breakdown and ill health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only build up the blood, but they have a direct strengthening action on the nerves. As they are free from narcotics and are safe for every member of the family.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Write today to Dr. Williams, Pink Pills Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," and, if your stomach troubles you, ask for a diet book also.

After the California Expositions —take a Little Sea Trip

Here's the idea! Go out to California by way of Denver, Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, the Wonderful Royal Gorge and Salt Lake City—all this by daylight and, without extra charge, provided you travel on the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R.), which has through service from Chicago and St. Louis.

After that, "do" California and the Expositions and then take one of those magnificent new Great Northern Pacific Steamships—the finest on the Pacific—from San Francisco up to Portland, Oregon. Then, homeward bound, stop at either Galer National Park or Yellowstone Park—the wonders of the world.

Now will you allow me to help you plan for such a trip? That's what I'm here for.

You are planning to spend a sum that entitles you to see the best scenery in the west. Give me an idea of when you want to go, how long you can stay, etc., and I will plan a trip especially fitted to your time and needs—also send you without charge, such pictures, maps and printed descriptive matter as will aid you to determine the best thing to do. Write, call or telephone. Let me help.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

BRYAN'S QUERRER TACTICS

Mr. Bryan's statement of his reason for resigning from the cabinet and in which he undertakes to discredit President Wilson's policy and create a sentiment hostile to it, doesn't harmonize very well with his professions of good will and loyalty to the head of the administration. Had he any regard for the propriety, he would have withheld this pronouncement, at least until the document which he attacks had been made public, when the country would be able to judge the merits or demerits of Bryan's case.—Fall River Globe.

AN APPRECIATION

Reviewing the course of Secretary Bryan in the two years of his administration of his office it is plain to see that he has been in many ways a great moral force. He has aroused the nation to honor the fine things of life. Had he held the office when the sailing was clear he might have left a great impression upon this time. But in the midst of international problems that have developed Mr. Bryan has not caught the spirit of the American people. Nor does he command them sufficiently to sway them his way. He has seen that on the whole there is the greatest confidence in the course of President Wilson and has risen to his best heights by quitting when he could not be a great help to the heavily burdened president.—Holyoke Transcript.

THE COUNTRY BOY

The country boy is not migrating to the city as fast as he did. It is beginning to dawn on him that when he drops the raising of food products he is selling out his interest in a commodity that is rapidly rising in price. Nobody ever advanced in life on that principle. And as the boys stay on in the country, the girls will stay too. The farmers are going to own many more automobiles in the year 1925 than the store clerks.—Beverly News.

NOT PARALLEL

As to warning Americans not to travel in belligerent ships, Mr. Bryan's citation of warnings to Americans in Mexico is not convincing. It would be nearer parallel, if our government warned Americans to keep out of the way while a Mexican army was using U. S. territory to get at another Mexican army.—Lexington Sun.

JITNEY REGULATION

New Bedford is among the cities which have formulated jitney regulations, although they have not yet been adopted. The Fall River aldermen are slow in taking up a very necessary reform. Meanwhile, the second list, when the jitneys are crowding the highways, continues to grow.—Fall River Herald.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY

LAST MEETING OF SEASON HELD

AND REPORTS READ—EASTER PRIZE WINNERS

A very successful and largely attended meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Patrick's parish was held Thursday evening and considerable business of importance was transacted. Those in charge of the various tables at the Easter carnival reported excellent sales, and the financial affairs of the society reflect credit on the earnest officers and committees in charge of the event. In accordance with custom, it was voted to postpone the regular meetings of the society until October, active work being suspended to some extent during the summer months. A feature of the meeting was the reading of the following list of prizes and prize-winners at the Easter festival by the secretary, Julia F. Statton.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICNIC SANDWICHES

"We are going to have a picnic Saturday," delightedly announced Marjorie to Marie one morning. "I want to make some nice sandwiches for my part of the feast," she continued. "Will you suggest some kinds for me to make?"

"Why yes, I will surely be glad to give you what suggestions I can," answered Marie. "To begin with all sandwiches should be made with the bread crust all cut off after the slices have been placed together. Then the sandwiches may be cut into dainty shapes."

"Exceedingly effective are the sandwiches made in rolls and tied with ribbon. These rolls should not be attempted unless the filling is very thin and is spread sparingly. Plain bread and butter sandwiches are the easiest to make for rolls. Then the sandwich should be held in the steam from the kettle and turned into a narrow roll and tied with the ribbon in a neat bow."

"Where refreshments are to be eaten standing up or with gloves on the utmost care should be taken not to fill them too lavishly as the filling will soak through the edges of the bread and soil the gloves, and the bread although cut very thin should not be crumbly. Among the fillings always acceptable are those made from combinations of cream cheese, cream and green peppers, cheese and pimentos, cheese and olives, cheese and celery, and a dozen other combinations with cheese are very nice. Among newer sandwich combinations are the following: Minced celery and mayonnaise dressing with one slice of white and one slice of brown bread; apple sauce with lemon juice and grated lemon peel and whipped cream. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread.

"Dry broiled bacon and cooked chicken livers put through the meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise are fine. Other combinations are minced celery, canned salmon and mayonnaise with shredded lettuce or raisins chopped and mixed with mayonnaise with or without the addition of chopped nuts."

WHAT THE COOK SAYS

Cook makes an excellent washing fluid by dissolving two pounds of soap in three gallons of water, adding a tablespoon of turpentine and three tablespoons of household ammonia. Soak the clothes in this for two or three hours before washing. Clothes treated in this way will not need boiling. They can be put into the water when one first arises, and by the time the breakfast is out of the way, they will be ready.

When cleaning sauce pans etc. if short of soda or cleansing powder, use a cloth well soaked and dipped in coal ashes. This is very economical and excellent to clean them easily.

Straw matting is now in season. To clean it take a long handled mop, says cook, a dish half full of hot water and some dry Indian meal. Sweep all the dust off the matting, then scatter the dry meal evenly over the room. Wring the mop very dry, to preclude any fear of damp, and rub the matting hard, one breadth at a time always lengthwise of the straw, and use clean hot water for each breadth.

When the matting is dry the meal can be brushed off easily. This operation should always be carried out on a dry day. To cleanse or brighten Chinese or Japanese matting go over it with a cloth dipped in strong salt water.

Keep bread boards and other wooden utensils clean by scrubbing with soap and lukewarm water, to which household ammonia or common soda has been added.

When mixing add a little soap to your starch. This prevents the iron from sticking and gives a fine gloss, says cook's experience. Cold starch, when finished with, need not be thrown away. Leave to settle, then pour off the water and the starch may be used again.

To make starch goods unflam- mable add a teaspoon of Epsom salts to a bowl of starch and boil until dissolved. This makes the starch stiffer and the articles starched are less likely to catch fire. When washing children's things, rinse in water to which alum has been added to the proportion of two ounces to a gallon of water. This will make the cloth non-inflammable.

LADY LOOKABOUT

When a man as widely known in public life as Mr. John H. Corcoran makes the announcement that aspiring statesmen should have equal suffrage do so, not because they are sincere, but because it will help them in their political careers; that by giving the ballot to woman man would be taking a step toward his own degradation; and then goes on to make shocking statements about feminism and socialism. It is readily seen that he feels the ground trembling under his feet, and my advice to him is to jump on the bandwagon as it passes or he will find himself trundling along well-nigh alone on the road that leads to nowhere. Surely the man who judges of the wind's direction by straws, must already feel quite sure that equal suffrage is not merely pending in Massachusetts, but impending.

Often, when I hear a man, apparently honest, proclaiming that woman have not sufficient intelligence to vote, I am led to wonder just where he got his information. The natural conclusion is that he measures all women by his own opinion of his mother, his sisters, his wife and his daughters. It is hard to say in a do not measure up to his standard of intelligence. Certainly, perhaps the women of his particular family have not sufficient intelligence to vote. There is but one inference to be drawn. Either he is in their class, or they are in his. If they are non compos mentis, it is safe to assume that he is in the same boat with them.

Anniversary of the Hat

A notable birthday was quietly observed in our midst last week when the 511th anniversary of the hat was celebrated. It is younger than I had thought, and notwithstanding the correctness of the number of birthdays the hat has had, I feel almost sure I have seen one or two about town which had every appearance of antedating the year 1404. Women wore them, and now I am going to sound a note of warning to womankind. When I was younger, I observed that as women advanced in years, almost invariably they acquired an odd, dowdy appearance. Now do not misunderstand me. Not every woman was so unfortunate, still enough of them had the appearance to make it seem quite general. I set out to find the cause. It did not lie in the mentality, for often I came across a real genius who had it.

It did not lie in any particular eccentricity. I was puzzled. Then one day all of a sudden it came to me. I was sitting in the nigger heaven of Tremont Temple (does not that sound sacrilegious?) looking about at what seemed to be millions of women; old, young, pretty, otherwise stout, slim, short, tall; in fact all the kinds there are of us were there, osmosing intelligence in tremendous waves. At least, that is what we were supposed to be doing, but try as I would, I could not arouse my interest to follow the explanation of the inherent sympathy existing between girls and algebra. Again I began to ponder on the downiness of some as compared to the smartness of others. Like a flash, light broke on my darkness. Why had I never thought of it before? It lay in the hat. How simple. That was the solution. In all the years that have elapsed since I made that

SUMMER SEASON BRINGS DEMAND FOR PLAYTIME TOGS FOR CHILDREN—SIMPLE GARMENTS, WASHABLE, IN GREAT VARIETY

Just such simple garments as the ones shown here are sure to be in demand at this season for they contribute more largely to real happiness and satisfaction than any others than can be devised. Rompers and aprons, since they dispense with the need of care and consideration which other clothing demands, bring with them a sense of relaxation and happiness not to be found in anything more elaborate or dainty. The three aprons show quite different models but all are good. The little kimono apron is absolutely protective and it liked. It can take the place of a frock as well as be worn over one. It is such a simple little garment that it can be made in the least little bit of time, yet it takes pretty and becoming lines. Aprons, rompers and the like are of course made from washable fabrics, but this season those fabrics provide an exceptional variety both in color and in design. This apron is made of lawn in stripes showing soldiers' blue on a white background and is trimmed with bands of white. The apron with hsb and straps over the shoulders is especially designed for the little cook and will be admirable slip on when candy-making is in progress, but it also can be adapted to general wear. Apron lawn is the material that suggests itself most naturally, but it can be made all in white or with the straps and belt of color for this season, colors are used in every known way and blue or pink on white would make a very pretty effect. No. 8340 is cut all in one piece, the fullness being held in place by belt portions that are arranged over the back. Here it is designed for a really useful little apron and is made of white linen with bands of blue, but if something a little more dressy were wanted, the armhole edges could be finished with bretelles of embroidery and in place of the colored banding could be used embroidered insertion. Overalls always can be trusted to delight the small boy. They make an essentially masculine garment and they provide just that comfort and freedom that is needed. These are finished with straps that are buttoned over the shoulders and with patch pockets without which no such garment would be complete. Blue galatea is the material shown here, but there are various other sturdy ones that are equally appropriate. The rompers with tucked fronts and full leg portions are adapted both to the boys and to the girls. They are thoroughly comfortable and satisfactory, simple and easy to make and easy to launder. Chambray, ging-ham and materials of the sort are the ones most used and in the picture, khaki colored chambray is trimmed with bands of bright red. Galatea in one of the new blues would be pretty handed with white, or one of the very beautiful plaid ginghams shown this season would be charming with bands of the same color. Also with bands of a plain color. Cotton materials are exceptionally attractive and even the simplest and least costly show excellent colors and excellent designs so that the only difficulty that really exists lies in the embarrassment of riches. Plaids and checks are shown in a wonderful variety of colors and designs and are particularly well adapted to children's use.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

BY GWEN SEARS

THE PERFECT THROAT AND NECK

Many women think it incumbent upon them to paint and powder and make fair the skin of the face, powdering it to a ghastly whiteness, yet the skin of the neck and throat is left alone, and often a dark streak is allowed to appear above the V-shaped opening or round neck. It seems a pity that such necks are seen, when the remedy is so near to hand. Anyone who will, may have a well appearing throat, so long as her age is on the sunny side of fifty.

The too thin neck hints of ill health, but the proper exercise will round it out and make it symmetrical. These exercises consist of the slow and gentle rolling of the head upon the shoulders, first all the way around from right to left for several times and then reversing the motion. The boxing of the head far forward and then far back, then leaning to the right side and then to the left, these movements taken slowly and gently night after night, will develop the unused tissue which causes the neck to lack roundness.

After such exercises the flesh should be well scrubbed with hot water and soap, carefully and thoroughly massaged with cream for at least ten minutes, the cream removed and cold water applied to the glowing surface. The correct massage necessary to break down and remove fatty deposits around the throat is best given by an experienced masseuse who is familiar with anatomy. Care must be taken to keep muscles firm and not to reduce too rapidly. Hollows can be filled in by massage, brown necks can be bleached and sagging chins can be strengthened by massage and the double chin can be reduced. So there seems little excuse for the unsightly neck and throat.

The wages of women in the government service in this country are lower than the men's for the same work. The average male government stenographer gets a wage of $1600 and $1800 a year, for which a woman gets $1200 and $1400.

According to the latest census the number of men and girls in Great Britain of ten years and upward were: Engaged in occupations, 4,630,134; retired or unemployed, 10,026,379. Of these 4,630,134 were unmarried; 6,640,581 were married and 1,364,804 were widowed. Of the unmarried, 3,122,493 were unemployed.

Miss Graham is said to be the oldest woman public school teacher in point of service in Pennsylvania and one of the oldest in this country.

Unmarried women and widows in St. John, New Brunswick, have had the right to vote in all municipal elections for the past 20 years. During all of this time the wives were discriminated against and were not allowed to vote, but the legislature has come to their rescue by passing a bill which gives them the same rights as the unmarried women.

SAVES TEN MEN

Eric Lindquist Rescued
Men Off Egg Rock—
Power Boat Capsized

NAHANT, June 14.—Thrown into the rough sea off Egg Rock yesterday afternoon, when the 20-foot motor boat from which they were fishing was capsized, 16 Lynn men, the majority of whom could not swim, were in danger of being drowned when they were picked up by Eric Lindquist and several companions who had witnessed the mishap from a considerable distance.

Lindquist's timely arrival surely prevented three deaths and it is very probable that had the other seven men sought to get into the 12-foot rowboat which was towing astern of the capsized motor boat they would have overturned it.

Nine of the men were Edwin A. Reed of 60 Coburn street, owner of the boat; his son, Charles A. Reed of 103 Williams avenue; Charles Travis, 19 Gilbert street, and Harvey Crosby of 250 Fayette street, who arranged the party; James E. Litch of 11 Windsor avenue; Stanley Wright of Eastern avenue; J. Harry Gallant of 78 Walcott avenue; Edwin Emery of 85 Walcott avenue and Ed. Foster, 28 Fay street.

After Porter was taken into the Nahant life-saving station he was sent to the Lynn hospital, but was allowed to go home after several hours.

Members of the party when interviewed either denied that they were connected with the accident or that they knew that such a thing had occurred and the identity of one man was not learned.

Three Men Taken Sick

The Reds declared that they were engaged by Travis and Crosby to take a party to the fishing grounds. Eleven men got aboard the power boat at Swampscott early in the morning, but after a few minutes sail three became sick and were landed at Lincoln House Point. The others went to the fishing grounds to the east of Egg Rock, where the boat was anchored.

About 2.30, one man, in reaching for bait, lost his balance and fell overboard. Four or five of his companions jumped at the same time in an effort to save him, and the sudden shifting of weight caused the overloaded boat to capsize.

Some of the occupants were not thrown clear of the boat, but all managed to get clear before they experienced any trouble. Those who could swim reached the tender, while others, including the elder Reed, clambered upon the bottom of the overturned boat.

Charles Reed, who could not swim, was having much difficulty in keeping afloat, and his father, noticing his plight, threw him a life preserver, to which the son clung.

Lindquist's Engine Stalled

Porter was in much difficulty and his companions sought to aid him, but in the heavy sea they had all they could do to keep him above water.

Just when the predicament of the men assumed a very serious stage, Lindquist approached in his power boat, but when he got within halting distance his engine stalled and he was delayed somewhat in reaching the men.

The younger Reed was the first person pulled aboard, and he was grabbed as he floated by, clinging to the life preserver. Four men had succeeded in getting into the tender, to which three others were clinging. When Lindquist sought to get Porter into his boat, much difficulty was encountered until it was discovered that a fish line which was fastened to the overturned boat was wound around the man's leg. As soon as the line was cut Porter was pulled in.

Thrice Swept Off Boat

The elder Reed was the last man rescued, and before Lindquist could get to him he had been swept off the bottom of the boat three times. Lindquist towed the tender into the life-saving station, where Capt. Haynes looked after the men. All were able to go to their homes, within a short time, except Porter.

The overturned boat was evidently carried out to sea, because a two hours search failed to reveal any trace of it.

FORMER LOWELL GIRL

MISS RUTH P. WEDGE COVERED
YEAR'S STUDY IN SIX WEEKS
AT VASSAR COLLEGE

A remarkable feat by a former Lowell girl came to light at the Vassar college graduation, when it became known that Miss Ruth Paris Wedge, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur P. Wedge, received her diploma of graduation and was one of eight out of a class of 239 girls, and that despite the fact that she had missed all but six weeks of her entire year because of illness.

Miss Wedge has had a brilliant career at school and has had an excellent standing ever since entering Vassar, but her covering the whole senior year in six weeks is considered a notable accomplishment. The Lowell friends of the brilliant young student are not surprised at her great success at Vassar, for they aver that when she was a student at the local high school, she was a leader of her class, and displayed remarkable ability.

Miss Wedge was born in Paris, Me., and came to Lowell with her parents, about 12 years ago. She spent two years in the Pawtucket grammar school, after which she entered the Lowell high school. She took a four years college course and graduated with honors in the class of 1910. In her senior year at the high school, she was one of the editors of the Review staff and her contributions were cleverly written and afforded good reading for all pupils.

From the high school she went to Rogers hall where she remained for one year and then entered Jackson college. She spent her freshman and sophomore years at this institution and then entered Vassar. Here she made unprecedented progress and her success in her senior year will go down in the records of the institution as one of the most notable feats ever accomplished.

Rev. and Mrs. Wedge have had many compliments over the work of their daughter. Rev. Mr. Wedge, who was formerly pastor of the Northern Street Baptist church in this city, is now a special representative of the society for the propagation of the gospel among the Indians. When in Lowell the Wedge family resided on Parker street.

FLAG DAY CELEBRATIONS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Flag day celebrations were held here today, the most elaborate celebrations being held on the south portico of the treasury department building in which President Wilson and other high government officials participated. Secretary McAdoo presided and an address by the president featured the program. The United States Marine band and a chorus composed of treasury department employees took part in the patriotic program.

CAUGHT IN RAIN

President Offers Shelter to Women—Confederate
Exercises Spoiled

WASHINGTON, June 14.—When President Wilson drove through a violent wind and rain storm yesterday to attend Confederate Memorial day exercises at Arlington National cemetery he found that the crowd had broken in a wild rush for electric cars and automobiles. The few people remaining had taken refuge under trees and in some small tents near the speaker's stand.

For half an hour the president's automobile stood in the driving rain. Mr. Wilson from time to time peered through the water-smeared windows, much concerned over how the people outside were faring.

A short distance away he spotted two or three women huddled beneath a short, thick tree, greeting him with frantically waving umbrellas. He beckoned in vain for them to come into the car. The women either were tired about visiting the president of the United States under such circumstances or afraid of the wetting they would get between the tree and the car.

When the rain finally stopped those in charge of the arrangements informed the president that the formal exercises had been abandoned. Flowers were placed on the graves in the Confederate section of the cemetery, and a magnificent cross of flowers presented by Washington Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, was unveiled by two young girls.

Affiliary A. Herbert, ex-secretary of the navy, and Samuel J. Graham, assistant attorney general, were to have been the chief speakers. The president was a guest and did not expect to speak.

BOY DROWNED IN CANAL

ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE CRAZE
TO GO BATHING IN LOCAL WATERWAYS

Walter Casserly, aged 13 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Casserly, of 2 Brooks street, was drowned while bathing in the Western canal late Saturday afternoon. After a short search the body was recovered and removed to the rooms of Undertaker Peter Davay. Young Casserly had been repeatedly warned by his parents, it is said, not to go swimming but Saturday afternoon he started from home alone and entered the canal between School and Walker streets. A few minutes afterward he was seen struggling in the water by other boys, who did everything possible to bring the lad to shore. Their efforts were futile, however, and the youngster went down for the last time.

After the body had been recovered Dr. M. A. Tighe used the pulmotor but without success.

MILITARY NEEDS COTTON

Peace and Preparation Conference at New York Today

NEW YORK, June 14.—Soldiers, sailors, statesmen, clergymen, representatives of labor and of business met here today to discuss the military needs of the nation. The National Security league, with which the idea of the gathering originated, named it the Peace and Preparation conference. To supplement the arguments to be advanced by a number of prominent speakers, the league has installed in the Hotel Astor an exhibit of the machinery of warfare, ranging from small arms to a Whitehead torpedo, 21 feet long.

The afternoon program calls for speeches by Col. Charles E. Lydecker, the chairman; Capt. Matthew E. Hanna, U. S. A., retired; Maj. George Haven Putnam, Hudson Maxin, the inventor and Col. John H. Dunn.

Alton B. Parker will preside at a mass meeting tonight in Carnegie hall. The speakers include the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, and two former secretaries of war, Henry L. Stimson and Jacob M. Dickinson, and a former secretary of the navy, Charles J. Bonaparte. The conference will conclude tomorrow.

IN POLICE COURT

Margaret Welsh of Tyler street was brought before Judge Knight on continuance today for stealing a purse containing $1.65 belonging to Margaret Allan of Fayette street from a pew in the Immaculate Conception church last Saturday morning. She asked the court for leniency and promised to depart from Lowell at once but after her record in the local court, covering a period of 11 years, had been read by Deputy Downey, she was committed to the Lowell jail for three months.

Besides the four thefts already reported, a woman called at the station and informed Capt. Brosnan that four dollars was taken from her pocketbook one morning recently. She identified the defendant as a woman who sat in the pew behind her.

Frank White, who hails from Central Falls, R. I., started out early Sunday morning to get a suit of clothes. He first went to the Merrimack hotel and after being refused a drink made his getaway with a coat and vest belonging to Constantine Thomas, a clerk.

With the coat and vest on his back he left the hotel and found his way to the home of Wilfred Greiner of Worcester street. He walked up the stairs into Wilfred's room and had taken a pair of trousers and a shirt from the closet, put them on and started out when stopped by a patrolman. He appeared in police court this forenoon and pleaded guilty to both complaints, but said that it was all a mistake and brought on by over drinking. He claimed that in the Merrimack hotel he took his own coat to wash up and took Thomas' by mistake. In the forenoon room he took his clothes off to lay on the bed but being afraid of arrest started to dress again and took someone else's clothes. At first the defendant said that he came from Pawtucket but when asked his street address said he lived with his mother at 129 Garfield street, Central Falls, R. I. His Honor ordered the case continued until Wednesday so White's story could be investigated.

Ole E. Sherman was also in court on continuance for the larceny of tools and a pair of slippers from Frank E. Harris. The complainant said that Sherman entered his barn and stole the articles while he was away from the property. A three months' sentence to the house of correction was imposed. Charles H. Frost pleaded guilty to a serious offense, the complainant being a 15 year old girl. His case was con-

ROBBER ESCAPED

A daring robber gained admittance in the home of Mrs. Charles Lynch, in Braintree, and was about to ransack a bureau when Mrs. Lynch was awakened and frightened the man by shouting for help. The burglar gained entrance through a rear window with a defective lock. The police were notified and it is believed a good clue which will lead to the arrest of the culprit was obtained.

BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF CAPITAL OF MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Attention of Washington officials was focused again today on the military situation in Mexico, where there was a possibility of important developments which might bring ultimate peace in the southern republic. Chief interest centers in the outcome of the prospective battle between Carranza troops and Villa forces for the possession of Mexico City, now in the hands of Villa's men, because of its probable influence on the political side of Mexico's problem.

Gen. Carranza already has put in a bid for recognition, basing it on a claim that he controls a large territory and has instituted civil administration there. Although making no request for recognition, Villa has replied favorably to President Wilson's recent suggestion that the factions in Mexico unite for peace.

REPLY TO WARNING

Gov. Maytorena, Villa Commander, Gives Text of His Reply to Warning Not to Attack Agua Prieta

DOUGLAS, ARIZ., June 14.—Gov. Jose Maytorena, Villa commander of Sonora, in an announcement made public today, gives the full text of his reply to the warning of Col. C. L. O'Connor, commanding the United States border patrol, issued several days ago to the Villa commanders not to attack Agua Prieta because of the danger to American lives and property on this side of the border. Maytorena states that he has urged Generals Ornelas, Acosta and Trujillo to use scrupulous care not to violate the Naco agreement and expose this city to the slightest danger from firing. He adds that had for the fact that the United States is urging him to refrain from attacking border towns he would oust the Carranza forces from Agua Prieta in short order.

BARS RELIEF SUPPLIES

Gen. Hernandez Refused to Allow Red Cross Cars to Cross Mexican Border

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 14.—When a car of corn and a car of beans, packed with emblems of the American Red Cross, were made ready in Eagle Pass yesterday for shipment to Monclova, Mex., Gen. Rosalvo Hernandez refused to permit the cars to cross the border. Hernandez informed J. C. Welton, special agent of the Red Cross, that not only were relief supplies not needed but would not be allowed to enter.

NO NEWS OF OBREGON'S DEATH

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Carranza agency here today had no confirmation of the reported death of Gen. Obregon, who had his right arm shot away in battle at Leon, but received a telegram sent by Obregon yesterday at Lagos, Guanajuato, saying: "I am much improved and expect to recover soon."

CONFIRMATION CLASSES

Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson Administered Sacrament in Three Local Churches Today

At St. Margaret's and Notre Dame de Lourdes churches Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson administered the sacrament of confirmation to large classes of children and also confirmed a large number at St. Columba's church in the afternoon.

Confirmation Exercises

Bishop Joseph G. Anderson of Boston administered confirmation to a large class of children at St. Margaret's this morning. Mass was sung at 10:30 followed by confirmation at 11 o'clock. Bishop Anderson was assisted by Rev. James F. Kelly, of Newton and was attended by Rev. C. J. Galligan and Rev. H. C. Reardon. The sponsor for the boys was Mr. James F. Notre Dame de Lourdes

A very impressive ceremony took place this forenoon at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street, when the sacrament of confirmation was administered to 145 boys and girls of the parish, the officiating clergyman being Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson, D. D. of Boston. The ceremony was held at 10 o'clock and was largely attended by parents and friends of the children.

Bishop Anderson at the opening of the sermon delivered a brief sermon on the significance of the sacrament. He told the children he was about to make them soldiers of Christ and he urged them to remain true to the religion they learned at their mother's knee. He spoke of the benefits to be derived from the sacrament of confirmation, and at the close of the sermon he bestowed his blessing upon the congregation.

His Grace was assisted by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., pastor, and Rev. J. B. A. Barrette, O. M. I. The sponsors were William A. Parthenals, president of the Sacred Heart league, and Mrs. Frank Dostaler, president of St. Anne's sodality. The children who were confirmed occupied reserved pews in the center aisle. The girls wore immaculate white with a veil, while the boys were attired in black suits and wore their first communion insignia. During the ceremony appropriate hymns were rendered by the school children under the direction of the Grey Nuns of the Cross. Miss Bella Lavigne presiding at the organ. The service closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., officiating.

The children who received the sacrament of confirmation were as follows:

Boys: Alcide Soucy, Irene Armand, Edgar Martin, Armand Roy, Armand Saurier, Alphonse Courtemanche, Walter Joseph Chagnon, William Bile, Jean, Leo Gaudette, Thomas Labelle, David Laviole, Edmond Poisson, Eugene Regnier, Albert Sancier, Emilie Westcott, Leo Ducharme, Leo Weed, Louis Cote, Joseph Bolvin, Arthur Bolvin, Roland Mollas, Milton Alfred Wesson, Alfred Ferron, Arthur Leblanc, Edmond Jolin, Vincent Upton, Arthur Jackson, Leo Lussier, Theobald Lafleur, Edouard Fortin, Clarence Roux, Francois Reeves, Raymond Lemire, Napoleon

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The Loomfixers' union will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall, Runcles building.

The vacation period for employees of department stores will start within a few weeks and many of the employees are looking forward to a sojourn at the beach or in the mountains.

Walter Dawe, the outing conductor by the Upper Five yesterday was the most enjoyable he ever attended, and "Wally" McEvoy enjoyed himself so much that he missed the last car home and had to stay overnight at the camp.

Frank Flannery of the Saco-Loewell shops has expressed the intention of visiting Claremont again in the near future. A few years back Frank was employed in the pretty little New Hampshire town, and he will undoubtedly spend his vacation there this year.

Mike Wrenn, the husky Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. athlete again showed his speed and endurance in the water yesterday, when he won the 100 yard race in the pool at North Chelmsford to the Vesper heat house. Wrenn took the lead at the start and was never headed.

Chester Hartigan of the Federal Shoe Co. is secretary of the committee on sports for the coming Summer. He has received 25 entries for the 10-mile marathon.

Walter Lyons of the Saco-Loewell shops led his team of South End litters to Lawrence Saturday afternoon when they were defeated in a close game by the fast Centipede aggregation of that city. The final score was 3-1. The Lawrence team will play this afternoon at 2 o'clock and Wally avers his boys will more than make up for Saturday's setback.

Patrick Flannery of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. is thinking seriously of leaving the city and as a result the boys are worrying for the camp is now likely to go shy on milk. Undoubtedly Pat is pined because the boys have chartered the milk truck, but they have promised to find another appellation if he will allow the cow to pasture in back of the Falcon camp for the rest of the summer, at least.

Slasher Tenders' Meeting and Smoker

The Slasher Tenders' union will hold an open meeting and smoker tonight in Trades and Labor hall, and all members and friends of the organization are extended an cordial invitation to attend. A number of prominent local and out of town labor men have been secured as speakers, and an enjoyable musical program will be carried out.

Bartenders' Union
A very enjoyable entertainment was held yesterday afternoon in Trades and Labor hall by the Bartenders' union, at which an interesting program of vocal and instrumental music was carried out. An exceptionally large audience was present and the work of the committee in charge was made the occasion of favorable comment.

Ring Spinners' Union

The books of the Ring Spinners' union were audited last week by a committee appointed for that purpose by Organizer Thomas J. McMahon. The financial statement of the organization was found to be in excellent condition and a detailed report will be read at the meeting to be held Wednesday night. A list of important business will also come up for transaction at this meeting.

Labor Forward Committee

Twenty-five local labor workers appointed by the labor forward committee Saturday afternoon distributed 5000 circulars in French and English, relative to the French mass meeting they were to be accompanied by two witnesses who have known the applicant to be a resident of the United States for at least five years and of Massachusetts for six months or more. The clerk then questions the applicant relative to his birthplace, date of coming to the United States and about his family.

McMahon to Stay

Organizer Thomas J. McMahon of the United Textile Workers will stay in this city for some time as a result of a communication from the head office received Saturday in which he was instructed to establish an office in Lowell. Within the past three months, according to McMahon, over 500 new members have joined textile labor organizations in this city as a direct result of the labor forward movement.

ST. ANTHONY'S DAY

FEAST OBSERVED BY LOCAL ITALIAN SOCIETY—ADDRESSES BY PUBLIC MEN AT HALL

The members of St. Antonio de Padua society, a local Italian society, observed the feast of their patron saint in a fitting manner yesterday, the celebration consisting of a church service with sermon, street parade and reception at the rooms of the organization in Chapel street in the afternoon.

The celebration was an 11th hour affair, for it had been decided not to celebrate this year, but on Friday night some of the officers of the society arranged a program. The mayor and members of the municipal council as well as the chaplain of the society, Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church were invited to participate in the parade and also attend the reception in the afternoon. The service at St. Peter's church is reported elsewhere.

At the close of the service the parade was formed in front of the church and the following route was covered: From Davis square, to Central, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Thordike, to Middlesex, to Gorham, to Charles and to Chapel into the hall. The guests of honor in the parade were Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher and Dr. Theophile Larrin.

At 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon the members of the society and their friends gathered at the hall, where a social hour was spent. President Vincent Marotta presided over the gathering and in a brief address he thanked the members for their support in the celebration and he welcomed the guests. Among those who spoke were Rev. Dr. D. J. Keleher, Mayor D. J. Murphy, Commissioner James H. Putnam, City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy, James O'Sullivan, Jacomo Muzza, Ferdinandio d'Arizzo, and others. The band played several selections and refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed.

The marshal of the parade was Angelo Filato, who was assisted by Louis Maoli, John de Paulis, Juan de Luca. The committee in charge consisted of the following: Vincent Marotta, chairman; Ferdinandio d'Arizzo, Juan de Luca, Andrea Traversi, Frank Zifina, Louis Azzitelli.

AGAINST EPIDEMIC

Central Sanitary Committee Formed—Visits Principal Hospitals in Northern Serbia

NISH, Serbia, June 13, via London, June 14, 3 a. m.—In order to take more efficacious measures against epidemics, a central sanitary committee has been formed. It is composed of the chiefs of the American, British, Russian and French missions and a Serbian sanitary staff. The president of the committee is Sir Ralph Paget, who, with Dr. Richard P. Strong, chief of the American committee and Mr. Grouitch, under-secretary for foreign affairs have visited the principal hospitals in northern Serbia.

BRYAN WILL ISSUE STATEMENT PROPOSING A MEANS TO END THE WAR

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Former Secretary Bryan announced through friends today that he will issue another statement proposing a means of ending the war.

NATURALIZATION COURT

Clerk Dillingham Issued Second Papers at the Court House This Morning

About 25 applicants for second naturalization papers were examined by the clerk of Middlesex county, William C. Dillingham and his assistant, Mr. Reane, in the clerk's office in the local court house today. The examination opened at 9 o'clock and from that hour until late this afternoon the officials were busy questioning the would-be citizens and putting them through the proper proceedings.

Each person eligible to apply for his second papers must have taken out his first papers at least two years ago. He also had to be accompanied by two witnesses who have known the applicant to be a resident of the United States for at least five years and of Massachusetts for six months or more. The clerk then questions the applicant relative to his birthplace, date of coming to the United States and about his family.

Among those at the court house today were representatives of many different European countries.

The clerk will also be at his office in the city tomorrow for second papers. Mr. Dillingham stated that he would be in Lowell till Friday if business was sufficient to warrant it.

C. M. A. C.

The annual devotional ceremonies of the C. M. A. C., which consist of receiving communion in the morning and special church services in the afternoon, were held yesterday and the attendance at both the morning and afternoon services was very large.

The members of the association gathered in their hall in Park street at 5:30 o'clock and marched to St. Joseph's church, where they attended the 7:30 o'clock mass, the celebrant of the mass being Rev. Julien Racette, O. M. I. The men received holy communion in a body and listened to a very eloquent sermon by the chaplain, Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O. M. I., who took for his subject, the association's motto, "Je Crois et Je Professe." I Believe and I Profess.

At the close of the mass breakfast was served in the rooms of the organization and post prandial exercises were held. A silent toast was given to the memory of a former president, Emery Cognac, who was buried this morning, and addresses were made by the following: Henry Achin, Sr. Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., Louis St. Jean, Henry V. Charbonneau, Esq., Arthur L. Eno, Esq., Joseph Provost, Henry Chabut, Isidore Trudel, Frank Ricard and others.

In the afternoon special services were held at St. Jean Baptiste church at 3 o'clock, the sermon being given by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. H. Racette. M. I. Hymns were sung by A. H. Giroux and Adolphe Brassard and the ceremony closed with solemn benediction. The committee in charge consisted of the following: Louis St. Jean, chairman; Ludger Ouellette, secretary-treasurer; J. L. Lamoureux, Frank Leclair, Onesime Tremblay, Arthur St. Hilaire, ex-officio. President Arthur St. Hilaire presided over the post prandial exercises after the breakfast.

AT BETSY ROSS HOUSE

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—The 148th anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress was observed by patriotic exercises today in the Betsy Ross house, where the first emblem was made. School children figured largely in the observance.

Flag day was also observed at Independence hall.

CITIZENS ASK THAT LAND BE ACQUIRED ON BANK OF WESTERN CANAL FOR PARK PURPOSES

A petition bearing a long list of signatures has been submitted to the municipal council asking that the city of Lowell acquire by lease from the locks & Canals company the banks of the Western canal along Suffolk and Hanover streets and between Moody and Market streets, the same to be used for a public park. The building of an ornamental fence close to the water and the removal of the present unsightly board fences, the petition reads, will not only greatly beautify that locality, but make possible a much desired breathing place in a very congested district. The petition will be read at the regular meeting of the municipal council tomorrow.

PAY HOMAGE TO FLAG

PRES. WILSON URGES AMERICANS TO ALWAYS REMEMBER THEIR PATRIOTISM

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Wilson, speaking at Flag day exercises here today, urged Americans to remember their patriotism on other days than national holidays and to carry the flag of the country ever in their hearts.

The president made no direct reference to the European war or to international questions. The exercises were held on the south steps of the treasury building. When the president arrived a large audience stood and cheered until he waved his hand for silence.

Introducing the president, Secretary McAdoo said the meeting was to pay homage to the flag of our country, "at a time when it has a deeper significance than ever before in the world's history, when it is the hope of civilization."

The exercises were attended by Secretary Lansing, Secretary Daniels, Senator Simmons and many other government officials. A chorus of treasury department employees sang patriotic songs before and after the president's address.

HARVARD CREW OUT

RED TOP, Conn., June 14.—The morning work of the Harvard crews was short today. It has been planned to have a half mile brush between the two varsity eights and the freshman eight and to this end the three crews were sent across the Thomas to the half mile flag. On the way over Cabot, at No. 7 in the senior varsity eight broke his oar and all three shells were pulled back to the start.

Coach Wray was at No. 6 in the senior eight in place of Middendorf, who is suffering from a boil.

FIRST TIONITARIAN CHURCH

A delightful concert was given at the First Tionitarian Congregational church last evening, a feature of the evening being organ selections by Dr. Minor C. Baldwin, whose playing was most pleasing. Others who contributed to the program were an augmented choir of 50, Nathaniel W. Matthews, Jr., and others. The pastor delivered a short sermon on "The Reach of Religion in Religion." Percy W. Edmunds directed the singing and Walter W. Coburn accompanied.

G. Y. M. C. OUTING

Camp Texas, in Tyngsboro, was the objective point of a large number of members of the G. Y. M. C. yesterday afternoon, and the day was spent enjoyably with an excellent dinner, prepared by Caterer Matthew Clark, and a well arranged musical program. Henry Sullivan, the well known swimmer and his trainer, John Conlin, also furnished the members with a little excitement when they started in the Merrimack on a 10 mile swim. Both swimmers were finished in good condition. The course was from the camp to a point about five miles above and back. They were accompanied by Frank O'Neil, John O'Connor, Patrick McGrell and Bartholomew Murray in boats.

After the swimming event supper was served in the camp, and in the evening victrola selections were enjoyed.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS BY THE SUPREME COURT

Conviction of Caminetti Stands— Virginia Debt Case, Webb-Ken- yon and Cash Register Cases

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The supreme court today declined to review the conviction of F. Drew Caminetti, of Sacramento, Cal., on charges of violating the white slave law.

National Cash Register Case
The supreme court today declined to review the reversal by the Sixth United States circuit court of appeals of the conviction of officials of the National Cash Register Co. of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The Webb-Kenyon Case
The supreme court today disposed of the so-called Kentucky Webb-Kenyon liquor cases without determining the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law or passing on its construction.

The Kentucky case was a prosecution of the Adams Express Co. for bringing liquor for personal use from Tennessee into Whitley county, Kentucky "dry territory."

Justice Day for the court, held it was bound to accept the decision of the Kentucky court of appeals that the Webb-Kenyon law was not applicable. Under that decision the conviction of the express company was set aside.

Harvester Trust Case
The supreme court handed down no decision in the International Harvester Trust case today.

The supreme court today recessed until June 21 when it will adjourn until next October.

THE VIRGINIA DEBT CASE
WASHINGTON, June 14.—The supreme court today decided the long standing Virginia-West Virginia debt case holding Virginia should pay $12,334,929 as its net share of the Virginia debt at the time of the partition of the states.

The report of the late Charles E. Littlefield, an special master, was upheld in all particulars except one minor finding. The court held that West Virginia was entitled to its share of the assets arising from the original principal debt, and fixed that amount at $2,556,000.

West Virginia is required by the court to pay $5,178,000 in interest computed at 3 per cent from 1861 to date and 4 per cent from 1861 to 1891.

Petrograd Reports 20,000 Germans Killed—Berlin Announces Important Victory With the Capture of 16,000 Prisoners—Other War News

A despatch to Paris says the Italian eastern army, which has forced its way across the lower Isonzo, capturing Montefalco is pushing forward along the Gulf of Trieste towards the city of Trieste. Further progress was made yesterday. The next immediate objective is the town of Nabresina, on the Gulf, nine miles from Trieste.

Furious Fighting
In northern Galicia, between Przemyśl and Lemberg, there has been a renewal of furious fighting and, according to an official announcement from Berlin today, the Teutonic allies have gained an important victory. An attack along a 43 mile front is said to have resulted in capture of the Russian positions between Czerlawa, northwest of Nosivka, and Sienawa, northwest of the San. The announcement says 16,000 prisoners were taken yesterday.

A press despatch from Petrograd gives another version of what apparently was the same battle. It is said 48,000 men of the Russian army attacking forces were killed, the remainder being routed.

Fighting in France
In northern France heavy fighting continues. The German war office today announced that the French had sustained a severe defeat near Arras. The French military authorities asserted that a German work had been captured near Lorette, but admitted the Germans had recaptured part of the entrenchments at Souchez, won the previous day.

German Sink British Ship
The British steamer Hopamout, of 3200 tons, was sunk off Land's End by a German submarine. The crew was rescued.

Pierce Fighting in the Dardanelles
Heavy fighting has been resumed on the Gallipoli peninsula between the French and British forces and the Turkish army which is defending the approach to Constantinople. The Turkish war office announces that attacks of the allied forces against the right wing of the Turks were repulsed and that the attackers were thrown back to their original positions with heavy losses.

Italians Take Another Town
Occupation of the Carinthian town of Valentinia by the Italians is announced officially at Rome. Along the Isonzo river a battle of large proportions has been in progress for several days. Although the Italians apparently have won some advantages, the Austrians have brought up reinforcements and are offering determined resistance.

British Steamer Sunk
The 3500-ton British steamer Ardale has been sunk in the White sea by a mine. A German submarine set fire to a Danish schooner, after placing her crew on another Danish sailing vessel which was permitted to proceed.

NO CONFIRMATION OF REPORT THAT AUSTRO-GERMANS HAVE OCCUPIED ZURAWNA
LONDON, June 14, 12:38 p. m.—Although the French would appear to be unrelenting in their offensive work which is netting them slow progress in northeastern France, the situation in the eastern arena of the war, where the Austro-Germans are striving every nerve to deliver a crushing blow to the Russians, remains of the utmost importance. No confirmation has yet been received of the report that the Austro-Germans have recaptured Zurawna but further to the south they are across the river Dniester and on Russian soil in Bessarabia.

Fighting in East
Not for months past has there been such general activity on the eastern front. Checked at the center of the Galician line, the Austro-Germans have developed an offensive on both wings at the same time, and they are starting another battle in Poland to the north of Przemyśl. There is confusion fighting going on at the same time in the Baltic provinces, so it may be said that the contenders are at grips once more from the Baltic to the Rumanian frontier.

War Party Leading in Greece
The stand which the Russians have been making recently in Galicia indicates to British observers that their shortage of ammunition has been overcome. It was this shortage, according to the belief here, that enabled the Austro-Germans last month to sweep across the country and take Przemyśl in such record time.

In Greece the followers of Former premier Venizelos who resigned because Greece would not enter the war on the side of the allies, seemed to have had the upper hand, judging from the early returns of the general elections held in that kingdom. Indorsement of the policies of M. Venizelos may have a bearing on Greece's future course of action.

JOSEPH MULLIN WAS ON STR. BUNKER HILL

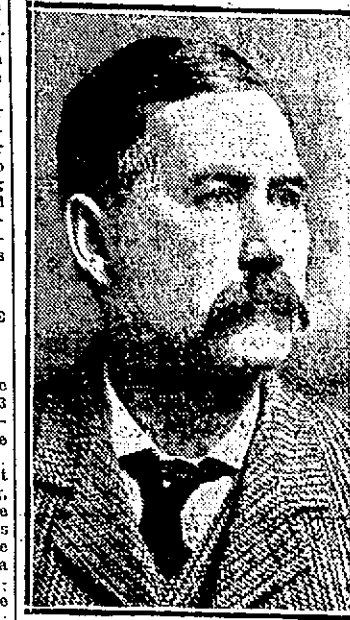

Relates Exciting Experiences When Yacht Rammed Vessel, Killing Two Men

Joseph Mullin, the well known coal dealer, and Charles Baron of this city, formerly connected with the local office of the Bay State Street Railway, were passengers on the Metropolitan Line steamer "Bunker Hill" which was badly damaged in collision with the yacht "Vanadla" early last evening while proceeding from New York to Boston. A complete account of the accident appears in another column.

Mr. Mullin arrived in this city this forenoon and when seen by a reporter of The Sun gave the following account of the accident:

"We left New York at 5 o'clock and an intense fog came on shortly afterward which made it impossible to discern any objects more than the shortest distance away. I came out of the dining saloon just at 7 o'clock and went to my stateroom on the starboard side of the boat to have an after-supper and read and smoke. I had hardly sat

FRANK HEARING

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—Solicitor Dorsey, arguing today before Governor Slaton against Leo M. Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence, declared that even if the testimony of James Conley, the factory sweeper, were eliminated, Frank had been proved guilty of Mary Phagan's murder by the testimony of other witnesses at the trial.

Mr. Dorsey sought to show by the record that Frank had a fair trial and that the trial judge was sufficiently convinced of Frank's guilt to refuse him a new trial.

In reviewing the record the solicitor cited alleged contradictions in Frank's testimony before the coroner, and his statement at the trial. He said that the record showed Frank never accused Conley with connection with the murder until after Conley had been arrested and also that he never told officials that Conley could write although he knew it when detectives were seeking to prove that Conley wrote the "murder notes" found beside the girl's body.

Mr. Dorsey discussed the case on three points raised by Frank's attorneys:

First, that Frank was not accorded a fair trial, second, that the evidence did not show the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt; third, that Judge L. H. Roan, the trial judge, was not convinced of the prisoner's guilt.

Regarding the first point, Mr. Dorsey said counsel never asked a change of venue, and that there was no antagonistic sentiment toward Frank prior to the trial.

"There were developments in the trial," he said, "which might have been calculated to incense the people, because of the harrowing details of the crime. The state supreme court, however, ruled on this point that there had been no showing by the defense that there had been any demonstration in the courtroom which would have been held to have deprived the prisoner of a fair trial."

Judge Roan himself, declared the solicitor, said he had a fair trial. "The record shows," he continued, "the demonstration by the crowd outside the courtroom was not heard by the jurors and that there was nothing to justify the allegation that the courtroom was a mob. The trial judge, who was not convinced of the prisoner's guilt, ruled that the trial was fair."

The state and federal courts, said Mr. Dorsey, held that Frank had not been deprived of any right in that he was absent from the courtroom, at the request of the trial judge when the verdict was returned. The trial judge, he said, also held that allegations of mob violence were not sustained.

Mr. Dorsey was interrupted to allow the Rev. C. B. Wilmer, a local Episcopal minister, to present a petition from Atlanta ministers, urging commutation.

Resuming, Mr. Dorsey replied briefly to Dr. Wilmer, declaring he felt the state had a clear case against Frank without using the testimony of the negro James Conley. He offered in evidence affidavits from the sheriff and several deputies, in which they denied there was evidence of mob violence in the courtroom.

The solicitor declared that ten witnesses gave evidence derogatory to Frank's moral character prior to the murder of Mary Phagan, and that the defense did not ask any of these witnesses a single question. He quoted excerpts from the testimony of witnesses other than Conley, attacking Frank's morals.

Frank, Mr. Dorsey said, contended that he did not know the Phagan girl, but the state showed by four witnesses that he did know her and one witness testified that he saw Frank talking to her.

The solicitor called attention to alleged discrepancies between Frank's statements at the coroner's inquest and at the trial concerning his action on the day of the murder. New Lee, the watchman, testified that on the afternoon of the murder he went to the factory at 4 o'clock, declared Mr. Dorsey, "and found the double inside doors locked, contrary to custom." Frank, he testified, told him to go and have a good time until 6 o'clock. Lee also testified that Frank telephoned him that night asking if everything was all right. "Something he had never done before."

14,000 CHICAGO CARMEN STRIKE--INCREASE DENIED

Greatest Street Car Strike the United States Has Known— Steam Roads and Jitneys Busy

CHICAGO, June 14.—What is said to be the greatest street car strike the United States has known began here at 4 o'clock this morning. Fourteen thousand persons were thrown out of employment, 1410 miles of single elevated and surface track rendered idle and a burden thrown on steam roads, automobiles, vans and other vehicles which they were able to meet only in small part.

For four hours not a car moved. Then a South Side elevated train carrying a few passengers made a round trip as a test. As a result it was announced that an attempt would be made to run trains with strike-breakers and guards every 15 minutes. The surface lines made no attempt to work.

Policemen and private guards were stationed over all company property but no disorder was reported early. Business was not paralyzed but it was denuded. The tie-up in one way or another affected every branch of the city's activities.

Steam Roads Swamped
The steam railroads put on extra trains and extra coaches, but were swamped with business. Lines of persons waiting to get through the turnstiles stretched for blocks away from the stations and tens of thousands walked to their work.

The rupture over hours of service and wages came last night when Mayor Thompson admitted that his attempt at mediation was a failure.

At 4 o'clock the last car had been quietly retired and the struggle was

BERLIN OFFICIAL REPORT CLAIMS SUCCESS FOR GERMANS IN GALICIA

BERLIN, June 14, via London, 3:20 p. m.—Official announcement was made here this afternoon that Gen. von Mackensen has occupied the Russian positions along the entire front in the eastern arena of the fighting from Czerlawa to Sienawa.

These places are in Galicia. Sienawa is 15 miles northwest of Jaroslau on the river San.

"Western theatre of war: The French suffered a severe defeat on the front between Llevin and Arras. After the enemy's columns which were preparing to make an advance by storm had been repulsed several times in the course of the day by our artillery, strong enemy attacks in close formation were begun towards evening against our positions on both sides of the Lorette hills and on the Neuville-Roclin court front. Our opponents were repulsed everywhere with heavy losses. All our positions are firmly in our hands.

"Minor attacks by the enemy on the Yser canal were repulsed.

"East of Hebuterne infantry battles have not led to any results worth mentioning. Advances against positions conquered by us in Champagne were frustrated at the very outset.

"Eastern theatre of war: In the neighborhood of Kusio northwest of Shavli, a few enemy positions were taken. Three officers and 300 men were taken prisoners. Southeast of the road from Varsampol to Konow our troops took the first Russian line by storm. Three officers and 313 men were captured.

"Southeastern theatre of war: General von Mackensen began an attack over a line extending 70 kilometers, (43 miles). Starting from their positions at Czerlawa, northwest of Moselska and at Sienawa the enemy's positions have been taken along the entire length of the front. Sixteen thousand prisoners fell into our hands yesterday.

"Attacks by the troops under Gen. von Linsingen and Gen. von der Marwitz also made progress."

MIDSHIPMAN WARD TESTIFIES BEFORE NAVAL COURT OF INQUIRY

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 14.—That Midshipman Moss, Duncan and T. W. Harrison of the last third class, who have been recommended for dismissal for "gouging," were no more guilty than the majority of the class, in the opinion of the classmates, was decided today by Midshipman Clarence Ward before the naval court of inquiry investigating irregularities in examinations at the institution.

Ward, who was president of the class, was a bluejacket in the navy prior to entering the academy. It also was the general belief of the class, he said, that the integrity of the three defendants was such that they would not stoop so low as to steal an examination paper.

Moss is the midshipman who claims to have received through the mail from an anonymous source papers which he believed to be legitimate "depos" or information, but which the academy authorities contend he and all others who say they should have known were of fictitious papers prepared for the last examination in the modern languages.

Ward said he would believe, and he thought all his classmates would be-

NERVOUS ASSAULT
Nelson Kibbe, Stabbed, Clubbed and Robbed by Masked Men, Who Then Set Fire to House

MILLBURY, June 14.—Nelson Kibbe was assaulted, stabbed, clubbed and robbed by two masked men who left him unconscious on the floor of his home after setting fire to the house early today. The house and barn were burned to the ground.

The Kibbe house is near the Millbury-Sutton line. Kibbe states he was attacked by two masked men as he was about to come from his room into the kitchen. He fought fiercely but was overpowered. He received stab wounds in the head, chest and hands, and was clubbed on the back of the head until unconscious. He was relieved of $500 and a gold watch.

Following the struggle Kibbe remembered nothing until he came to in a cloud of smoke and flames. He succeeded in reaching the road unaided.

WIDOWS SEEK DAMAGES AGAINST RAILROAD—HUSBANDS KILLED AT CROSSING

NEW YORK, June 14.—The first of two damage suits for sums aggregating $750,000 against the Long Island Railroad Co. came to trial in the supreme court in Long Island City today, the complainants being Mrs. William S. Laimbeer and Mrs. S. Osgood Pell, both of New York, whose husbands were killed in an automobile accident at a grade crossing near Long beach in August, 1913.

Mrs. Laimbeer, who was so severely injured in the crash that for a time her life was despaired of, is suing for $500,000, and Mrs. Pell for $250,000. Mrs. Pell's suit was called today. Among the witnesses who expected to be called was William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was riding in an automobile just behind the one occupied by Messrs. Laimbeer and Pell.

BUILDERS' OUTING TOMORROW

The members of the Builders' exchange will hold their annual outing tomorrow, the affair this year to be held at the Sunnyside Lake Inn, Lynnfield, Mass. The members will meet at the exchange in the Sun building at 11 o'clock and the trip to the summer resort will be by automobiles. It is expected about thirty members and their friends will take part. A dinner will be served upon arrival at the inn and afterwards an automobile trip through the various beaches in the state will be enjoyed.

PROTESTANT CHURCHES

Children's Day Was Observed by Elaborate Programs and Floral Displays

Yesterday was Children's Sunday and appropriate exercises were held in all of the Protestant churches. The floral decorations were very pretty and in many cases the programs were quite elaborate. In some of the churches the exercises took the place of the morning services, while in other churches the exercises were held in the evening. Record attendances was the order of the day.

First Baptist Church

At the First Baptist church the exercises took the place of the morning service and there was a fine program, the general subject being "Sunshine and Smiles." The decorations were in perfect harmony with the occasion and at the end of the program growing geraniums were presented to 150 children. The program was arranged by Miss L. P. Trull, Mrs. Edward W. Trull and Mrs. James F. Flemings, superintendents. The decorations were by Mrs. Preble, Mrs. William Myers, Miss Alice Flemings and Mrs. Simmons. The program was as follows:

At Pawtucket Church
There were few vacant seats at Pawtucket church when the Children's day exercises were held Sunday morning. "Children at Home" was the keynote of the program which was directed by Leonard Ryan. Miss Eleanor Lecheur had charge of the primary department, and Mrs. Thomas Varum of the kindergarten. At the close of the service the plants were distributed to the children. There were seven little ones baptized in the early part of the service.

At Westminster Church
At the Westminster church in Tyler street the Children's day exercises were held in the morning. The platform was prettily decorated with potted plants, field daisies, violets and cut flowers. The potted geraniums were distributed to the children. The following program was given by the Sunday school. Recitation, "Welcome," Christine MacDonald; recitation, Evelyn Wallace; recitation, Violet Watts; singing, Mrs. Hattie Fraser's class; recitation, Emma Fulton; recitation, Jean MacDonald; recitation, Nettie Wallace; singing, school; recitation, Eleanor MacDonald; recitation, Bessie Johnston; singing, Miss Anna Hazen's class; recitation, Dolores McKenzie; recitation, Margaret McKittick; singing, school; recitation, Irene McKenize; recitation, Helen Cunningham; recitation, Marie Morris; recitation, Esther Blackie; singing, school; address, Rev. Calvary Baptist Church
Children's day exercises were held both morning and evening at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday. The evening service was preceded by the ordinance of baptism and there was a large congregation present. The pastor, Rev. Asa Reed Dills, took for his morning sermon to the children, "Some Important Little Things." The importance of little things was emphasized by reference to the work of bees in securing honey, the raindrop that makes the river and the journey at one step at a time. The pastor told how the Sunday school was founded in 1753 with only a few children and that now there are 30,000,000 in the schools throughout the world. The decorations included the American flag, potted plants and cut flowers. Potted geraniums were given to the members of the primary department at the evening service.

NEARLY KILLED

Thinking He Was Burglar Stanton Shot Son-in-law

WENHAM, June 14.—Thinking that burglars were entering his home at 12:30 yesterday morning, Arthur C. Stanton, aged 50, of Friend street, nearly killed his son-in-law, Fred Underhill, aged 25, who had been missing since Thursday.

Underhill returned home early Sunday morning and was not able to awaken anybody in the house. Accordingly he placed a ladder near a chamber window at the rear. The noise frightened Mr. Stanton, who opened the window and discharged his rifle. The shot passed through the clothing of his son-in-law, making a slight wound on his left shoulder. Underhill turned down the ladder and ran into Main street, crying that he was shot. His cries were heard by the neighbors, but by the time they got dressed he had disappeared again. When Chief of Police Fred Knowlton arrived Mr. Stanton was near the Bay State car barn on Main street with the rifle in his hand. He was much excited and told the chief what had happened. Chief Knowlton took the rifle and sent Stanton home. Gypsy Moth Cresote, gal. 35c

Yesterday morning the police, with William Homan, night man at the Bay State railroad car barn, started for Danvers in an automobile to find Underhill and met him near the Danvers line.

He told the police he was on his way to the Burley farm and they brought him back to Wenham. Later in a swamp not far from the farm they found a coat and revolver belonging to Underhill. Underhill said he was on his way to Burley street to end his life when he was caught by the police. A few months ago Underhill bought out a laundry business in Beverly which was formerly owned by the late Robert Whipple, and as near as could be learned it did not turn out successfully. Other stories are that Mr. Stanton and Mr. Underhill have never been on the best of terms, as Mr. Stanton objected to the marriage of his daughter to him, and it is alleged that the couple were carried unknown to the father. Mr. Stanton will have nothing to say in regard to the affair. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Underhill was taken to the Danvers insane hospital for treatment. Mr. Underhill was born in the town, and is well known here. He has a wife and one child.

Miss Barrymore's talent has been so widely recognized, and her admirers have been so numerous, that it is not surprising that she has spent in the larger centers. Now, however, through the enterprise of the management of the B. F. Keith theatre, Miss Barrymore will show her wonderfully graphic and her versatility to the theatre-going public of the city. She will appear in "The Nightingale," a five-act photo-drama written by the 6th of American playwrights, Augustus Thomas.

The leading character of the piece, that of "Isola," a street singer, who later becomes a grand opera star, allows Miss Barrymore, who is famous for the display of her talents. When Miss Barrymore was asked to make her debut into the moving picture world, she seemed pleased, but said it was not alone a matter for her to decide, as her manager, the late Charles Frohman, in renewing her contract for last season, stipulated that she could appear under no other management than his without his written consent, and never to appear in a theatre where there was not a two-dollar admission charge. Miss Barrymore had been approached by several moving picture producers, but when she informed them of the proviso in the contract they all diplomatically withered away. For they felt it impossible to gain the consent of America's foremost manager. However, Augustus Thomas, who evolves real dramatic ideas at a wonderful rate, was a great friend of Frohman's and, having written the scenario of "The Nightingale," having Miss Barrymore in mind, he sought out Frohman and put the proposition squarely up to him. Of course, as was to be expected, Frohman demurred. Later, however, he read the scenario, and was so pleased with its story, and with its legitimate effects that he consented to follow his pet star to appear before the moving picture camera. Five one-reel features will be shown in addition to this big picture. The concluding three days of the week S. M. Keith in "The Cowboy and the Lady" will be featured.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Today marks the grand opening of the grand Paramount week at the Merrimack Square theatre. During this week there will be shown four of the latest Paramount releases featuring some of the best known and most popular stars that have ever appeared in this city. At all the performances given at this theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday there will be shown the five-act Paramount feature, just released, "The House of the Last Court and Wildflower," also a five-reel Paramount. The former feature is made doubly attractive by the presence of Viola Dana, the charming Broadway favorite who numbers a long list of stage successes, who appears in the principal role of this thrilling romance of intrigue and daring, written by the facile pen of the celebrated English writer, Mrs. C. N. Williamson. The other Paramount feature, above mentioned, namely, "Wildflower," features that it is a story of a dangerous Clark, who won so many rounds of applause when she recently appeared at the Merrimack Square theatre. In this highly entertaining picture Miss Clark who is so small, but so sweet, is even more charming than ever. These are the two big Paramount features, which will be shown during the first part of "Parade Paramount Week" at the Merrimack Square theatre. In accordance with the established custom, the management of this theatre has arranged for a very amusing amateur night for Tuesday evening when there will appear some of the very best amateur talent available. All the acts and songs are many—will be new and original.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
A stirring pictureization of a celebrated drama, produced and acted in a new and original way, a deep impression upon all who witness it, is "The Colors," the leading feature at the Academy for today, Tuesday and Wednesday. The picture is shown in five thrilling acts replete with beautiful settings and tense situations. The leading characters will be interpreted by the superbly trained dramatic artists, Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley who have delighted Academy audiences on former occasions in other pictures. for today is an episode in "The Black Box," the great mystery serial. This story is nearing a conclusion and "Detective Sanford Quest" has got to show something pretty quickly with reference to the identity of the criminals. Four other reels, including a first class comedy will complete today's program. Don't forget the amateurs tomorrow night.

BARBECUE AT KASINO
Walter Brown, formerly of George Evans' Honey Boy minstrels, who so successfully directed the Manhattan club, will personally direct an original New Orleans Barbecue at the Kasino on Friday evening, June 18. It will be an innovation for Lowell and taking the success of the cabaret feature as a criterion it should prove one of the greatest innovations given in Lowell in a long time. Mr. Brown's reputation is well known in Lowell, and he leaves that after the coming event his stocks will soar. He will be assisted by several performers from New York and Boston, while of course he will patronize some of the present some of Lowell's most talented artists. Among the latter will be Miss Madeline Island, William O'Donnell, George "Tabe" Rogers, Walter Clough, and Joe Pony. All are leaders in their line and their offerings will be entirely new. In fact the whole program will sparkle with new and up-to-the-minute numbers. Dancing will also be on the program. After the barbecue, Mr. Brown will depart for New York where he has an engagement with the Frohman theatre company. This will also be Miss Boland's last local appearance.

THE DAY AND THE FLAG

This is the day on which we honor the flag. There is no need to specify what flag, for though America is the home of millions who have themselves or whose fathers forsaken all the other flags of the earth, we know but one—the glorious Stars and Stripes. It is the flag born of the greatest ideal of freedom the world has known; it is the highest, grandest, noblest emblem of human liberty. It was the flag of Washington, the heritage he left to the generations of free men who came after him; it was the flag which Lincoln saw as a guiding star through the dark night of the Civil war. It is the flag which floats today above all flags as the flag of the only real democracy which the earth has known. It is the flag for which our fathers fought and for the preservation of which our children and our children's children will be ready to fight, and to die should it ever again be menaced by tyranny or injustice.

Today, in a world of war, it is the flag of peace. Other flags may symbolize the devotion of nations and of peoples to other ideals; other flags may call the youth from the fireside and the family roost to be torn to pieces by shot and shrapnel. Other flags, seen through the smoke of battles may spur the soldier on to a last superhuman effort for his national ideals; but to the peoples of all nations, the American flag stands out for peace, justice to all men, personal liberty, prosperity and national integrity. Still, it is no less inspiring to us than the battle flags are to their respective troops, for in no nation does the flag more represent the deepest devotion of the individual than in this nation over which the Star and Stripes floats sublime in the summer sunshine.

Once in ages long ago, three kings in the east saw a sign in the sky and they followed it to where in a manger an infant lay, the sight of Whom repaid them for the toils of the mountain and the heats of the desert. Today, we are too much concerned with worldly affairs to see the signs of heaven, but wherever the human heart has thirsted for liberty, from tropical lands to the land of snows, a symbol of liberty has shone in the sky, and thousands have followed it with steadfast hearts and shining eyes. It is the symbol which we honor today—the symbol which has offered a haven to the afflicted of the earth who have fled from the yoke of bondage to the land where all men are free—to Columbia, the asylum of the enslaved, the home of the brave and free.

The flag that we honor today is to us a protection and to all the rest of the world a hope. It is a protection which we would defend with the greatest sacrifice that men can give, if national honor demands it. It is a hope to all the world that lies outside the circle of light which we know as American liberty. They who now strive against bitter foes where the waves of war engulf every human happiness see in it a sign of the service to humanity which will point the path to peace, when the insane orgies of blood shall cease and all mankind, including even the belligerent nations, shall unite to deplore one of the worst blows ever dealt to civilization.

If the flag which has flown today over our marts, our manufactures and homes is to stand for the ideals of Washington, Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson, it must be respected by all governments whether in peace or war. It must not be insulted by one power or used by another as a shield against the blows of the enemy. It must stand, as it has always stood, for America and all things American, a sign of the spirit that demands nothing but justice but that will protect all American rights, so that the Stars and Stripes will mean to generations to come what it means to us today. With all reverence we salute this glorious flag, hoping that never, by act of its own people, or servile subservience to any other people shall its stars or bars be less bright than they are in June, 1915, and that it may proudly wave forever over the destinies of this republic, the greatest, the freest and grandest the world has ever seen.

INCREASE IN SHIPPING

It is reported that seven of the largest American shipyards have under construction 50 seagoing steamships, of an aggregate registered tonnage of about 300,000. This is three times as much as the reported tonnage under construction a year ago and there are reports of contracts and further activities in shipping circles throughout the country. Apparently American business is waking up to the possibilities of American shipping as an investment, or else coming to the rescue of American shippers because of dire necessity.

With a very few exceptions, all of the ships under construction are for the American coastwise trade, still leaving the larger shipping problem unsolved. Our coastwise shipping has always been restricted to American bottoms, and the absence of American ships from the larger inter-oceanic trade is still most apparent. It is to be presumed that the private enterprise which provides ships for the coastwise trade would provide ships for the larger trade, were it not that the task is too great at present for private capital.

American ships that would enter the transportation service to all world ports must compete with ships of other nations that are backed up by government subsidies or other aids. Congress has always been opposed to this form of aid in the United States, but when a more direct government service was broached, it was opposed as something pernicious in the extreme. Now it must be confessed, after many months of uncertainty, America will either have to resort to the government-owned merchant marine system, or change its mind about subsidies and maritime laws, for private capital cannot be obtained for the establishing of the necessary system.

This shipping question has been again called to the attention of the public recently by two far-reaching allegations—one for new lines with South America and the other for new lines to the Orient, and China in particular.

FOURTH OF JULY

It is to be most sincerely hoped that the great show planned for this city July 4th will not mean a return to the unsafe observance which until the last few years left a long list of maimed and injured. Gradually the movement for a safe and sane Fourth has grown and developed until statistics of recent celebrations proved that Fourth of July is no longer a thing of terror to parents. With the military character of the celebration in this city in the near future, there is danger that our young citizens, and impulsive individuals among undertakers that is now so painfully evident on such occasions.

It was reported in the early stages of the war, and apparently on good authority, that some English authorities had made a good financial offer to Billy Sunday to go to England as an advocate of recruiting. That there was a field for his eloquence there is no doubt, and that the government of any country in such a crisis would like to avail of silver tongues is also undeniable.

This offer and its rejection are now recalled by the mission which our ex-secretary has set out to accomplish, and in which he figures with so much grace and such little consistency. In the appeal to the "German-Americans," especially, he does not appeal for recruits, but he comes out strongly in support of the administration policy, and eliminates himself as the possible leader of the more extreme administration critics. In short, he bids fair to be rejected by both the supporters of the administration and the opponents of the administration. Bryan without a following is inconceivable, but who his followers will be, and how many they will number, are difficult questions to answer.

It is the conviction of Bryan that the Germans in this country and those of German extraction can do a great deal for the promotion of a better feeling between the two governments by urging toleration on the German government and correctly reporting the American attitude. To this end, he asks them to consider the administration's policies in the furtherance of neutrality and makes out a strong case for the American view.

He appeals to them for aid in rolling back the war cloud which exists only in his imagination. It is very difficult to disabuse Mr. Bryan of the idea that were this country deprived of his guidance and unofficial advice but for a short time, the Union would dissolve, and the government at Washington through a reverse process of evolution be reduced to elemental chaos.

All doctors do not agree, and neither do all clergymen, even of one denomination, on certain points. This was borne out at the June meeting of the North Middlesex Unitarian conference in Nashua last Wednesday. One of the preachers who spoke in opposition to the proposition to endorse national prohibition was Rev. Charles T. Billings of this city, who advanced plausible arguments for his position. Mr. Billings is well known in this city as a true temperance man.

With Ex-President Taft he believes the question might best be dealt with by the state governments. On this there may be room for argument where there is none as to the need of throttling the liquor evil. We are inclined to believe, however, that Mr. Billings as well as all other sincere opponents of the liquor evil, will in due time agree that effective prohibition, however it may be attained, is the only solution of the question.

A FOOL QUESTION
"I have had many stupid questions asked me in my life," said an elderly doctor, "but the most foolish was when I was a young fellow, just beginning to make my living. A young man applied to me for some slight eye trouble. I recommended a mild wash, to be dropped in the eye three times a day. He paid the fee and disappeared—some few minutes, and suddenly struck his head back in the doorway."

"Shall that medicine," he asked, "be dropped in my eye before or after meals?"—Collier's Weekly.

EYES AND FEET
Elizabeth Marbury tells this story of her experiences while trying to find a manager who would produce the play "The Optimist."

"I don't think much of the title," was the first manager's protest.

"Do you know what it means?" asked Miss Marbury.

"Certainly," was the answer. An optimist is a man who looks after the eyes and a pessimist is a man who attends to the feet."

This reminded her of Wilton Lackaye's remark when asked if he had found a manager to produce "Les Miserables."

"Sound one to produce it?" he answered, "why I haven't even found one who could even pronounce it."—Boston Record.

ONE-WORD DESPATCH
Very few commanders have revealed any sense of humor in their campaigns, but Sir Charles Napier was an exception.

He was deputed to essay the conquest of Scinde, and after a series of fine exploits by the force of imperial discipline, he accomplished his mission. But the authorities at home waited anxiously for his despatch announcing this momentous event. The days passed, and it added to the tension. At last the long-expected missive arrived, and it contained one word, "Percival!"

A man who knew Latin was sought, and he translated it, "I have sinned (sine)!"

A NON-ALCOHOLIC TONIC
Many people need a tonic at this time of year, old folks, weak folks, thin people, people who are run-down from too much work and vacation still many weeks away. Nervous people also need a tonic but cannot safely take alcohol.

A non-alcoholic tonic that will build up the blood and strengthen the nerves is what most people need and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are exactly that.

The one symptom of this blood that everybody recognizes is pallor. It shows so gradually that other people are liable to notice it before you do. But it is important that you should notice and heed the warning because the thin blood that causes the pallor betrays some drain on the body or some poisoning by its own waste materials that, if not corrected, will result in physical breakdown and ill health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only build up the blood but they have a direct strengthening action on the nerves. As they are free from narcotics and are harmless or poisonous drugs, they are safe for every member of the family.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," and if your stomach troubles you, ask for a diet book also.

MRS. LYON'S AGES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womanhood a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory, are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

BRYAN'S QUEER TACTICS
Mr. Bryan's statement of his reason for resigning from the cabinet and in which he undertakes to disabuse the public of the policy and create a sentiment hostile to it, doesn't harmonize very well with his professions of good will and loyalty to the administration. Had he any regard for the properties he would have withheld this pronouncement, at least until the document which he attacked had been made public, when the country would be able to judge the merits or demerits of Bryan's case.—Fall River Globe.

AN APPRECIATION
Reviewing the course of Secretary Bryan in the two years of his administration of his office it is plain that he has been in many ways a great moral force. He has aroused the nation to honor the true things of life. Had he held the office when the sailing was clear he might have left a great impression upon this time. But in the highly international problems that have developed Mr. Bryan has not caught the spirit of the American people. Nor does he command them sufficiently to sway them his way. He has seen that on the whole there is the greatest confidence in the course of President Wilson and has risen to his best heights by quitting when he could not be a great help to the heavily burdened president.—Holyoke Transcript.

THE COUNTRY BOY
The country boy is not migrating to the city as fast as he did. It is beginning to dawn on him that when he drops the railing of food products he is selling out his interest in a commodity that is rapidly rising in price. Nobody ever advanced in life on that principle. And as the boys stay on in the country, the girls will stay too. The farmers are going to own many more automobiles in the year 1925 than the store clerks.—Beverly News.

NOT PARALLEL
As to warning Americans not to travel in belligerent ships, Mr. Bryan's citation of warnings to Americans in Mexico is not convincing. It would be nearer parallel, if our government warned Americans to keep out of the way while a Mexican army was selling out its interest in a commodity that is rapidly rising in price.—Lewiston Sun.

JITNEY REGULATION
New Bedford is among the cities which have formulated jitney regulations, although they have not yet been adopted. The Fall River aldermen are slow in taking up a very necessary reform. Meanwhile, the accident list, when the jitneys are crowding the highways, continues to grow.—Fall River Herald.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY
A very successful and largely attended meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Patrick's parish was held Thursday evening and considerable business of importance was transacted. Those in charge of the various tables at the Easter carnival reported excellent sales, and the financial affairs of the society reflect credit on the efforts of the officers and committees in charge of the event. In accordance with custom, it was voted to postpone the regular meetings of the society until October, active work being suspended to some extent during the summer months. A feature of the meeting was the reading of the following list of prizes and prize-winners to the Easter carnival by the secretary, Julia F. Stetson.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICNIC SANDWICHES

"We are going to have a picnic Saturday," delightedly announced Marjorie to Marie one morning. "I want to make some nice sandwiches for my part of the feast," she continued. "Will you suggest some kinds for me to make?"

"Why yes, I will surely be glad to give you what suggestions I can," answered Marie. "To begin with all sandwiches should be made with the bread crust all cut off after the slices have been placed together. Then the sandwiches may be cut into dainty shapes.

"Exceedingly effective are the sandwiches made in rolls and tied with ribbon. These rolls should not be attempted unless the filling is very thin and is spread sparingly. Plain bread and butter sandwiches are the easiest to make for rolls. Then the sandwich should be held in the steam from the kettle and turned into a narrow roll and tied with the ribbon in a neat bow.

"Where refreshments are to be eaten standing up or with gloves on the utmost care should be taken not to fill them too lavishly as the filling will soak through the edges of the bread and soil the gloves, and the bread although cut very thin should not be crumbly. Among the fillings always acceptable are those made from combinations of cream cheese, cream, cheese and green peppers, cheese and pimentos, cheese and olives, cheese and celery, and a dozen other combinations with cheese are very nice. Among newer sandwich combinations are the following: Minced celery and mayonnaise dressing with one slice of white and one slice of brown bread; apple sauce with lemon juice and grated lemon peel and whipped cream. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread.

"Dry broiled bacon and cooked chicken livers put through the meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise are fine. Other combinations are minced celery, canned salmon and mayonnaise with shredded lettuce or raisins chopped and mixed with mayonnaise with or without the addition of chopped nuts."

WHAT THE COOK SAYS

Cook makes an excellent washing fluid by dissolving two pounds of soap in three gallons of water, adding a tablespoon of turpentine and three tablespoons of household ammonia. Soak the clothes in this for two or three hours before washing. Clothes treated in this way will not need boiling. They can be put into the water when one first arises, and by the time the breakfast is out of the way, they will be ready.

When cleaning sauce pans etc. if short of spallio or cleaning powder, used a cloth well soaked and dipped in coal ashes. This is very economical and excellent to clean them easily.

Straw matting is now in season. To clean it take a long handled mop, says cook, a dish half full of hot water and salt dry Indian meal. Sweep all the dust off the matting, then scatter the dry meal evenly over the room. Wring the mop very dry, to preclude any fear of dripping, and rub the matting hard, one breadth at a time always, lengthwise of the straw, and use clean hot water for each breadth.

When the matting is dry the meal can be brushed off easily. This operation should always be carried out on a dry day. To cleanse or brighten Chinese or Japanese matting go over it with a cloth dipped in strong salt water.

Keep bread boards and other wooden utensils clean by scrubbing with soap and lukewarm water, to which household ammonia or common soda has been added.

When mixing add a little soap to your starch. This prevents the iron from sticking and gives a fine gloss, is cook's experience. Cold starch, when finished with, need not be thrown away. Leave to settle, then pour off the water and the starch may be used again.

To make starched goods unflammable add a teaspoon of borax salts to a bowl of starch and boil until dissolved. This makes the starch stiffer and the articles starched are less likely to catch fire. When washing children's things rinse in water to which alum has been added to the proportion of two ounces to a gallon of water. This will make the cloth non-inflammable.

To clean bottles fill them with scraps of torn newspaper and a little soap suds, shake vigorously till the paper is dissolved to a pulpy mass and rinse thoroughly, says cook. You will be surprised how the dirtiest bottle will become clean and shiny.

To clean lamp glasses hold them over a jug of boiling water till well steamed, then polish with a dry duster. It is far less trouble than washing and the glasses very rarely break.

After washing cut glass articles, let them dry and then wash them with prepared chalk, with a soft brush.

When washing oilcloth a tablespoon of painter's size, added to a pail of water will give it a glossy surface and make it wear much better than when washed in the ordinary way.

Table linens, towels and other linens that have become yellow from age or through other reasons, may be made beautifully white by boiling in a rather made of one pound of white soap to one gallon of milk.

After boiling rinse in two waters and add bluing to the last water. A teaspoon of peroxide of hydrogen to a gallon of water is also a good whitener and safe to use.

To clean eider or cream curtains without washing, tack a sheet to the floor, stretch the curtain on this, and cover with coarse salt and cornmeal. Rub briskly with a whisk broom for fifteen minutes and you will have clean curtains and color as bright as new.

If you have difficulty in making your griddle or pan cakes brown to a turn, says cook, add a spoonful of sugar or half a spoonful of molasses to the batter and notice how prettily they brown. The bit of sugar or molasses does not change the taste or proportions of the other ingredients.

Warm bread or cake, and in fact warm food of any kind, should never be put away in a covered tin or dish. The steam makes molding certain. Vegetable also become soggy and unfit for food when treated in this manner.

Newly baked bread should be lightly covered with clean cloth while it is cooling. If it is not aired when it is taken from the oven it is apt to be soggy.

LADY LOOKABOUT

When a man as widely known in public life as Mr. John H. Corcoran makes the announcement that aspiring statesmen who favor equal suffrage do so, not because they are sincere, but because it will help them in their political careers; that by giving the ballot to woman man would be taking a step towards his own degradation; and then goes on to make shocking statements about feminism and socialism, it is really appalling under his feet, and my advice to him is to jump on the band-wagon as it passes or he will soon find himself trudging along well-nigh alone on the road that leads to nowhere. Surely the man who judges of the wind's direction by straws, must already feel quite sure that equal suffrage is not merely pending in Massachusetts, but is impending.

Often, when I hear a man, apparently honest, proclaiming that women have not sufficient intelligence to vote, I am led to wonder just where he got his information. The natural conclusion is that he measures all women by his own opinion of his mother, his sisters, his wife and his daughters. It is evident that they do not measure up to his standard of intelligence. Now, perhaps the women of his particular family have not sufficient intelligence to vote. There is but one inference to be drawn. Either he is in their class, or they are in his. If they are in his, his common sense is safe to assume that he is in the same boat with them.

Anniversary of the Hat

A notable birthday was quietly observed in our midst last week when the 51th anniversary of the hat was celebrated. It is younger than I had thought, and notwithstanding the correctness of the number of birthdays the hat has had, I feel almost sure I have seen one or two about town which had every appearance of antedating the year 1494. Women were then, and now I am going to sound a note of warning to womankind. At least that is what we were supposed to be doing, but try as I would, I could not arouse my interest to follow the explanation of the inherent antipathy existing between girls and algebra. Again I began to ponder on the drowsiness of some as compared to the smartness of others. Like a flash, light broke on my darkness. Why had I never thought of it before! It lay in the hat. How simple. That was the solution. In all the years that have elapsed since I made that it did not lie in any particular eccentricity. I was puzzled. Then one day all of a sudden it came to me. I was sitting in the nigger-heaven of Tremont Temple (does not that sound sacrilegious?) looking about at what seemed to be millions of women; old, young, pretty, otherwise; stout, slim; short, tall; in fact all the kinds there are of us were there, osmosing intelligence in tremendous waves. At least that is what we were supposed to be doing, but try as I would, I could not arouse my interest to follow the explanation of the inherent antipathy existing between girls and algebra. Again I began to ponder on the drowsiness of some as compared to the smartness of others. Like a flash, light broke on my darkness. Why had I never thought of it before! It lay in the hat. SUMMER SEASON BRINGS DEMAND FOR PLAYTIME TOGS FOR CHILDREN—SIMPLE GARMENTS, WASHABLE, IN GREAT VARIETY

Just such simple garments as the ones shown here are sure to be in demand at this season for they contribute more largely to real happiness and satisfaction than any others than can be devised. Rompers and aprons, since they dispense with the need of care and consideration which other clothing demands, bring with them a sense of relaxation and happiness not to be found in anything more elaborate or dainty. The three aprons shown quite different models but all are good. The little kimono apron is absolutely protective and it liked, it can take the place of a frock as well as be worn over one. It is such a simple little garment that it can be made in the least little bit of time, yet it takes pretty and becoming lines. Aprons, rompers and the like are of course made from washable fabrics, but this season those fabrics provide an exceptional variety both in color and in design. This apron is made of lawn in stripes showing soldiers' blue on a white background and is trimmed with bands of white. The apron with bib and straps over the shoulders is especially designed for the little cook, and will be admirable to slip on when candy-making is in progress, but it also can be adapted to general wear. Apron lawn is the material that suggests itself most naturally, but it can be made all in white or with the straps and belt of color for this season, colors are used in every known way and blue or pink on white would make a very pretty effect. No. 5040 is cut all in one piece, the fullness being held in place by belt portions that are arranged over the back. Here it is designed for a really useful little apron and is made of white linen with bands of blue but if something a little more dressy were wanted, the whole edges could be finished with brettles of embroidery and in place of the colored banding could be used embroidered insertion. Overalls always can be trusted to delight the small boy. They make an essentially masculine garment and they provide just that comfort and freedom that is needed. These are finished with straps that are buttoned over the shoulders and with patch pockets, without which no such garment would be complete. Blue galathea is the material shown here, but there are various other sturdy ones that are equally appropriate. The rompers with ruffled fronts and full leg portions are adapted both to the boys and to the girls. They are thoroughly comfortable and satisfactory, simple and easy to make and easy to launder. Chambray, gingham and materials of the sort are the ones most used and in the picture, khaki colored chambray is trimmed with bands of bright red. Galathea in one of the new blues would be pretty banded with white, or one of the very beautiful plaid or gingham shown this season would be charming with bands of the same cut bias or with bands of a plain color. Cotton materials are exceptionally attractive and even the simplest and least costly show excellent colors and excellent designs so that the only difficulty that really exists lies in the embarrassment of riches. Plaids and checks are shown in a wonderful variety of colors and designs and are particularly well adapted to children's use.

IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

BY GWEN SEARS

THE PERFECT THROAT AND NECK

Many women think it incumbent upon them to paint and powder and make fair the skin of the face, powdering it to a ghastly whiteness, yet the skin of the neck and throat is left alone, and often a dark streak is allowed to appear above the V shaped opening or round neck. It seems a pity that such necks are seen, when the remedy is so near to find. Anyone who will may have a well appearing throat, so long as her age is on the sunny side of fifty.

The too thin neck hints of ill health, but the proper exercise will round it out and make it symmetrical. These exercises consist of the slow and gentle rolling of the head upon the shoulders, first all the way around from right to left for several times and then reversing the motion. The bowing of the head far forward and then far back, then leaning to the right side and then to the left, these movements taken slowly and gently night after night will develop the unused tissue which cause the neck to lack roundness.

After such exercises, the flesh should be well scrubbed with hot water and soap, carefully and thoroughly massaged with cream for at least ten minutes, the cream removed and cold water applied to the glowing surface. The correct massage necessary to break down and remove fatty deposits around the throat is best given by an experienced masseuse who is familiar with anatomy. Care must be taken to keep muscles firm and not to reduce too rapidly. Hollows can be filled in by massage, brown necks can be bleached and sagging chins can be strengthened by massage and the double chin can be reduced. So there seems little excuse for the unsightly neck and throat.

BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF CAPITAL OF MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Attention of Washington officials was focused again today on the military situation in Mexico, where there was a possibility of important developments which might bring ultimate peace in the southern republic. Chief interest centers in the outcome of the prospective battle between Carranza troops and Villa forces for the possession of Mexico City, now in the hands of Villa's men, because of its probable influence on the political side of Mexico's problem.

Gen. Carranza already has put in a bid for recognition, basing it on a claim that he controls a large territory and has instituted civil administration there. Although making no request for recognition, Villa has replied favorably to President Wilson's recent suggestion that the factions in Mexico unite for peace.

REPLY TO WARNING

Gov. Maytorena, Villa Commander, Gives Text of His Reply to Warning Not to Attack Agua Prieta

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 14.—Gov. Jose Maytorena, Villa commander of Sonora, in an announcement made public today, gives the full text of his reply to a warning of Col. C. L. O'Connor, commanding the United States border patrol, issued several days ago to the Villa commanders not to attack Agua Prieta because of the danger to American lives and property on this side of the border. Maytorena states that he has urged Generals Obaldio, Acosta and Trujillo to use scrupulous care not to violate the Naco agreement and expose this city to the slightest danger from firing. He adds that but for the fact that the United States is urging him to refrain from attacking border towns he would not allow Carranza forces from Agua Prieta in short order.

HARS RELIEF SUPPLIES

Gen. Hernandez Refused to Allow Red Cross Cars to Cross Mexican Border

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 14.—When a car of corn and a car of beans, placarded with emblems of the American Red Cross, were made ready in Eagle Pass yesterday for shipment to Mexico, Gen. Rosalvo Hernandez refused to permit the cars to cross the border. Hernandez informed J. C. Welles, special agent of the Red Cross, that "not only were relief supplies not needed but would not be allowed to enter."

NO NEWS OF OREGON'S DEATH

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Carranza agency here today had no confirmation of the reported death of Gen. Oregon, who had his right arm shot away in battle at Leon, but received a telegram sent by Oregon yesterday at Lagos, Guanajuato, saying: "I am much improved and expect to recover soon."

Notre Dame de Lourdes

A very impressive ceremony took place this forenoon at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street, when the sacrament of confirmation was administered to 115 boys and girls of the parish, the officiating clergyman being Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson, D. D. of Boston. The ceremony was held at 10 o'clock and was largely attended by parents and friends of the children.

Bishop Anderson at the opening of the sermon delivered a brief sermon on the significance of the sacrament. He told the children he was about to make them soldiers of Christ and he urged them to remain true to the religion they learned at their mother's knee. He spoke of the benefits to be derived from the sacrament of confirmation, and at the close of the sermon he bestowed his blessing upon the congregation.

His Grace was assisted by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., pastor, and Rev. J. B. A. Barette, O. M. I. The sponsors were William A. Parthenals, president of the Sacred Heart league, and Mrs. Frank Foster, president of St. Anne's sodality. The children who were confirmed occupied reserved pews in the central aisle. The girls wore immaculate white with a veil, while the boys were attired in black suits and wore their first communion insignia. During the ceremony appropriate hymns were rendered by the school children under the direction of the Gray Nuns at the Cross, Miss Bella Lavigne presiding at the organ. The service closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., officiating.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The Loomfitters' union will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall, Runcles building.

The vacation period for employees of department stores will start within a few weeks and many of the employees are busily planning a sojourn at the beaches or mountains.

Walter Dow says the outing conducted by the Upper Five yesterday was the most enjoyable he ever attended and "Wally" McWay enjoyed himself so much that he missed the last car home, and had to stay overnight at the camp.

Frank Flinnerty of the Saco-Loell shops has expressed the intention of visiting Claremont again in the near future. A few years back Frank was employed in the pretty little New Hampshire town, and he will undoubtedly spend his vacation there this year.

Mike Wrenn, the husky Bigelow-Hartford Carpenters' union athlete again showed his speed and endurance in the water yesterday when he won easily from Morty in the race from North Chelmsford to the Vesper boat house. Wrenn took the lead at the start and never headed.

Chester Hartigan of the Federal Shoe Co., who is secretary of the committee on sports for the coming Sacred Heart gala, day reports everything in readiness for the biggest athletic day Lowell has ever witnessed. To date Secretary Hartigan has received 75 entrants for the 10-mile marathon.

Walter Lyons of the Saco-Loell shops has expressed the intention of visiting Lawrence Saturday afternoon where they were defeated in a close game by the fast Centipede aggregation. Lyons says the final score was 9-7. The Lawrence team will play in this city within a short time, and Wally avers his boys will more than make up for Saturday's setback.

Patrick Flannery of the Hartford Carpenters' union is thinking seriously of selling the Jersey cow and as a result the boys are worrying for the camp is now likely to go dry on milk. Undoubtedly it is proved because the boys have christened the milker "Ruth," but they have promised to find another appellation if he will allow the cow to pasture in back of the Falcon camp for the rest of the summer, at least.

Slasher Tenders' Meeting and Smoker The Slasher Tenders' union will hold an open meeting and smoker tonight in Trades & Labor hall. All members and friends of the organization are extended a cordial invitation to attend. A number of prominent local and out of town labor men have been secured as speakers, and an enjoyable musical program will be carried out.

Horticultural Union

A very enjoyable entertainment was held yesterday afternoon in Trades & Labor hall by the Horticultural union, at which an interesting program of vocal and instrumental music was carried out. An exceptionally large audience was present and the work of the committee in charge was made the occasion of favorable comment.

Ring Spinners' Union

The books of the Ring Spinners' union were audited last week by a committee appointed for that purpose by Organizer Thomas P. McMahon. The financial status of the organization was found to be in excellent condition and a detailed report will be read at the meeting to be held Wednesday night. A most important business will also come up for transaction at this meeting.

Labor Forward Committee

Twenty-five local labor workers appointed by the labor forward committee Saturday afternoon distributed 5000 circulars in French and English, relative to the French mass meeting to be held June 15 in C. M. A. C. hall. Following the distribution, refreshments were served and an entertainment given at headquarters under the direction of members of the labor forward committee.

McMahon To Stay

Organizer Thomas P. McMahon of the United Textile Workers will stay in this city for some time as a result of a communication from the head of the union in Lowell in which he was instructed to establish an office in Lowell. Within the past three months according to Organizer McMahon, over 300 new members have joined textile labor organizations in this city as a direct result of the labor forward movement.

ST. ANTHONY'S DAY

FEAST OBSERVED BY LOCAL ITALIAN SOCIETY—ADDRESSES BY PUBLIC MEN AT HALL

The members of St. Antonio de Padova society, a local Italian society, observed the feast of their patron saint in a fitting manner yesterday, the celebration consisting of a church service with sermon, street parade and reception at the rooms of the organization in Chapel street in the afternoon.

The celebration was an 11th hour affair, for it had been decided not to celebrate this year, but on Friday night some of the officers of the society arranged a program. The mayors and members of the municipal council as well as the chaplain of the society, Rev. Dr. J. Keleher, pastor of St. Peter's church were invited to participate in the parade and also attend the reception in the afternoon. The service at St. Peter's church is reported elsewhere.

At the close of the service the parade was formed in front of the church and the following route was covered: Gorham to Davis square, to Central, to Merrimack, to Moody, to Alken, to Merrimack, to Dutton, to Thorndike, to Middlesex, to Gorham, to Charles and to Chapel into the hall. The guests of honor in the parade were Rev. Dr. J. Keleher and Dr. Theophile Laurin.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the members of the society and their friends gathered at the hall, where a social hour was spent. President Vincent Marotta presided over the gathering and in a brief address he thanked the members for their support in the celebration and he welcomed the guests.

Among those who spoke were Rev. Dr. J. Keleher, Mayor Dr. J. Murphy, Commissioner James H. Carmichael, Commissioner Newell P. Putnam, City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy, James O'Sullivan, Jacomo Muza, Ferdinando d'Arizao, and others. The band played several selections and refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed.

The marshal of the parade was Louis Maoti, who was assisted by Louis Maoti, John de Paulis, Juan de Luca. The committee in charge consisted of the following: Vincent Marotta, chairman; Ferdinando d'Arizao, Juan de Luca, Andrea Traversi, Frank Zilfina, Louis Azzitelle.

AGAINST EPIDEMIC

Central Sanitary Committee Formed—Visits Principal Hospitals in Northern Serbia

NISH, Serbia, June 12, via London. June 14, 5 a. m.—In order to take more efficacious measures against epidemics, a central sanitary committee has been formed. It is composed of the chiefs of the American, British, Russian and French missions and a Serbian sanitation station. The president of the committee is Sir Ralph Paget, who, with Dr. Richard P. Strong, chief of the American committee and Mr. Grouitch, under-secretary for foreign affairs have visited the principal hospitals in northern Serbia.

"THE CAUSELESS WAR"

BRYAN WILL ISSUE STATEMENT PROPOSING A MEANS TO END THE WAR

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Former Secretary Bryan announced through friends today that he will issue another statement proposing a means of ending the war.

The statement, which will be issued Tuesday or Wednesday, will not deal with his resignation from the cabinet but "with the war, as it is; the causes that led to it and the way out." The statement will be entitled "The Causeless War." It was said it would be Mr. Bryan's last "for the present."

NATURALIZATION COURT

Clerk Dillingham Issued Second Papers at the Court House This Morning

About 25 applicants for second naturalization papers were examined by the clerk of Middlesex county, William C. Dillingham and his assistant, Mr. Beane, in the clerk's office in the local house today. The examination opened at 9 o'clock and continued until late this afternoon the applicants were busy questioning the would-be citizens and putting them through the proper proceedings.

Each person eligible to apply for his second papers must have taken out his first papers at least two years ago. He also had to be accompanied by two witnesses who have known the applicant to be a resident of the United States for at least five years and of Massachusetts for six months or more. William C. Dillingham is the clerk relative to his birthplace, date of coming to the United States and about his family.

Among those at the court house today were representatives of many different European countries. The clerk will also be at his office in this city tomorrow for second papers. Mr. Dillingham stated that he would be in Lowell till Friday if business was sufficient to warrant it.

C. M. A. C.

The annual devotional ceremonies of the C. M. A. C., which consist of receiving communion in the morning and special church services in the afternoon, were held yesterday and the attendance at both the morning and afternoon services was very large.

The members of the association gathered at their hall in Pawtucket street at 6:30 o'clock and marched to St. Joseph's church, where they attended the 7:30 o'clock mass, the celebrant of the mass being Rev. Julien Racette, O. M. I. The men received holy communion in a body and listened to a very eloquent sermon by the chaplain, Rev. Joseph Bullock, O. M. I., who took for his subject, the association's motto, "Je Crois et Je Professe." I Believe and I Profess.

At the close of the mass breakfast was served in the rooms of the organization and post prandial exercises were held. A silent toast was given to the memory of a former president, Emory Cognac, who was buried this morning, and addresses were made by the following: Henry Achin, St. Rep. Henry Achin, Jr., Louis St. Jean, Henry V. Charbonneau, Esq., Arthur L. Eny, Esq., Joseph Provost, Henry Chaput, Isidore Trudel, Frank Ricard and others.

In the afternoon special services were held at St. Jean Baptiste church at 3 o'clock, the sermon being given by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. I. Racette, O. M. I. Hymns were sung by A. H. Giron and Adolphe Brassard and the ceremony closed with solemn benediction. The committee in charge consisted of the following: Louis St. Jean, chairman; Ludger Ouellette, secretary-treasurer; J. L. Lamoureux, Frank Leclair, Onesime Tremblay and Arthur St. Hilaire, ex-officio. President Arthur St. Hilaire presided over the post prandial exercises after the breakfast.

STANLEY'S-ON-THE-MERRIMACK

OF the many attractive features to be found at Stanley's-on-the-Merrimack is the accommodations provided the patrons of the dance hall. Harry McWilliams, who is supervisor of dancing, is a recognized expert in terpsichorean art, and his time and efforts are yours if you attend. With music by Millington's famous orchestra, Lawrence, dancers find this spot ideal, and any afternoon or night finds them gathered there by the hundreds. Special attraction for Thursday, Friday is Lower night. Full dining room service at all times. Manager Carey invites your patronage. Strict discipline at all times.

AT BETSY ROSS HOUSE

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—The 138th anniversary of the adoption of the American flag by the Continental Congress was observed by patriotic exercises today in the Betsy Ross house, where the first emblem was made. School children figured largely in the observance.

Flag day was also observed at Independence hall.

LAND FOR PUBLIC PARK

CITIZENS ASK THAT LAND BE ACQUIRED ON BANK OF WESTERN CANAL FOR PARK PURPOSES

A petition bearing a long list of signatures has been submitted to the municipal council asking that the city of Lowell acquire by lease from the locks & Canals company the banks of the Western canal along Suffolk and Market streets, the same to be used for a public park. The building of an ornamental fence close to the water and the removal of the present unsightly board fences, the petition reads, will not only greatly beautify that locality, but make possible a much desired breathing place in a very congested district. The petition will be read at the regular meeting of the municipal council tomorrow.

PAY HOMAGE TO FLAG

PRES. WILSON URGES AMERICANS TO ALWAYS REMEMBER THEIR PATRIOTISM

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Wilson, speaking at Flag day exercises here today, urged Americans to remember their patriotism on other days than national holidays and to carry the flag of the country ever in their hearts.

The president made no direct reference to the European war or to international questions. The exercises were held on the south steps of the treasury building. When the president arrived a large audience stood and cheered until he waved his hand to the throng.

Introducing the president, Secretary McAdoo said the meeting was to pay homage to the flag of our country, "at a time when it has a deeper significance than ever before in the world's history, when it is the hope of civilization."

The exercises were attended by Secretary Lansing, Secretary Daniels, Senator Simmons and many other government officials. A chorus of treasury department employees sang patriotic songs before and after the president's address.

HARVARD CREW OUT

RED TOP, Conn., June 14.—The morning work of the Harvard crew was short today. It has been planned to have a half mile brush between the two varsity eights and the freshman eight and to this end the three crews were sent across the Thomas to the half mile flag. On the way over Cabot, No. 7 in the senior varsity eight broke his oarlock and all three shells were paddled back to the boat.

Coach Wray was at No. 6 in the senior eight in place of Mildendoff, who is suffering from a cold.

FIRST THURSDAY CHURCH

A delightful concert was given at the First Unitarian Congregational church last evening, a feature of the evening being organ selections by Mr. Minor C. Baldwin, whose playing was most pleasing. Others who contributed to the program were an augmented choir of 50, Nathaniel W. Matthews, Jr., and others. The pastor delivered a short sermon on "The Heart of Purity in Religion." Percy W. Edmunds directed the singing and Walter W. Coburn accompanied.

C. Y. M. L. OUTING

Camp Texas, in Tyngsboro, was the objective point of a large number of members of the C. Y. M. L. yesterday afternoon, and the day was spent enjoyably with an excellent dinner, prepared by Caterer Matthew Clark, and a well arranged musical program. Henry Sullivan, the well known swimmer and his trainer, John Conlin, also furnished the members with a little excitement when they started in the Merrimack on a 10 mile swim. Both swimmers finished in good condition. The course was from the camp to a point about five miles above and back. They were accompanied by Frank O'Neill, John O'Connor, Patrick McCarrell and Bartholomew Murray in boats.

After the swimming event supper was served in the camp, and in the evening victrola selections were enjoyed.

DECORATOR C. F. YOUNG

HE HAS COMPLETED A BIG JOB IN CONCORD, N. H., FOR THE KNOWLTON STORES

Decorator Young of this city has been in Concord, N. H., doing a big job of decorating the Knowlton stores for anniversary week. He has several other big jobs on hand throughout New England but he has such a corps of experts in his employ that he can handle the largest undertaking of this kind. He is keeping Fourth of July week open for Lowell orders first, and will show local patrons the best work ever done here. The Concord Patriot has the following regarding his efforts in that city:

C. F. Young & Co., of Lowell, were the official decorators for the anniversary, and they are receiving the greatest possible praise for the manner in which they embellished the various public buildings, as well as the private structures on which they were also employed.

BIG HIBERNIAN MEETING

LARGE GATHERING TO BE ADDRESSED BY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

What is expected to be the most successful gathering in the history of the Hibernians in Lowell will be the meeting of this prominent organization in Hibernian hall on next Thursday evening. The committee in charge has prepared an interesting program for the occasion which will include addresses by men prominent in the affairs of the Federation of Catholic Societies in this state. Rev. Francis J. Molloy, chairman, Mr. Charles Daley, president, Mr. Thomas Nolan, editor of the Somerville Enterprise will be present and it is expected that services of two prominent speakers from Boston can be secured. The committee on arrangements includes John P. Sheehan, president of the Central Council, Martin McCarthy, president of the Division 1, Joseph McCusker, Division 2, Daniel J. Reilly, Division 3, John J. McIntire, Division 4, Patrick J. McGinn, Division 5 and John J. Kenny, secretary.

PAN AMERICAN SESSION

Sec. McAdoo Makes Important Recommendations for Continuance of Work

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary McAdoo, in a letter which was on its way today to each of the foreign delegates to the recent Pan-American financial conference, makes important recommendations looking to a continuance of the work begun by the conference.

Among Mr. McAdoo's suggestions are that the annual session of the conference be held in Washington, and that a meeting of the international high commission on uniform legislation as proposed at the recent conference, be held in Buenos Aires on Nov. 1 next.

The secretary also makes detailed inquiries concerning the need for direct steamship lines between ports of the United States and South and Central American countries.

SLEEPYTIME TALES

BY VIRGINIA VALE

A FLAG DAY STORY

Once upon a time someone thought that we should celebrate Flag Day on June 14th of each year. I think it was a very nice suggestion and I am sure you will all agree with me. So I am going to tell you something about our flag that perhaps some of you do not know. Of course you all know that the flag we use today is not like the one used years ago.

The first American flag was adopted by congress on June 14th, 1780. During the Revolutionary war there were a great many different kinds of flags, but at the close of the war the people wanted one flag for the whole nation. So three men were chosen to decide just what the national flag should be, and as they could not decide, they went to a lady named Betsy Ross, to ask her help. Of course they wanted the colors red, white and blue, but they could not agree as to the arrangement of the stars.

George Washington, so the story runs, showed a six-pointed star to Betsy Ross, but she, being used to cutting, seized a piece of cloth, folded it, and with one snip of her scissors made a five-pointed star which they all liked and it was used on the sample flag that she made for their approval. These stars she laid in order on a blue ground with the stripes of red, white and blue. For ten years after that Betsy Ross made all of the official flags used by the United States.

Of course you know each star represents a state and the thirteen stripes are for the original thirteen colonies. For some years there were fifteen stripes until congress changed back to thirteen and added a star for each state. The largest flag made by the government is thirty-six by nineteen feet and the smallest the same in inches. There is a special flag in honor of the president which is very handsome and expensive. It is made of heavy silk and beautifully embroidered with the coat-of-arms of the United States.

So hoist your flag today with much ado.

And if you are patriotic and America's own son,

You will sing: "Hurrah, to my flag, I will be true."

BODY OF MISS MUDGETT

Woman Found Dead in Woods at Blackstone Identified as Resident of West Medway

BLACKSTONE, June 14.—The body of a woman found in the woods here Saturday evening was identified yesterday as that of Miss Emma B. Mudgett, aged 22, of West Medway.

Miss Mudgett suddenly disappeared from West Medway on May 13. She was last seen alive at North Billerica. It is believed she wandered into the woods while mentally depressed and died of exposure.

DESTROYER ESCORT FOR U. S. SHIP IN WAR ZONE

Submarines Guard Liner St. Paul Col. House a Passenger—Nine Lusitania Survivors Aboard

NEW YORK, June 14.—The American liner St. Paul, yesterday from Liverpool achieved the glory of destroyer escort through the German war zone off the British coast, an honor that no liner flying the British merchant ensign has attained. There were nine survivors of the Lusitania tragedy aboard the St. Paul, and they appreciated more than any other passengers the protection of the destroyer submarine fighters, which had a soothing effect on disturbed nerves.

Captain F. M. Passow did not attribute the St. Paul's distinction to the flag she flies, but to the fact that a personal representative of the president of the United States, Colonel E. M. House, was aboard, bearing, as Captain Passow was informed before the liner departed from Liverpool, special despatches to the president. There was a report in Liverpool on the morning of Saturday, June 5, the day the St. Paul sailed, that German submarines had been sighted off the Mersey, and this was also regarded as one of the reasons the British admiralty decided to send the ship bearing the president's friend to the open.

The St. Paul did not leave Liverpool until 6 p. m., and three hours before this time the destroyer escort had been arranged through London.

One of the destroyers, designated by Captain Passow as the St. Paul as "Destroyer No. 1," came alongside the St. Paul about 3 o'clock and the naval officer in command boarded the Yankee ship and announced that the British admiralty had ordered him to escort the St. Paul to Eastnet.

He said the other destroyer would meet them at the mouth of the Mersey. Captain Passow decided to have one off each bow, reflecting that any other position might imperil the liner, through possible collision in the fog that enveloped the Mersey.

Three hours before the St. Paul stood on her course down the Mersey, the Cunarder Orduna had sailed for New York in the usual way, without protection from destroyers, and the White Star liner Adriatic, just from New York, was lying in the Mersey, her holds filled with munitions. She, also, had passed through the lane of peril without escort.

There were occasional rifts in the fog as the St. Paul proceeded to sea, and in one of them a cabin passenger, Mrs. H. Sedgwick, chaperoning Miss Virginia Lewis, a survivor of the Lusitania wreck, declared that she saw a submarine near the St. Paul.

According to stories of other passengers, the St. Paul was in dire peril from German submarines on her way across. John L. Poole, European manager of the Hupp Motor Car company of Detroit, declared he had seen the periscope of one.

The submarine alarm took place about 5:30 o'clock Saturday night, one week ago, or about four hours after the St. Paul had cleared the mouth of the Mersey. The passengers say that the first intimation they had of the danger was when the big vessel suddenly heaved to, with the engines reversed.

WAR DEFENDED

Rev. A. C. Archibald Says That Jesus Doesn't Forbid War

Speaking at the First Baptist church Sunday evening, on the subject "Is Bryan or Wilson Right by the Teaching of Jesus? Is War Ever Christian?" the pastor, Rev. Arthur C. Archibald, said that no book is so easily misread as the Bible. He said that one can read the Old Testament in such a way as to justify polygamy, slavery and 100 other abominations, and that one can read the New Testament in such a way as to find arguments against marriage, liberty and education. He declared that the man who reads the Bible narrowly, looking for rules instead of principles, will be led astray by the Bible itself.

Mr. Archibald said, in part:

"The event of world-wide interest this past week has been the resignation of our secretary of state, Mr. Bryan, and the call made to our American people to render decision on the issue which has been raised. His chief difference with our president in last analysis is that Mr. Bryan is a 'peace man' at any price, while President Wilson is determined for peace, but not at the price of righteousness and humanity. What one is right? Mr. Bryan declares he is an interpreter to the American people of the teaching of the Prince of Peace. Mr. Wilson also is a high-minded Christian. My business as a preacher is not to pass judgment on either. If these great men: it is to find out which is nearer the truth as judged by the teaching of the Lord as lived. The whole world today is hungry to hear the voice of Jesus on war. Instinctively we feel if we can but hear his voice we shall know the final right. Did Christ forbid war? Can war ever be Christian?

"The Christian world today is sharply divided on this subject. At the head of one school stands Tolstoy and Bryan, asserting that the exercise of force to secure moral ends is forever wrong. That all war is murder. That our army and navy are blots on our civilization. That no Christian can possibly serve as a soldier to shoot down his fellows. Is this the true interpretation of the New Testament? If it is, we had better know it and live by it. If on the other hand, Bryan and his school are in error, their teachings will only work mischief to our nation and the world.

"First, he it remembered that Jesus never made use of force in accomplishing his work. He never struck a man, or resisted those who struck him. He did not permit his disciples to use force. When Peter would have taken things into his own hands, he said: 'Put up thy sword; those that take the sword shall perish by the sword.' From first to last in his teaching there is not one sentence to justify the use of force. 'Resist not evil. Love your enemies.' These sentences were characteristic of his teaching. It is not difficult to read the New Testament in such a way as to come out just where Mr. Bryan has arrived.

"But, after all, that is not a fair way to read the Bible. No book is so easily misread as the Bible. One can read the Old Testament in such a way as to justify polygamy, slavery and 100 other abominations. One can read the New Testament in such a way as to find argument against marriage, liberty, education, and 100 other things demonstrated as holy and good. The man who reads his Bible narrowly, looking therein for rules instead of principles, law instead of spirit, will be led astray by the Bible itself. That is precisely what the whole ultra peace society have done. They have taken the words of Jesus spoken to individuals and made them a law of nations.

"In an ideal world there is no place for war. But our world is not yet ideal. We have yet a long way to go. We may have no need to arm; but the other fellow will compel us. If he does, we use the need would not exist. His difference, so long as it continues, compels and demands action. We prepare to meet his undeveloped state that we prepare to meet his undeveloped state.

"What, then, is the cure of world war? Not by disarming shall we secure it. A people with hatred, with revenge, with pride, with racial bigotry, will maintain war to the end of time. You may smash the navies of the world, and dissolve the armies, but the next war generation will recreate them all. The only opposing ideals are in our world today. The national aspiration ideal. The glory of ruling ideal. What though another people suffer and die, so that my nation live and is glorified. In the last analysis that is the cause of the world cataclysm today. Oposed to this is the Christ ideal. 'God hath made of one blood all nations for to dwell on the face of the earth.' 'We have one father and all ye are brethren.' Not until that day comes when the spirit of brotherhood shall be world-wide, when we shall learn that differences of climate, tongues, culture and color can not abolish this universal fraternity: not till then will the prophecy be fulfilled: 'The nations shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.' The world of men, marching under different flags needs today the vision of the Arab of olden time, who, seeing a man coming over the desert, said, 'It is my enemy.' But when he looked into his eyes, he said, 'It is my brother.'

"Mr. Bryan, we admire your courage and your conscientious sense of duty. But you are wrong when you say that Jesus forbids war. Your master was a kingdom builder, and he said: 'I have no war. But his kingdom has not yet shone forth in its glory. In the meanwhile, we will do our best to teach the whole world of men that our common father above wills that his children live in peace. We will hate war; we will use it only as the last inescapable instrument of defense, to maintain a good which can be secured in no other way.'

Other speakers will be present from the American legion, Navy league, Grand Army of the Republic, Aero Club of America, Sons of the Revolution, Sons of Veterans, New York Peace society and others.

MAJ. D. W. LEWIS DEAD

STRICKEN WITH GRIPPE ON VISIT TO FLORIDA—BOSTON BUSINESS MAN, CIVIL WAR VETERAN

BOSTON, June 14.—Major David W. Lewis, aged 51, a Boston business man and veteran of the Civil war, died yesterday at his home, 33 Oak street, Hyde Park, where he lived 41 years. He was stricken with the gripple about April 1, Lewis, he was spending the winter. His two sons went to Florida and as soon as their father was able to stand the journey brought him home, arriving May 25.

Major Lewis was born in Walpole, Aug. 5, 1823. He went to work in a shoe store in Springfield, from where he went to Brattleboro, Vt. and entered the shoe business for himself. While in Brattleboro he enlisted on June 4, 1862, in Co. K, 9th Vermont Volunteer regiment, for three years and on July 3 of the same year was promoted to captain. His whole term of service was active field duty in Virginia and North Carolina, commencing in the Shenandoah Valley.

He was in command of his regiment several times and led two companies at Yales Creek and Red House, N. C. He was taken prisoner at Winchester, Va., and was in a private house at Winchester from Sept. 2, 1862, to the last of October, when he was paroled and exchanged. He was honorably discharged in September, 1864, at Newbern, N. C. for disability. On returning from the war he resumed the shoe business in Boston and carried it on for a number of years. He then became engaged in the manufacture of building material and until death was president of the David W. Lewis company.

He was a member of Timothy Ingraham Post, G. A. R., which he joined May 29, 1878. For nine years he was commander. He was president of his regiment association and chairman of the committee for the erection of the soldiers' monument in Fairview cemetery, Hyde Park. For a number of years he was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company and held the office of captain. He was a member of the Loyal Legion of Massachusetts. In 1859 he organized the first battalion of the Hyde Park high school, of which he was major, by which title he has been known ever since.

He was a member of the First Congregational church, of which he was treasurer a number of years; one of the incorporators of the Hyde Park Co-operative bank, and a member of the Neponset Council, R. A. He is survived by his wife and two sons, William W. Lewis, assistant engineer of the Boston Transit company, and Everett W. Lewis, associated with his father in business.
